Kennedy, Ike To Meet On Tense Cuba Crisis

Cuba, Soviet Union Suffer U.N. Rebuff

Charges Of U.S. Aggression Fail To Get Backing

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Political Committee overrode Soviet and Cuban objections Friday and assigned to Latin-American nations the chief role of peacemaker between Cuba and the United States.

It was a sharp rebuff to Cuba and the Soviet Union. Faced with certain defeat, the Soviet Union withdrew its resolution asking for condemnation of the United States as an aggressor in Cuba.

BACK OAS PLAN

The Soviets proposed the condemnation in the wake of last Monday's invasion of Cuba, but only Soviet bloc nations and Cuba spoke for it.

By a vote of 61-27 with 10 abstentions the committee approved a resolution sponsored by seven Latin-American nations giving the Organization of American States the primary responsibility for trying to resolve U.S.-Cuban differences.

Raul Roa, Cuban foreign minister, denounced the resolution as a "cooked up" job by the United States. He said the United States sought by such action to ambush Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolution.

He declared the OAS was dominated by the United States, and that Cuba could not accept any appeals to it by the United Nations.

"This draft resolution was prepared to the open detriment of Cuba," Roa said. "It is one of the many ambushes of the United States against the whole process of the Cuban revolution."

The committee approved by a narrow margin a Mexican resolution which would call on all countries to bar use of their territories and supplies for anti-Castro forces. The vote on the U.S.-opposed resolution was 42-31 with 25 abstentions—not enough for the two-thirds majority required for General Assembly approval.

Even though the resolution lacked the two-thirds majority, some diplomats saw it as reflecting considerable U.N. criticism of the U.S. role in the invasion of Cuba.

The committee had been locked in bitter debate since Monday on the Cuban question. Many delegates—especially from the Asian-African countries—said there was

Call For Laos War Halt May Be Issued Soon

MOSCOW (UPI) — Britain and the Soviet Union Friday completed details of a cease-fire appeal for Laos and will issue it within 48 hours, high diplomatic sources said. Both warring factions in Laos indicated they would honor it.

Diplomats were optimistic the agreement would be signed and published despite official Soviet displeasure over alleged U. S. intervention in Cuba and criticism by Communist-backed Prince Souvanna Phouma of the stepped up U. S. aid program to Laos.

Souvanna, self-exiled Laotian leader who still is recognized by Russia as the Laotian premier, assured newsmen Friday night at a Kremlin reception in his honor that the Communist-led Pathet Lao movement would obey the cease-fire.

Pro-Western Prince Boun Oum, recognized by the United States as the Laotian premier, told newsmen in Vientiane Friday he would be willing to step down if that would bring peace to Laos. He said a coalition government, including the Pathet Lao, would be acceptable if it did not lead to Communist domination of Laos.

Truck License Time Extended

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The State Department of Revenue Friday extended the deadline for obtaining truck licenses 30 days to June at request of Gov. Jimmie H. Davis.

The governor said, "the excessive rains we have had so far this year have resulted in a slowing down of the trucking, hauling, construction and logging operations in the state.

"An extension of 30 days will make it easier for these people to obtain their licenses without paying a penalty."

A penalty of five per cent of the cost of the license for each 30 days delinquency will be collected beginning June 1. The maximum penalty is 25 per cent.

ST. HELENA PARISH

School Closing Election Today

GREENSBURG, La. (AP)—St. Helena Parish votes Saturday on whether to discontinue public education rather than integrate schools.

The rural parish of 9,162 population—5 per cent Negro—has developed into a testing ground on Louisiana's plan to shift from public to private education.

St. Helena will be the first to ballot under the new local option school closing law passed during Louisiana's marathon special legislative sessions.

LEGAL CLOUD

But a constitutional cloud hangs over the balloting, and both white and Negro voters apparently have little interest.

Latest official figures show 1,572 voters returned their names to the rolls after Dec. 31, when parish registrar Quitman Crouch wiped them clean at the end of a four-year period as required for some parishes. White voters number 1,461 and Negroes 111.

The total is about 40 per cent of the 3,721 registered in December, when there were 2,478 white and 1,243 Negro voters.

Low registration among whites, and extremely low registration among Negroes, came although segregation leaders urged those who wanted to voice their opinion on school closing to get registered.

The election is little more than an opinion expression because the school board is not required to act according to the outcome.

An estimate by the Public Affairs Research Council, private organization located at Baton Rouge, showed St. Helena has 4,510 white and 5,709 non white residents.

A special three-judge federal court May 5 is scheduled to decide whether the Louisiana school closure law, which also allows sale of buildings and equipment as sur-

CUBAN INVASION

U.S. Officials Tell Of Miscalculations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two major intelligence "miscalculations" were involved in this week's tragic attempt by anti - Castro Cubans to regain their homeland, Kennedy administration officials said Friday night.

They made these points:

—There was a major underestimation of Castro's military strength, his ability to mobilize troops and their willingness to fight.

—Both U.S. and Cuban rebel intelligence misjudged the degree of police state control which Castro has over Cuba and which prevented a general uprising of the people.

Officials said it was not known that Castro had Soviet Mig fighter planes in flying condition.

They said the extent of his police control and his network of agents and informers on the community level was not realized until these moved into action rounding up thousands of Cubans and herding them into makeshift concentration camps.

The two miscalculations went hand in hand. A local uprising would have been more likely had not the military situation been so dismal.

After several days of silence, official Washington Friday night began telling reporters some of the story of the Cuban invasion.

It began nearly a year ago when Cubans who had fled here began making plans to some day reconquer their island.

Officials insisted that no military training was done here during that period, but took place in Guatemala and presumably other Latin countries.

But the rebel leadership obtained advice here, and supplies were procured.

U.S. Brands State Laws Evil, Vicious

Gremillion Says Charges 'Junk;' Ruling Due Later

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A 3-judge federal court Friday heard the government brand Louisiana's informer laws as 'evil and vicious legislation.' It took under advisement a request to ban their enforcement.

CALLED REPRISALS

U. S. Atty. M. Hepburn Many said the two acts merely being on the books "are poised as a sword over the heads of those attending (integrated) schools."

They are part of a series of "massive reprisals" that have brought sharp pressures against those who persist in going to New Orleans' two integrated schools, Many said.

But Gremillion argued that the government was going too far in presuming the acts illegal even before they were enforced.

"If we don't stop and go back to the law, before long this court is going to be running the legislature of Louisiana," Gremillion warned.

The two acts impose penalties on persons breaking state segregation laws by helping parents or teachers at integrated schools. The laws reward and protect informers.

Audit Is Asked By Grand Jury At Farmerville

FARMERVILLE (Special) — A Union Parish Grand Jury Friday recommended that an audit be made of municipal records here.

The jury, ending a two - day special session in which it investigated complaints of misappropriation of city fines, reported it found circumstances sufficient to require an audit.

District Attorney Ragan Madden said last night a certified report made by the jury will be forwarded to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and the supervisor of public funds, J. B. Lancaster.

Madden said there was a possibility that the present grand jury's term may expire before the audit is made.

He said the jury's term expires the first week of September. He also said there was some question on whether or not the governor had to approve an audit of the city books.

Madden said the specific items which the grand jury wanted audited were fines and forfeitures. However, he pointed out that an audit would not be limited to those matters alone.

The jury adjourned at 4:45 p.m. Friday on a motion by Madden.

Foreman Richard Neely presented the report to the court.

Approximately 45 persons were called before the jury during the session. The investigation was pretermitted pending outcome of the audit.

There has been no official specific mention of personalities involved in the misappropriation case.

Grand jury proceedings are secret.

Partly Cloudy Skies Expected

Partly cloudy skies will prevail throughout the Twin City area today and tonight and temperatures will continue mild.

Scattered showers are possible in the western and northern parts of the state but none are expected locally.

The high today should be from 76 to 84 degrees.

The high Friday was 82 and the recorded low was 55 degrees.

The sun was to rise today at 5:30 a.m. and will set tonight at 6:43.

Cuban Exiles Say Landings To Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Although acknowledging a grave reverse, the leader of Cuba's rebels declared Friday new landing forces will strike Cuba in the struggle to unseat Fidel Castro.

As the Cuban exile high command vowed to fight until the end, Castro was reported by Havana radio as directing a mopup of the invasion that was shattered on the southern beaches of Cuba.

SON CAPTURED

Jose Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, conceded a grave reverse in last Monday's seaborne operation. His own son was reported among those captured on the beaches. But he said more landings will continue to take place.

Miro Cardona said 23 prisoners were shot in the last 48 hours and he appealed to the world to stop the bloodshed.

Exile sources in Florida asserted that ships bearing 500 to 1,500 fighters trained in guerrilla warfare already had set sail in the direction of Cuba.

The rebel radio on Swan Island in the Caribbean said some new, but small landings had taken place. There was no confirmation.

Cuban government broadcasts charged the United States had trained and carried the invaders to Cuba this week. The rebels replied that active Soviet, Red Chinese and Czechoslovak aid enabled the Castro regime to shatter the beachhead.

The Cuban radio said prisoners captured on the beach reported they were flown from the United States to Retalhuleu, a guerrilla training camp in Guatemala, were trained there by 25 instructors from the "Yankee army," flown to Puerto Cabezas on Nicaragua's east coast, then taken to Cuba in North American transports with an escort of Yankee destroyers.

Navy Training Plane Crashes

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Navy T-33 jet training plane crashed in a marsh near Westwego, across the Mississippi River from New Orleans, Friday night. The pilot was missing and presumed dead.

A passenger, identified only as a Navy medical officer, stumbled from the wreckage into the arms of rescuers. He was taken to Foundation Hospital for treatment.

Neither the pilot nor the passenger was identified pending notification of next of kin.

The pilot was believed to have been trying to make a forced landing. His plane clipped the tops of several trees before nosing into the mosquito-infested marsh.

PUT UNDER ARREST

Marcello's Birth Certificate False

The court which ordered his arrest said he had a false Guatemalan birth certificate which permitted his entry into this country.

Marcello was deported to Guatemala early this month by U.S. immigration officials. Authoritative sources here said Marcello probably will be deported soon but did not mention the country to which he would be sent.

CITE PROOF

Earlier the court had announced that the falsity of the birth certificate had been proved by investigators.

Attorney General Jose Antonio Villacorta said judicial proceedings may be brought against Marcello on charges of falsifying a public document.

Meanwhile, in Washington Friday a three-judge federal court was named to hear Marcello's contention he was deported illegally.

Chief Judge Wilbur K. Miller of the Circuit Court of Appeals named Circuit Judge John A. Danaher and District Judge Edward M. Curran to serve with District Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

Earlier this week Holtzoff granted a request by Marcello's attorney for a three-judge court to hear the case.

No date has yet been set for trial.

U.S. Prestige Slips Badly In Cuban Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Newspapers outside the Communist bloc declared Friday U.S. prestige has slipped badly on the Cuban crisis but applauded President Kennedy's assertion that Cuba will not be surrendered to communism. The statement also won support in Latin America.

The Iron Curtain press drummed away at the theme the Castro regime has handed "American imperialism" a disastrous defeat.

Milan's independent newspaper Corriere Della Sera, one of Italy's most influential, set the pace for those who said U.S. stature is suffering.

"In one day American prestige collapses lower than in eight years of Eisenhower timidity and lack of determination," it said.

In Paris, the respected independent newspaper Le Monde was sharply critical of Kennedy: "Kennedy says with tranquility that if the Organization of American States does not face up to its duty—which is to maintain the capitalistic system throughout the Western Hemisphere—he will do it all by himself."

50 MILES A MINUTE

U.S. Rocket Plane Streaks To Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — The X15 Friday carried Maj. Robert White to a record 3,140 miles an hour—50 miles a minute — on the first full-power trial of an engine intended to hurl the pilot-controlled rocket plane to the fringe of space.

Unlike the Russian cosmonaut who orbitted the earth last week, White had control of the stubby research plane from the time it was dropped from a B52 bomber at 45,000 feet over the Mojave Desert.

The 36-year-old aviator — who admitted a series of minor problems kept him "quite busy" during the 11-minute flight — reached top speed at 80,000 feet to break his six-week-old record of 2,905 m.p.h.

White said after the flight – which was the fourth record run in a row for the rocket plane – that he felt it would reach its goal of 4,000 m.p.h. by allowing the engine to burn longer. He shut down the 57,000-pound thrust rocket after 67 seconds Friday.

The X15's peak of Mach 4.3 fast enough to cross the continent from Los Angeles to Washington in about 40 minutes – didn't compare with the Mac 30 speed of Yuri Gagarin's Russian space ship. However, the Gagarin ship was controlled at all times from the ground.

White conceded he had some in flight troubles, but called them "minor." However, the "minor problems" included:

—Trouble starting the 57,000-pound thrust engine. White said he

Session Set For Today By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will meet Saturday with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on the tense situation in Cuba.

The White House announced late Friday that the conference would take place Saturday (12:30 p.m. EST) at Camp David, Md., the presidential retreat used by Eisenhower and two of his predecessors.

ARRANGES MEET

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the meeting was arranged in a telephone conversation that Kennedy initiated Friday morning.

"The President will bring former President Eisenhower up to date on all recent developments concerning the situation in Cuba," Salinger said.

Kennedy fended off questions about the ill-starred invasion of Cuba at his news conference Friday but other administration officials said the plan had been approved by the President and his top advisers.

Kennedy said he would not discuss Cuba at his session with reporters, but would stand on the speech he made Thursday to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He said then that this country would not hesitate to act on its own if events in Cuba should threaten U.S. security.

At Saturday's session — Kennedy's first use of Camp David—he and Eisenhower will lunch together. They are expected to discuss the Cuban crisis for about an hour and a half.

Kennedy will go to Camp David by helicopter, and Eisenhower will travel from his Gettysburg farm to Camp David in a helicopter provided by the White House.

This will be the first meeting between Kennedy and Eisenhower since Inauguration Day. It dramatizes the gravity with which the administration views the setback of the short-lived as-

DAR Opposes Seat In U.N. For Red China

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) called on the U. S. government Friday to do all it can to keep Red China out of the United Nations.

Members of the DAR applauded and shouted approval of a resolution that said Red China's admission to the world body would further strengthen the Communist bloc's power in U. N. affairs.

The resolution urged President Kennedy to use "every political and diplomatic means" to bolster Nationalist China's position in the global organization.

A series of policy statements were adopted at the closing session of the DAR's 70th Continental Congress without any dissent from the floor.

The ladies, all descendants of persons who fought or served in the American Revolution, opposed any relaxation of immigration controls that might "threaten the security of the nation."

Communist philosophy calls for free migration between countries, the DAR resolution asserted, as part of a plan for world domination.

DAR support was voiced for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

School Closing Election Today

GREENSBURG, La. (AP)—St. Helena Parish votes Saturday on whether to discontinue public education rather than integrate schools.

The rural parish of 9,162 population—5 per cent Negro—has developed into a testing ground on Louisiana's plan to shift from public to private education.

The election is little more than an opinion expression because the school board is not required to act according to the outcome.

FARMERVILLE (Special) — A Union Parish Grand Jury Friday recommended that an audit be made of municipal records here.

The jury, ending a two - day special session in which it investigated complaints of misappropriation of city fines, reported it found circumstances sufficient to require an audit.

District Attorney Ragan Madden said last night a certified report made by the jury will be forwarded to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and the supervisor of public funds, J. B. Lancaster.

Madden said there was a possibility that the present grand jury's term may expire before the audit is made.

Cuban Exiles Say Landings To Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Although acknowledging a grave reverse, the leader of Cuba's rebels declared Friday new landing forces will strike Cuba in the struggle to unseat Fidel Castro.

As the Cuban exile high command vowed to fight until the end, Castro was reported by Havana radio as directing a mopup of the invasion that was shattered on the southern beaches of Cuba.

Jose Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, conceded a grave reverse in last Monday's seaborne operation. His own son was reported among those captured on the beaches. But he said more landings will continue to take place.

Miro Cardona said 23 prisoners were shot in the last 48 hours and he appealed to the world to stop the bloodshed.

Navy Training Plane Crashes

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Navy T-33 jet training plane crashed in a marsh near Westwego, across the Mississippi River from New Orleans, Friday night. The pilot was missing and presumed dead.

A passenger, identified only as a Navy medical officer, stumbled from the wreckage into the arms of rescuers. He was taken to Foundation Hospital for treatment.

Neither the pilot nor the passenger was identified pending notification of next of kin.

The pilot was believed to have been trying to make a forced landing. His plane clipped the tops of several trees before nosing into the mosquito-infested marsh.

PUT UNDER ARREST

Marcello's Birth Certificate False

The court which ordered his arrest said he had a false Guatemalan birth certificate which permitted his entry into this country.

Marcello was deported to Guatemala early this month by U.S. immigration officials. Authoritative sources here said Marcello probably will be deported soon but did not mention the country to which he would be sent.

CITE PROOF

Earlier the court had announced that the falsity of the birth certificate had been proved by investigators.

Attorney General Jose Antonio Villacorta said judicial proceedings may be brought against Marcello on charges of falsifying a public document.

Meanwhile, in Washington Friday a three-judge federal court was named to hear Marcello's contention he was deported illegally.

Chief Judge Wilbur K. Miller of the Circuit Court of Appeals named Circuit Judge John A. Danaher and District Judge Edward M. Curran to serve with District Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

Earlier this week Holtzoff granted a request by Marcello's attorney for a three-judge court to hear the case.

No date has yet been set for trial.

U.S. Prestige Slips Badly In Cuban Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Newspapers outside the Communist bloc declared Friday U.S. prestige has slipped badly on the Cuban crisis but applauded President Kennedy's assertion that Cuba will not be surrendered to communism. The statement also won support in Latin America.

The Iron Curtain press drummed away at the theme the Castro regime has handed "American imperialism" a disastrous defeat.

Milan's independent newspaper Corriere Della Sera, one of Italy's most influential, set the pace for those who said U.S. stature is suffering.

"In one day American prestige collapses lower than in eight years of Eisenhower timidity and lack of determination," it said.

In Paris, the respected independent newspaper Le Monde was sharply critical of Kennedy: "Kennedy says with tranquility that if the Organization of American States does not face up to its duty—which is to maintain the capitalistic system throughout the Western Hemisphere—he will do it all by himself."

U.S. Rocket Plane Streaks To Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — The X15 Friday carried Maj. Robert White to a record 3,140 miles an hour—50 miles a minute — on the first full-power trial of an engine intended to hurl the pilot-controlled rocket plane to the fringe of space.

Unlike the Russian cosmonaut who orbitted the earth last week, White had control of the stubby research plane from the time it was dropped from a B52 bomber at 45,000 feet over the Mojave Desert.

The 36-year-old aviator — who admitted a series of minor problems kept him "quite busy" during the 11-minute flight — reached top speed at 80,000 feet to break his six-week-old record of 2,905 m.p.h.

White said after the flight—which was the fourth record run in a row for the rocket plane—that he felt it would reach its goal of 4,000 m.p.h. by allowing the engine to burn longer. He shut down the 57,000-pound thrust rocket after 67 seconds Friday.

The X15's peak of Much 4.8 fast enough to cross the continent from Los Angeles to Washington in about 40 minutes — didn't compare with the Mac 30 speed of Yuri Gagarin's Russian space ship. However, the Gagarin ship was controlled at all times from the ground.

White conceded he had some in flight troubles, but called them "minor." However, the "minor problems" included:

—Trouble starting the 57,000-pound thrust engine. White said he

Session Set For Today By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will meet Saturday with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on the tense situation in Cuba.

The White House announced late Friday that the conference would take place Saturday (12:30 p.m. EST) at Camp David, Md., the presidential retreat used by Eisenhower and two of his predecessors.

ARRANGES MEET

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the meeting was arranged in a telephone conversation that Kennedy initiated Friday morning.

"The President will bring former President Eisenhower up to date on all recent developments concerning the situation in Cuba," Salinger said.

Kennedy fended off questions about the ill-starred invasion of Cuba at his news conference Friday but other administration officials said the plan had been approved by the President and his top advisers.

Kennedy said he would not discuss Cuba at his session with reporters, but would stand on the speech he made Thursday to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He said then that this country would not hesitate to act on its own if events in Cuba should threaten U.S. security.

At Saturday's session — Kennedy's first use of Camp David—he and Eisenhower will lunch together. They are expected to discuss the Cuban crisis for about an hour and a half.

Kennedy will go to Camp David by helicopter, and Eisenhower will travel from his Gettysburg farm to Camp David in a helicopter provided by the White House.

This will be the first meeting between Kennedy and Eisenhower since Inauguration Day. It dramatizes the gravity with which the administration views the setback of the short-lived as-

DAR Opposes Seat In U.N. For Red China

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) called on the U. S. government Friday to do all it can to keep Red China out of the United Nations.

Members of the DAR applauded and shouted approval of a resolution that said Red China's admission to the world body would further strengthen the Communist bloc's power in U. N. affairs.

The resolution urged President Kennedy to use "every political and diplomatic means" to bolster Nationalist China's position in the global organization.

A series of policy statements were adopted at the closing session of the DAR's 70th Continental Congress without any dissent from the floor.

The ladies, all descendants of persons who fought or served in the American Revolution, opposed any relaxation of immigration controls that might "threaten the security of the nation."

Communist philosophy calls for free migration between countries, the DAR resolution asserted, as part of a plan for world domination.

DAR support was voiced for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed the challenge for St. Helena Negroes, who have been in the courts about eight years attempting to desegregate schools.

The courts have ordered St. Helena, along with East Baton Rouge Parish, to integrate with all deliberate speed, but no date has been set. East Baton Rouge has not yet called for a closure election.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion and Dist. Atty. Duncan Kemp have appealed the desegregation order, and it is also before the three-judge panel.

The court held an early hearing on the school closure but postponed action until May 8 when the St. Helena school board promised it would hold off any action regardless of how the election comes out.

The election and registration drew interest of the U. S. Justice Department. Two agents with Gremillion and Kemp on hand checked the registration rolls to determine whether there was discrimination.

Gremillion blamed the low registration on public apathy and said nothing out of order was found. The federal agents did not comment.

Mayor Roscoe Holland of Greensburg, parish seat, said, "No more than a handful of colored people showed up to register. The NAACP apparently wasn't interested in getting them to vote in this election; what they're banking on is the judges will rule in their favor."

Session Set For Today By President

sault on the Castro regime in Cuba.

Just Thursday Kennedy invited former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to the White House to talk over the situation. The President said Friday that Nixon's response "was most helpful."

The Kennedy-Eisenhower meeting will follow closely a scheduled 10 a.m. meeting of the National Security Council, at which Kennedy will preside. The Security Council is the top U.S. body concerned with defense of the United States.

In reply to questions, Salinger said Kennedy arranged the meeting with his predecessor because he believes Eisenhower "as leader of the Republican party and as former President should know what the situation is."

Asked if the suddenly arranged conference reflected an administration feeling that the situation is grave, Salinger said only that Kennedy had expressed himself at least twice in the last 48 hours.

He evidently referred to the President's speech Thursday in which he said Cuba would not be abandoned to the Communists and his remarks at a news conference Friday morning.

Salinger also disclosed that Kennedy has been in communication with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York within the last 24 hours. He said the Kennedy-Rockefeller contact was indirect but did not say how it was arranged.

At his news conference, Kennedy had shunted aside questions as to whether he ordered training of anti-Castro Cubans with arms provided by the United States, and as to whether there had been differences within the administration on the proper course.

He said the facts "will come out in due time."

The consensus from high administration sources amounted to this: that the invasion plan had been approved by Kennedy and all his top security advisers.

At his news conference, Kennedy bore down on a decade of difficulties ahead in combating Communist guerrilla tactics around the world and in trying to get a rocket to the moon ahead of the Russians.

Kennedy said he is considering dispatching Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to Southeast Asia. He said, too, that "we continue to be hopeful" for a cease-fire in Laos.

Shifting his sights to Geneva, the President took a more pessimistic view. He said that "We are, of course, very discouraged" by Soviet insistence on a veto in policing any nuclear weapons test ban.

But he said the talks should continue, because their failure would bring on "a proliferation of atomic testing in other countries" and dash hopes of getting an agreement on disarmament.

On Cuba, Kennedy firmly stood pat on the tough language he used in his speech Thursday to the editors. He told the editors that the United States, acting alone if need be, will throw its power against any menacing Communist infestation of the Western Hemisphere.

Many of the editors heard Kennedy again at his news conference — a conference that produced an attendance of 402 and perhaps the sharpest questioning to which the chief executive has been subjected in any of his 10 news sessions to date.

Sander Vanocur of the National Broadcasting Co. said there has been a "clamming up" of information on the foreign policy decision involved in the Cuban question.

Kennedy replied he felt he had said as much as he could regarding events of the last few days and that further discussion would not be beneficial "during the present difficult situation."

The suit in Washington is directed against Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Immigration Commissioner James Swing. It seeks return of Marcello and protection for him against further illegal deportation.

The government has sought for several years to deport Marcello because of a 1938 conviction under the marijuana act. In previous proceedings it contended he was born in Tunis of Sicilian parents and came to this country in 1910 at the age of 10 months.

On April 3 immigration agents in New Orleans seized him, placed him aboard a plane and flew him to Guatemala, contending records there showed he had been born in that country.

Cuban Exiles Say Landings To Continue

beachhead were North American arms, Havana said, naming tanks, antitank guns, rocket launchers, flame throwers, trucks, machine guns and rifles.

Reports in Havana said 350 prisoners were taken and not one of the invading force made it into the interior. Rebel sources have put the invading force at from 500 to 1,000 men.

The rebel radio in a broadcast from the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba denied Havana's claims that no invader succeeded in linking up with the anti-Castro guerrillas. It declared: The army of liberation is firmly entrenched in the mountains — the same rugged area that served Castro well in his revolution.

"The fight is hard," said the rebel broadcast. "It is not easy to defeat the traitors, who are operating with the intervention of Russia, China and Czechoslovakia."

Both sides admitted losses were heavy. A Reuters correspondent in Cuba said there were unconfirmed rumors in the capital that thousands had been killed in the battle of the beachhead 100 miles southeast of Havana.

There were no victory fanfares in Havana, said John Bland, correspondent of Reuters who was the first Western newspaperman to get a dispatch through the news blackout.

Prime Minister Castro, mysteriously absent from radio and TV in an hour of triumph, was reported somewhere in the interior directing mopping up operations. Bland had no confirmation of reports abroad that Castro had been incapacitated by an aerial bomb at the beachhead. Havana radio said Castro personally directed defense operations there.

There were only a few small parades by soldiers and people's militia, watched by small crowds, the correspondent said. He and some embassies reported Havana calm, but an alarm for the safety of Americans was sounded by the Swiss Embassy.

"The terror has begun against counterrevolutionaries and I have cabled my government for permission to take drastic action on the part of Americans in Cuba," said counsellor Gilbert de Dardel of the Swiss Embassy, which handles U.S. affairs in Cuba.

military adventure, but gave it full moral support for it to start when it did.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff all agreed to let the rebellion begin.

The rebels planned to establish a beachhead and set up a provisional government.

"The revolutionary command in this country thought the invasion would work," one official here said, "and they thought it strongly enough to send their sons into it."

Information from officials here differed as to the military miscalculation.

One high administration source said: "Castro turned out to have more tanks, more airpower in general, more artillery, more modern machine-guns and more Communist bloc technicians than anyone had thought."

Other officials said the miscalculation was not so much in the amount of equipment as in the training of men to use it and the ability to mobilize it effectively.

There had been a hope that more of Castro's military forces would defect than the few pilots who reportedly bombed their own bases.

There were intelligence reports that Cuban pilots had been trained in Czechoslovakia to fly Migs but that the only Migs that Castro had still were in crates.

Officials reported Friday night there were indications that Migs were used in strafing the rebel landing parties on the beaches.

It was learned meanwhile that the rebel landing party was equipped with American - made Sherman tanks but that Castro's fire prevented them from getting ashore, and they ended up "blown into the water."

The number of men taking part in the rebel assault still was in dispute. The best estimate here was that it consisted of about 1,200 men, only a "few hundred" of whom were able to stay ashore in a tenable position.

In official Washington's analysis of what went wrong there were some recriminations between agencies. Some officials blamed the CIA.

But one cabinet - level source was quoted Friday as saying the miscalculation was shared "by the entire government."

no doubt the invaders had material U.S. support.

U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson maintained the United States had no intention of direct military intervention in Cuba. But he also made plain the United States was strongly sympathetic toward the anti-Castro forces, and that the United States could not be expected to take a hands-off attitude toward any Communist beachhead in the Western Hemisphere.

The two approved resolutions were forwarded to the General Assembly, which was struggling to wind up its session by the early hours of Saturday.

In order to speed adjournment the Political Committee decided to defer until the next assembly in Seotember any action on three political issues — Korean unification, aid to Africa and cooperation for peaceful exploration of outer space.

Federal Judge Letts Resigns

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts — who once barred James R. Hoffa from taking office as Teamsters' Union president and later set up a "watchdog" board of monitors for the truck union — announced his resignation Friday.

The 85-year-old Letts, the oldest active judge on the federal bench, was appointed by former President Hoover in 1931. He was a Republican congressman from Iowa in the late 1920's.

U.S. Rocket Plane Streaks To Record

started after the drop at 45,000 feet, but then shut down. It dropped 7,000 feet before the engine restarted.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) disclosed it anticipated possible trouble. If the engine had failed to restart, White was to have attempted an emergency landing at Hidden Hills Dry Lake.

—A small leak developed in the cabin at an altitude of about 95,000 feet. White said his space suit automatically inflated to protect him as pressure in the cabin was equivalent to an altitude of about 35,000 feet in a conventional aircraft.

The X15 engine, harnessing nearly a half-million horse power, was at full throttle for 67 seconds on the 11-minute flight. Top altitude on the flight was 103,000, compared with 169,600 feet — 32 miles —on Joe Walker's record flight of March 30.

Walker had experienced the same restarting difficulty with the X15 as did White Friday. However, White — who said he was "quite busy" as a result of the in-flight difficulties — had no comparable vibration as the X15 came in for a landing.

NASA said official figures probably would be available Saturday on the actual speed of the X15, which is designed to go faster than 4,000 m.p.h. at an altitude of 100 miles. White said he remained confident in the ability of the X15 to reach the 4,000 m.p.h. goal.

White also reported when the engine did restart, it forced him back into his seat with more force than on other flights.

"That was quite a boost," he said.

Many said a total white boycott is underway at integrated McDonogh No. 19 school. Less than 20 white children go to integrated William Frantz school.

The real reasons that have held down white attendance, Many said are economic reprisals, telephone calls, reprisals of children against children, and other community pressures.

He said one family whose child went to McDonogh 19 for two days was forced to flee the state.

"And now these informer laws," he said.

They would pit neighbor against neighbor, friend against friend, Many said.

"These things are fantastic in a 20th century democracy," he told the court.

Gremillion called Many's argument "ridiculous." He said informers are needed to get evidence to prosecute any case.

"How about the government rewarding income tax informers? Is that reprehensible? Is that vicious?" Gremillion asked.

He called attention to federal informer laws applying to immigration, customs, and narcotics violations.

Gremillion contended the bulk of Many's argument was his own unsupported testimony.

"Why people don't go to integrated schools isn't any of my business or his business," Gremillion said. "As far as somebody having to leave Louisiana because of integration, that's a bunch of horse junk.

"That person wasn't even a citizen of Louisiana," he said. "His only interest was in publicity."

The reference was to a clerk who a drug store chain said, transferred about the time he sent his son to McDonogh. He and his family left the city at night and a few days after his son went to the integrated school.

Gremillion said the informer laws have not been enforced yet. The government had no right to contest them even before they are applied, he said.

"If anyone is arrested, he has full redress to the courts if any rights are being violated," Gremillion said.

Gremillion added it was doubtful as things now stand, if the laws would be enforced anyway. He pointed out the federal court has enjoined enforcement of all segregation laws that would violate its integration orders.

The 3-judge court gave no indication when its ruling would be handed down.

Also before the court was a House concurrent resolution creating a legislative investigating committee to probe finances of the elected Orleans school board.

Many said the real purpose of the committee was to "harrass, heed and thwart the Orleans Parish School Board in performance of its duties." He asked for an injunction against the committee.

Judge Rives reminded Many that a temporary restraining order remained in effect. Rives noted that the federal court "shouldn't interfere with a legislative committee any more than is necessary."

W. Scott Wilkinson, Shreveport attorney representing the legislative committee, said the case for an injunction rested on speculation about what the committee would do.

"Injunctions are not issued on speculation," he said.

Wilkinson said the state contributes two-thirds of the $30 million budget of the Orleans school board. The state has a right to see that the money is spent properly, he said.

Auto Show Underway At Eastgate

Flashy cars, hot music and comely young women held the spotlight Monday evening, setting the scene for the fifth annual Auto Show which premiered a three - day program on the lot at Eastgate Shopping Center.

Sponsored jointly by the New Car Dealers and Eastgate Divisions of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, festivities commenced yesterday with a parade downtown beore adjourning to the grounds of the huge shopping facility on the outskirts of the city, strewn with a display of more than 300 new automobiles, repsenting nearly every local dealer.

Shortly after the show opened at 6 p.m., officials there already were declaring it a success, as crowds started to mill onto the scene, attracted by the sleek 1961 autos and the rhythms of the Dixieland All - Stars band which played until closing time at 9.

Expanded over a three - day schedule for the first time this year, displays will be open from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. today and from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday. Another appearance of the All - Stars is lined up for 5 until 9 p.m. today, and a high school band concert, featuring all local bandsmen, will headline tomorrow afternoon's program.

Selection of an Auto Show Queen from among a field of 13 local beauties also will contribute to today's festivities.

Emphasizing yesterday the enlarged physical scope of the show, with space available on Eastgate grounds almost half again as great as previous facilities used, Chamber of Commerce President Garland Shell praised th teamwork shown by the two cooperating Chamber divisions in putting things together.

"Because of the way this year's show is going, the future for all those to come looks better," he said.

"This is the biggest and best ever."

Republicans Plan Survey On Chairman

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans decided Friday to poll the 141 members of their national committee for ideas on the most available, capable and acceptable successor to Chairman Thruston B. Morton.

Morton, a Senator from Kentucky, told a news conference the party's 26-member Executive Committee agreed at a closed session to poll other members on the selection of a new chairman.

Morton has called a June 2 meeting of the national committee at which he plans to resign. Several possible successors figure in speculation, but Rep. William E. Miller of New York, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, appears to head the list.

Morton said the Executive Committee authorized "a comprehensive study of the relationship between foreign trade and chronic unemployment in the United States."

This will parallel a survey projected by Republican leaders of both Houses into the effect of automation on employment in industry and agriculture.

"In the absence of any move in this direction by the incumbent administration, we feel that it is imperative for Republicans to take the initiative in the all-important foreign trade phase of the unemployment problem," the Executive Committee said in a statement.

Morton said the executive group approved the substance of the "Ev and Charlie" television show taped weekly at news conferences by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

At a luncheon session of the executive group, Halleck defended the conferences at which he and Dirksen blast at Kennedy administration policies.

Some party liberals have complained that the Halleck-Dirksen affair, which is taped for television showing, has given a "status quo" image of the party.

He evidently referred to the President's speech Thursday in which he said Cuba would not be abandoned to the Communists and his remarks at a news conference Friday morning.

Salinger also disclosed that Kennedy has been in communication with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York within the last 24 hours. He said the Kennedy-Rockefeller contact was indirect but did not say how it was arranged.

At his news conference, Kennedy had shunted aside questions as to whether he ordered training of anti-Castro Cubans with arms provided by the United States, and as to whether there had been differences within the administration on the proper course.

He said the facts "will come out in due time."

The consensus from high administration sources amounted to this: that the invasion plan had been approved by Kennedy and all his top security advisers.

At his news conference, Kennedy bore down on a decade of difficulties ahead in combating Communist guerrilla tactics around the world and in trying to get a rocket to the moon ahead of the Russians.

Kennedy said he is considering dispatching Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to Southeast Asia. He said, too, that "we continue to be hopeful" for a cease-fire in Laos.

Shifting his sights to Geneva, the President took a more pessimistic view. He said that "We are, of course, very discouraged" by Soviet insistence on a veto in policing any nuclear weapons test ban.

But he said the talks should continue, because their failure would bring on "a proliferation of atomic testing in other countries" and dash hopes of getting an agreement on disarmament.

On Cuba, Kennedy firmly stood pat on the tough language he used in his speech Thursday to the editors. He told the editors that the United States, acting alone if need be, will throw its power against any menacing Communist infestation of the Western Hemisphere.

Many of the editors heard Kennedy again at his news conference — a conference that produced an attendance of 402 and perhaps the sharpest questiohing to which the chief executive has been subjected in any of his 10 news sessions to date.

Sander Vanocur of the National Broadcasting Co. said there has been a "clamming up" of information on the foreign policy decision involved in the Cuban question.

Kennedy replied he felt he had said as much as he could regarding events of the last few days and that further discussion would not be beneficial "during the present difficult situation."

LOOKING 'EM OVER are these early arrivals at the fifth annual Auto Show which got underway yesterday on the grounds of the Eastgate Shopping Center. Huge crowds turned out later in the evening to view displays of over 300 new automobiles being shown by nearly every local dealer, in cooperation with the New Car Dealers and the Eastgate Divisions of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce. U.S. Rocket Plane Streaks To Record

started after the drop at 45,000 feet, but then shut down. It dropped 7,000 feet before the engine restarted.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) disclosed it anticipated possible trouble. If the engine had failed to restart, White was to have attempted an emergency landing at Hidden Hills Dry Lake.

—A small leak developed in the cabin at an altitude of about 95,000 feet. White said his space suit automatically inflated to protect him as pressure in the cabin was equivalent to an altitude of about 35,000 feet in a conventional aircraft.

The X15 engine, harnessing nearly a half-million horse power, was at full throttle for 67 seconds on the 11-minute flight. Top altitude on the flight was 103,000, compared with 169,600 feet — 32 miles —on Joe Walker's record flight of March 30.

Walker had experienced the same restarting difficulty with the X15 as did White Friday. However, White — who said he was "quite busy" as a result of the inflight difficulties — had no comparable vibration as the X15 came in for a landing.

NASA said official figures probably would be available Saturday on the actual speed of the X15, which is designed to go faster than 4,000 m.p.h. at an altitude of 100 miles. White said he remained confident in the ability of the X15 to reach the 4,000 m.p.h. goal.

At the top of the arc on Friday's flight, White experienced a minute of weightlessness.

White also reported when the engine did restart, it forced him back into his seat with more force than on other flights.

"That was quite a boost," he said.

Many said a total white boycott is underway at integrated McDonogh No. 19 school. Less than 20 white children go to integrated William Frantz school.

The real reasons that have held down white attendance, Many said are economic reprisals, telephone calls, reprisals of children against children, and other community pressures.

He said one family whose child went to McDonogh 19 for two days was forced to flee the state.

"And now these informer laws," he said.

They would pit neighbor against neighbor, friend against friend, Many said.

"These things are fantastic in a 20th century democracy," he told the court.

Gremillion called Many's argument "ridiculous." He said informers are needed to get evidence to prosecute any case.

"How about the government rewarding income tax informers? Is that reprehensible? Is that vicious?" Gremillion asked.

He called attention to federal informer laws applying to immigration, customs, and narcotics violations.

Gremillion contended the bulk of Many's argument was his own unsupported testimony.

"Why people don't go to integrated schools isn't any of my business or his business," Gremillion said. "As far as somebody having to leave Louisiana because of integration, that's a bunch of horse junk.

"That person wasn't even a citizen of Louisiana," he said. "His only interest was in publicity."

The reference was to a clerk who a drug store chain said, transferred about the time he sent his son to McDonogh. He and his family left the city at night and a few days after his son went to the integrated school.

Gremillion said the informer laws have not been enforced yet. The government had no right to contest them even before they are applied, he said.

"If anyone is arrested, he has full redress to the courts if any rights are being violated," Gremillion said.

Gremillion added it was doubtful as things now stand, if the laws would be enforced anyway. He pointed out the federal court has enjoined enforcement of all segregation laws that would violate its integration orders.

The 3-judge court gave no indication when its ruling would be handed down.

Also before the court was a House concurrent resolution creating a legislative investigating committee to probe finances of the elected Orleans school board.

Many said the real purpose of the committee was to "harrass, heed and thwart the Orleans Parish School Board in performance of its duties." He asked for an injunction against the committee.

Judge Rives reminded Many that a temporary restraining order remained in effect. Rives noted that the federal court "shouldn't interfere with a legislative committee any more than is necessary."

W. Scott Wilkinson, Shreveport attorney representing the legislative committee, said the case for an injunction rested on speculation about what the committee would do.

"Injunctions are not issued on speculation," he said.

Wilkinson said the state contributes two-thirds of the $30 million budget of the Orleans school board. The state has a right to see that the money is spent properly, he said.

Republicans Plan Survey On Chairman

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans decided Friday to poll the 141 members of their national committee for ideas on the most available, capable and acceptable successor to Chairman Thruston B. Morton.

Morton, a Senator from Kentucky, told a news conference the party's 26-member Executive Committee agreed at a closed session to poll other members on the selection of a new chairman.

Morton has called a June 2 meeting of the national committee at which he plans to resign. Several possible successors figure in speculation, but Rep. William E. Miller of New York, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, appears to head the list.

Morton said the Executive Committee authorized "a comprehensive study of the relationship between foreign trade and chronic unemployment in the United States."

This will parallel a survey projected by Republican leaders of both Houses into the effect of automation on employment in industry and agriculture.

"In the absence of any move in this direction by the incumbent administration, we feel that it is imperative for Republicans to take the initiative in the all-important foreign trade phase of the unemployment problem," the Executive Committee said in a statement.

Morton said the executive group approved the substance of the "Ev and Charlie" television show taped weekly at news conferences by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

At a luncheon session of the executive group, Halleck defended the conferences at which he and Dirksen blast at Kennedy administration policies.

Some party liberals have complained that the Halleck-Dirksen affair, which is taped for television showing, has given a "status quo" image of the party.

CONDUCTOR TO RETIRE

BOSTON (UPI) — Charles Munch announced Friday he is retiring as conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. He will be succeeded in August, 1962, by Erich Leinsdorf, conductor and musical consultant of New York's Metropolitan Opera.

Auto Show Underway At Eastgate

Flashy cars, hot music and comely young women held the spotlight Monday evening, setting the scene for the fifth annual Auto Show which premiered a three - day program on the lot at Eastgate Shopping Center.

Sponsored jointly by the New Car Dealers and Eastgate Divisions of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, festivities commenced yesterday with a parade downtown beore adjourning to the grounds of the huge shopping facility on the outskirts of the city, strewn with a display of more than 300 new automobiles, repsenting nearly every local dealer.

Shortly after the show opened at 6 p.m., officials there already were declaring it a success, as crowds started to mill onto the scene, attracted by the sleek 1961 autos and the rhythms of the Dixieland All - Stars band which played until closing time at 9.

Expanded over a three - day schedule for the first time this year, displays will be open from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. today and from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday. Another appearance of the All - Stars is lined up for 5 until 9 p.m. today, and a high school band concert, featuring all local bandsmen, will headline tomorrow afternoon's program.

Selection of an Auto Show Queen from among a field of 13 local beauties also will contribute to today's festivities.

Emphasizing yesterday the enlarged physical scope of the show, with space available on Eastgate grounds almost half again as great as previous facilities used, Chamber of Commerce President Garland Shell praised th teamwork shown by the two cooperating Chamber divisions in putting things together.

"Because of the way this year's show is going, the future for all those to come looks better," he said.

"This is the biggest and best ever."

Marcello's Birth Certificate False

The suit in Washington is directed against Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Immigration Commissioner James Swing. It seeks return of Marcello and protection for him against further illegal deportation.

The government has sought for several years to deport Marcello because of a 1938 conviction under the marijuana act. In previous proceedings it contended he was born in Tunis of Sicilian parents and came to this country in 1910 at the age of 10 months.

On April 3 immigration agents in New Orleans seized him, placed him aboard a plane and flew him to Guatemala, contending records there showed he had been born in that country.

Cuban Exiles Say Landings To Continue

beachhead were North American arms, Havana said, naming tanks, antitank guns, rocket launchers, flame throwers, trucks, machine guns and rifles.

Reports in Havana said 350 prisoners were taken and not one of the invading force made it into the interior. Rebel sources have put the invading force at from 500 to 1,000 men.

The rebel radio in a broadcast from the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba denied Havana's claims that no invader succeeded in linking up with the anti-Castro guerrillas. It declared: The army of liberation is firmly entrenched in the mountains — the same rugged area that served Castro well in his revolution.

"The fight is hard," said the rebel broadcast. "It is not easy to defeat the traitors, who are operating with the intervention of Russia, China and Czechoslovakia."

Both sides admitted losses were heavy. A Reuters correspondent in Cuba said there were unconfirmed rumors in the capital that thousands had been killed in the battle of the beachhead 100 miles southeast of Havana.

There were no victory fanfares in Havana, said John Bland, correspondent of Reuters who was the first Western newspaperman to get a dispatch through the news blackout.

Prime Minister Castro, mysteriously absent from radio and TV in an hour of triumph, was reported somewhere in the interior directing mopping up operations. Bland had no confirmation of reports abroad that Castro had been incapacitated by an aerial bomb at the beachhead. Havana radio said Castro personally directed defense operations there.

There were only a few small parades by soldiers and people's militia, watched by small crowds, the correspondent said. He and some embassies reported Havana calm, but an alarm for the safety of Americans was sounded by the Swiss Embassy.

"The terror has begun against counterrevolutionaries and I have cabled my government for permission to take drastic action on the part of Americans in Cuba," said counsellor Gilbert de Dardel of the Swiss Embassy, which handles U.S. affairs in Cuba.

SEN. CARPENTER

Solon Sees Communist Rise In India

Sen. W. T. Carpenter of Bastrop is home from India and Africa where he says conditions are "extremely explosive."

"I'm afraid the Communist are gaining in India," said the senator, who, besides other business interests, engages in the filming and hunting of wild game.

"India has so many poor people—people whose living conditions are extremely low," Carpenter said. "The Communists promise them anything and the people grab it."

He and his party returned several days ago after filming, capturing and hunting game in India, Kenya, Rhodesia, including both North Rhodesia and South Rhodesia.

Accompanied by his 18-year-old son Billy, Carpenter left the states for India at the end of the last special session of the Legislature. Carpenter was gone a month after joining his son and two other men in India.

While he got a chance to hunt, he explained that his principal interest in making the trip was filming wild game for the production of a television show.

In fact, the show, "Wild Cargo," will appear on KNOE-TV at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

At one point during the trip, Carpenter said they got within 30 miles of the Congo during the time of the Civil War.

"We didn't have any trouble," he remarked, "but we didn't cross the border into the Congo."

A New York photographer, Roy Pinney, shot the pictures while Carpenter and his partner, Arthur Jones, who specializes in capturing animals, of New Orleans supervised.

They used airplanes and a helicopter to spot the game, then returned by vehicle or on foot to shoot the film. To shoot pictures of an elephant, they captured one in India.

Carpenter said they captured some crocodiles in addition.

"They were man-eating leopards," the senator explained. Or you might describe one of them as a woman-eating leopard since it had just killed a woman."

And in India he killed a 10-foot tiger.

"In Kenya," Carpenter said, "the people are very bitter toward the British government, which has pulled out. I have a friend there who owns a 20,000 - acre ranch and 3,000 head of cattle. Now he's afraid the government is going to take it away from him."

Carpenter explained that the small animals they captured were sent back to the United States while the larger ones were traded.

"Since there is no government, so to speak, in the Congo, the poaches are going wild," he said. "They're killing the wild game at liberty."

Dressed in ranch clothes, Carpenter added, "I was glad to get home. I would have liked to have lived in that part of the world two or three years ago, but the way things are now, no sir."

Actress Sues For $6 Million

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor Friday filed a $6 million libel suit against a magazine that said she was 45 years old.

The blonde Hungarian also expressed her resentment of a comment in the magazine Cavalier which said her acting talents made her better suited for employment as a cigarette girl.

Attorney Paul Caruso, who filed the action in behalf of Miss Gabor said the actress was born Budapest, Hungary, on Feb. 6, 1923, and that this would make her 38.

The suit was filed together with a copy of the November, 1960, issue of the magazine which contained an article titled "Zsa Zsa, the Kids I's Not."

Police Guarding de Gaulle's Son

TOULON, France (UPI) — Police have posted a 24-hour guard around the home of Lt. Comdr. Philippe de Gaulle, son of the president, because members of his family received threatening letters, it was reported Friday.

Monroe Morning World

EDITORIALS

Kennedy And Khrush

President Kennedy has warned Premier Nikita Khrushchev of Russia to keep hands off as far as Cuba is concerned. Khrushchev has made the assertion that the Soviet Union will provide whatever assistance Cuban Premier Fidel Castro needs to repel the invasion.

No 2 statements could more clearly represent a headon clash of aims and threatened action. In reality, it sets up the question of whether the United States will allow Russia to dominate the American hemisphere. It bluntly poses the problem of whether we will maintain the Monroe doctrine or abandon it. President Kennedy says we will uphold it.

The United States is committed to keeping Russia from interfering in Cuba. Long ago it should have acted to prevent the establishment of a communist regime. Either we must stop Russia from setting up communist control in our territory or we must admit that we are unable to combat communism and will allow it to encompass North and South America as well as the rest of the world. Either we must keep Russia out of Cuba or abandon the Monroe doctrine.

Russians have been providing some assistance to the Castro regime all along. They have sent arms and advisers and false philosophical bait that promotes the communist confidence game. They have denounced United States "aggression" in the United Nations but to no avail.

They have used the Castro movement as a vehicle in the rest of Latin America to arouse further the feelings against the United States.

There is little doubt that the present invasion movements in Cuba have United States sanction. They should have more than that. They should have enough support to eradicate the communist regime from Cuba.

President Kennedy has an opportunity to show this country, Russia and the rest of the world whether he is positive or passive, whether he will stop communist aggression in our sphere or let it flood the world.

Who Wants To Go Back

Education is a fine thing and having plenty of it can make life more profitable but a scientist has come up with a suggestion that is enough to make a good many of us cringe. He suggested that, to keep up to date, it might be necessary for everyone to go back to school every four or five years for a few months of refresher courses.

Once, at a high school graduation, an elderly observer said, "They're just leaving the happiest days of their lives." This writer, who happened to be one of the graduates, didn't believe that statement then. Now that he is about as old as was the gentleman who made the remark, he still doesn't believe it, and he hasn't believed it during any of the time that has elapsed between then and now.

The period for acquiring an education—in grammar school, high school and college—is a wonderful time of growth and development and learning. It can be a happy time, filled with many pleasant activities and marked by many strong friendships. Socially, economically and spiritually, it can be one of the most successful and rewarding periods of a lifetime.

There was a time when the fellow who hated school could carve a niche of contentment and usefulness for himself in American society. He could farm, learn a trade or even go into certain types of business on his own. There are still a few who can but they are becoming extremely scarce as the demand for education grows.

If a person plans to work for anyone else, he's practically forced to have an education. Technology has advanced to the point that a high school education is required for practically any job and only college graduates are considered for the better ones.

The scientist, who was attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's centennial convocation, pointed out that many modes of living and working that were valid only a decade ago are no longer valid. While this swift change affects the primary necessity of making a living, it also has psychological and sociological implications. To meet such fast-changing environment he suggests frequent school intervals throughout life.

Heretofore, the period when one has been obtaining an education has been primarily one of preparation. It has been a time to prepare for the fulfillment of life and has not been regarded as the ultimate aim of life. We must always remember that obtaining an education is preparation, not fulfillment.

To be sure, there are many highly skilled professions in which refresher courses are essential. One of the most important of these, of course, is the medical profession.

Most of us, however, are pretty well pleased with the idea that school is out for us. That doesn't mean we want to quit learning. Anyone who wants to can increase his education steadily throughout life without going back to school, once he has graduated. Going back to school, every four or five years would have to be incorporated in the regular working program before most of us could or would do it.

For the guy who hates school, this could be the last straw.

Broken Tooth Racket

Fraudulent schemes are always to be found on every hand. Crooks, both men and women, have found a new and lucrative racket. With their "broken tooth" claims they are taking a multi-million-dollar bite out of the nation's restaurant till.

Nearly all of us, either eating at home or elsewhere, have at times chomped down on stones, bones, glass, hard seeds or other foreign matter in our food. We usually escape without serious damage. Nevertheless, most of us are likely to have a few cracked molars as we grow older.

Some cafe diners bring along their own little rocks, place them in their mouths, display cracked teeth and start screaming for damages. Many owners settle on the spot, rather than face a suit.

Most people who honestly bite into something hard in their food don't suffer any damage and don't holler. No honest person will yell as much about rock-crunching as will a professional racketeer, who wants to collect damages. It is frequently possible to recognize and expose the racketeer.

Russia Threatens Blockade

Khrush Says He'll Shut Off West Berlin If U. S. Intervenes In Cuba, Directly Or Indirectly

WASHINGTON — Premier Khrushchev is threatening to blockade West Berlin if the U.S. intervenes in Cuba, either directly or by giving military aid to the embattled anti - Castro forces.

The truculent Kremlin ruler has transmitted this warning through diplomatic channels.

President Kennedy disclosed that disquieting development in his weekly meeting with Democratic congressional leaders. He told them Khrushchev's threat is being "treated with utmost seriousness by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Pentagon authorities do not deem it likely the Soviet will attempt to send Iron Curtain combat "volunteers" to Cuba.

Geographic and logistic factors are considered too unfavorable. As an illustration, in recent weeks, due to lack of tankers, Russia has been unable to provide Castro with oil he urgently needs.

However, Khrushchev might retaliate against U.S. intervention by blockading West Berlin or "intensifying the war crisis in Laos."

The President made these statements during a discussion of what Khrushchev could do to make good his public threats concerning Cuba. Several of the congressional leaders expressed doubts about them.

"He's talking tough, but is there anything more to it than just talk?" asked a House leader. "Is there any real danger he might try to back up these threats with some kind of military action in Cuba?"

"Khrushchev has threatened to blockade West Berlin if we intervene militarily against Castro," replied the President. "That warning is being treated with utmost seriousness by the Joint Chiefs of Staff. They do not think he is bluffing. They believe he really means it."

HANGING IN BALANCE — Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert Humphrey, Minn., raised the question of Communist combat "volunteers," citing Red China's notorious record for resorting to them and its virulent hatred of the U.S.

"Is there any possibility Moscow or Peiping may undertake to bolster Castro with so - called 'volunteer' troops?" asked Humphrey.

"That is being discounted by the Joint Chiefs," replied the President. "They say geographic and logistic factors are against that. Also, Khrushchev knows full well we would not stand for 'volunteers' being sent to Cuba. We could not permit that. And he also knows very definitely we could stop anything like that if we have to."

The President surprised the congressional leaders by saying it may be several weeks before the outcome of the Cuban fighting is decisive.

"From our information so far," he said, "the invading forces are doing a lot better than had been expected. It now appears they have a fifty-fifty chance of winning. But it will be some days, and possibly several weeks, before there is a clear indication who will emerge the victor in the battle for Cuba."

"Won't the anti - Castro forces be outgunned by the Soviet tanks and planes being thrown against them?" asked Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont.

"It is our understanding they have adequate anti - tank equipment," said the president. He did not explain what he meant by that, and was not questioned further about it.

This was the second time the president had revealed Khrushchev's theat to blockade West Berlin if the U. S. intervenes in Cuba.

The first occasion was several weeks ago during the president's flight back from his Palm Beach, Fla., Easter vacation. He was asked why the U. S. didn't move actively against Castro by imposing a naval blockade.

"Because if we do that," answered the president, "Khrushchev would counter with a blockade of West Berlin. He has threatened that. He made that very clear in his talk with Ambassador Thompson. The joint chiefs tell me they are convinced he would do it."

SOCIAL WHIRL — Mrs. Walt Rostow, wife of the deputy special adviser on national security affairs to President Kennedy, has been in the capital only a few months, but she has figured out why there is so much social activity there. Says Mrs. Rostow, who is an assistant professor of history on leave from MIT, "I have found that accepting invitations is just about the only way to get a husband home from work." . . . Former Senator Theodore Green (D., R.I.), 93-year-old bachelor, returned to the social whirl, in which he once was very active, to attend Greek Ambassador Liatis' reception for Prime Minister and Mme. Caramanlis. Said Green laughingly, "I just came down from Providence to let my friends know I'm still around."

Secretary Dean Rusk is taking a leaf in comfortable attire from Chief Justice Earl Warren. Like the latter, the State Department head is wearing a turned-down collar with white tie and tails. Explains Rusk, "It doesn't make sense to wear a winged collar and be uncomfortable just because someone started that practice a couple of hundred years ago" . . . Culinary feature of a lavish dinner Malayan Ambassador Kamil gave for new U. S. Ambassador Charles Baldwin was a dish called briyani, consisting of spiced chicken with wild rice, coconut, raisins and fruit. The exotic specialty was prepared by the ambassador's wife.

Abnormal Count

Woman Worries Because She Fears Leukemia, Other Ills

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: — I read your column every day and I have faith in you. Please answer soon as I am desperate. I am afraid to go anywhere as I am afraid something is wrong with me.

I am 33. What started it all was a blood count taken when I went to the doctor for my nervousness. The white count was 12,000, but my doctor said there was nothing to worry about.

Then someone told me it was a dreaded disease. (You know which one I mean: It begins with L— I don't even want to spell it out!)

The next count I had was normal. My blood pressure is low. I was told by this friend that this goes with the bad blood condition.

Now I think about myselfall the time. I can't stand the fear. My doctor tells me nothing is wrong. He took X-rays and made other examinations and told me I'm healthier than most people.
—Mr. F., Florida

Answer: Face it. Leukemia is what you dread. I don't blame you for being apprehensive. But why worry over what you haven't got? Your own doctor has assured you that you are healthy.

You say you have faith in me? Then prove it is not misplaced by believing me when I say that a white count of 12,000 is within the normal range count.

A 3-10,000 count is usually considered the normal limit. But inform your non - medical friend who has frightened you, that the white count can rise a few thousand after a heavy meal.

The choice is yours. To go through the rest of you life unduly frightened and unhappy, or to perk up and get some fun out of life. Have faith in your own doctor.

CERVICAL ARTHRITIS

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: After extensive tests my doctor has diagnosed my ailment as cervical arthritis. Does it ever clear up or is it a lifetime thing I'm 45. Aspirin and meprobamate have killed the pain, headaches and dizziness. Thank you for any information. — Mr. B., Virginia.

Answer: You probably have osteoarthritis of your neck vertebra. This is not an uncommon condition. It never clears up in the sense that the bones become normal again.

But that is really not so important in this instance as the control of the pain and other discomfort. If aspirin and other drugs keep one comforatble, you can live along until the 80s without expecting too much trouble from the arthritis itself.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Recently my husband has been having nose bleeds. He has never had them before. He will be 63 on his next birthday. He eats well and says he feels well.

He is very headstrong and refuses to see a doctor. Is this serious? Perhaps your reply to me will help convince him to be sensible. — Mrs. S., Calif.

Answer: Anyone who has definite symptoms indicating that something is wrong with the physical machine — and refuses to check on the trouble — is a foolish gambler. I say foolish because no sensible person will actually gamble his life away.

Tell your husband the trouble may be due only to a harmless scab inside his nose. But how can he be sure that the bleeding isn't due to some beginning anemia or or other serious blood disease?

Come now, Mr. S, pass the dice and be on your way to your doctor's office. Let an experienced man gamble your life for you.

For Mrs. D., Arizona: See above. Ditto! A lump in the breast demands immediate care. Call your doctor today.

Dr. Steincrohn welcomes all readers' letters, but because of the great number received, he cannot answer each one personally. However, all questions are ultimately incorporated into the column.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Manage Arthritis," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self - addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin. Address your request c-o this newspaper.

Foreign Imports

Congressmen Tell Their Colleagues Of Industrial Injuries

At frequent intervals since this session of Congress began in January, members of the House of Representatives have taken the floor in the House chamber to tell their colleagues of injuries to the industries of their States and districts from ever - increasing foreign imports.

For the most part the Representatives have been Democrats — Bailey, of West Virginia; Davis, of Georgia; Dorn and Hemphill, of South Carolina; Stratton, of New York, Dent, of Pennsylvania, to name some of them. Occasionally, a Republican raises his voice in their cause. But generally the speaker is a member of the Democratic party, which traditionally has been a low tariff party, generously sprinkled with free traders.

One of them, able Representative John A. Dent, a well - entrenched Pennsylvania Democrat, in January undertook a 10 - week program of weekly speeches on the floor which he called a "crusade to awaken the little people of America." Always he titles his speech, "The One - Way Street." The idea conveyed is that other countries get everything, we nothing, for our trade policies.

From the beginning of this Republic until 1934 Congress regulated the foreign commerce of the United States through the passage of tariff laws. But 27 years ago with the United States and most of the world gripped by depression, the Hull Reciprocal Trade Act was passed in order to get trade moving.

The average duties under the Smoot - Hawley law, then in effect, was a little over 50 per cent across the board. Under the 1934 Act the President was authorized by Congress to cut these rates in half. In 1945 the President was authorized to make an additional 50 per cent reduction.

Thus, if a duty had already been reduced the full 50 per cent it could be cut half once more, that is, a total reduction of 75 per cent below the 1934 rate. Since 1945 the President has twice been given additional tariff reducing authority — a 15 per cent reduction in the Act of 1955 and another one of 20 per cent in the Trade Agreements Act of 1958.

Under the trade program since 1934 tariffs have been reduced until now the protective effect is down approximately 80 per cent from the 1930-1935 level. Most of the reduction has been in the form of tariff cuts but a part is attributable to the rise in prices.

When prices go up the protective effect declines in proportion. Our average duty on imports today is only a little over 10 per cent compared with a little over 50 per cent when the Trade Agreements Act went into effect 27 years ago.

To assure against damaging import competition Secretary of State Cordell Hull wrote an escape clause into the Trade Act. Hull told the House Ways and Means Committee:

"Every precaution is provided in advance to take care of any unexpected development that might be injurious or materially hurtful to any of our industries."

The escape clause permits industry to petition for relief from oppressive negotiated tariff reductions. Escape clause appeals go to the Tariff Commission, an agency of Congress. The President has power to veto the Commission's findings. The Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization has jurisdiction to guard essential industries, and there are prohibitions against dumping foreign merchandise.

The escape clause has been little, especially since this country joined 22 other countries in the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade — GAAT.

There were complaints against the way the escape clause was administered under the Truman Administration, but the big beef was against the Eisenhower Administration. Representative Bailey charged that under its aid and trade policy the Eisenhower Administration, guided by State Department policy, virtually made a nullity of the escape clause. The other supposed avenues of relief did no better by protecting American industry.

From 1954, according to a showing made by Representative Dent, the Treasury Department received from industry 126 complaints against dumping and disallowed 124. From 1948 to 1960 the Tariff Commission investigated 90 applications for tariff relief. The Commission, or the President, rejected 77 of them. Of 22 applications to OCDM from 1950 to 1960, only two were granted.

Even when the Tariff Commission recommended relief, Eisenhower usually overruled it, sometimes because such action would "offend" friendly countries.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Republican Split

Divided Into Four Factions; Goldwater Forces Strong

At this moment, the Republican Party is split into four factions:

1. There are those who still believe that Richard Nixon can make a come-back in 1964, provided he makes a lot of speeches between now and then;

2. The Rockefeller machine is in high gear operation; however, Nelson Rockefeller has to be re-elected Governor of New York State in 1962. This involves a very complex political situation, because the Democrats in New York City are split over the question of the leadership of Carmine De-Sapio, the Tammany boss. Should Mayor Wagner be defeated in 1961, Rockefeller will be safer in 1962. Rockefeller, thus far, represents a New Deal liberalism, alien to the Republican Party. What will happen to his political posture should he face John Kennedy in 1964, it is difficult to say. Rockefeller may find no better excuse for running than that he agrees with Kennedy but is more able — a boast that is always suspect!

3. Senator Barry Goldwater has built an enormous following for himself, not only among Republicans but among no-party conservatives. An element of this following might be called McCarthyite. Goldwater is the first Republican to have cracked the intellectual hard shell of the universities; not even Robert A. Taft succeeded in doing that. This generation of youngsters knew not Roosevelt and are not influenced by the excitement of the 1930's;

4. There is a large element of older Republicans who have ceased to be partisans. They are Republicans because they are such, but they vote or do not vote depending upon whether the candidate is significant. Such Republicans fell away from Nixon because of his television speeches; they dislike Rockefeller because he does not belong; they are not sure that they understand Goldwater. In a word, they are very uncertain as to where to go and many of them join crackpot organizations as a demonstration of principle.

It will take the Republican Party more leadership than it now possesses to amalgamate all these different factions into a strong political party. No Republican program is presently possible. What does Senator Styles Bridges have in common with Senator Jacob Javits? Bridges moves within the margins of Republican tradition; Javits is an individualist who runs all over the map without a compass.

In a word, the Republican Party is now so split and riddled that it requites reorganization not only in ideas but in personnel. The great advantage of Robert A. Taft's leadership was that he managed to keep together those who called themselves Republicans. There is no one like Taft among Republicans today.

Perhaps the most surprising factor in this situation is the complete elimination of former President Eisenhower from even a semblance of leadership. He is not consulted by an appreciable element in the party. He exerts no influence upon any significant following among Republicans. He has served as President for eight years and has left a small mark on the sands of time. Of him, it can be said that he kept us out of war but at what a price! By 1964, Eisenhower is not likely to have the influence in the Republican Party that Herbert Hoover exercises now, nearly 30 years after he was defeated.

The Republicans do not have too much time. They are now depending on President Kennedy's failure in solving the problems of unemployment, of the value of the dollar, and in the conduct of the foreign policy. But what if President Kennedy should not fail? Having no program except another man's failure is like living in a dead man's shoes. A political party needs more than the negative attitude of hoping that the party in power will fail. If the Republicans could build a conservative program for the country, a logical, a philosophic concept of American life, it would have value, but a party without belief, without ideas, without aspirations except to get jobs for the politicians, is not good enough.

And there is so little time left. The United States needs two parties — a single party, long in power, is intolerable, an opposition party exists to oppose by proposing an alternative program. Have the Republicans an alternative program to what is sloganized as the New Frontier? During the last campaign, the Republican Platform was an absurd document which was not even supported by the candidates in their speeches. The party of Lincoln should have been able to do better than that.

Kennedy And Khrush

President Kennedy has warned Premier Nikita Khrushchev of Russia to keep hands off as far as Cuba is concerned. Khrushchev has made the assertion that the Soviet Union will provide whatever assistance Cuban Premier Fidel Castro needs to repel the invasion.

No 2 statements could more clearly represent a headon clash of aims and threatened action. In reality, this sets up the question of whether the United States will allow Russia to dominate the American hemisphere. It bluntly poses the problem of whether we will maintain the Monroe doctrine or abandon it. President Kennedy says we will uphold it.

The United States is committed to keeping Russia from interfering in Cuba. Long ago it should have acted to prevent the establishment of a communist regime. Either we must stop Russia from setting up communist control in our territory or we must admit that we are unable to combat communism and will allow it to encompass North and South America as well as the rest of the world. Either we must keep Russia out of Cuba or abandon the Monroe doctrine.

Russians have been providing some assistance to the Castro regime all along. They have sent arms and advisers and false philosophical bait that promotes the communist confidence game. They have denounced United States "aggression" in the United Nations but to no avail.

They have used the Castro movement as a vehicle in the rest of Latin America to arouse further the feelings against the United States.

There is little doubt that the present invasion movements in Cuba have United States sanction. They should have more than that. They should have enough support to eradicate the communist regime from Cuba.

President Kennedy has an opportunity to show this country, Russia and the rest of the world whether he is positive or passive, whether he will stop communist aggression in our sphere or let it flood the world.

Who Wants To Go Back

Education is a fine thing and having plenty of it can make life more profitable but a scientist has come up with a suggestion that is enough to make a good many of us cringe. He suggested that, to keep up to date, it might be necessary for everyone to go back to school every four or five years for a few months of refresher courses.

Once, at a high school graduation, an elderly observer said, "They're just leaving the happiest days of their lives." This writer, who happened to be one of the graduates, didn't believe that statement then. Now that he is about as old as was the gentleman who made the remark, he still doesn't believe it, and he hasn't believed it during any of the time that has elapsed between then and now.

The period for acquiring an education—in grammar school, high school and college—is a wonderful time of growth and development and learning. It can be a happy time, filled with many pleasant activities and marked by many strong friendships. Socially, economically and spiritually, it can be one of the most successful and rewarding periods of a lifetime.

There was a time when the fellow who hated school could carve a niche of contentment and usefulness for himself in American society. He could farm, learn a trade or even go into certain types of business on his own. There are still a few who can but they are becoming extremely scarce as the demand for education grows.

If a person plans to work for anyone else, he's practically forced to have an education. Technology has advanced to the point that a high school education is required for practically any job and only college graduates are considered for the better ones.

The scientist, who was attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's centennial convocation, pointed out that many modes of living and working that were valid only a decade ago are no longer valid. While this swift change affects the primary necessity of making a living, it also has psychological and sociological implications. To meet such fast-changing environment he suggests frequent school intervals throughout life.

Heretofore, the period when one has been obtaining an education has been primarily one of preparation. It has been a time to prepare for the fulfillment of life and has not been regarded as the ultimate aim of life. We must always remember that obtaining an education is preparation, not fulfillment.

To be sure, there are many highly skilled professions in which refresher courses are essential. One of the most important of these, of course, is the medical profession.

Going back to school, every four or five years would have to be incorporated in the regular working program before most of us could or would do it.

Foreign Imports

Congressmen Tell Their Colleagues Of Industrial Injuries

At frequent intervals since this session of Congress began in January, members of the House of Representatives have taken the floor in the House chamber to tell their colleagues of injuries to the industries of their States and districts from ever - increasing foreign imports.

For the most part the Representatives have been Democrats — Bailey, of West Virginia; Davis, of Georgia; Dorn and Hemphill, of South Carolina; Stratton, of New York, Dent, of Pennsylvania, to name some of them. Occasionally, a Republican raises his voice in their cause. But generally the speaker is a member of the Democratic party, which traditionally has been a low tariff party, generously sprinkled with free traders.

One of them, able Representative John A. Dent, a well - entrenched Pennsylvania Democrat, in January undertook a 10 - week program of weekly speeches on the floor which he called a "crusade to awaken the little people of America." Always he titles his speech, "The One - Way Street." The idea conveyed is that other countries get everything, we nothing, for our trade policies.

From the beginning of this Republic until 1934 Congress regulated the foreign commerce of the United States through the passage of tariff laws. But 27 years ago with the United States and most of the world gripped by depression, the Hull Reciprocal Trade Act was passed in order to get trade moving.

The average duties under the Smoot - Hawley law, then in effect, was a little over 50 per cent across the board. Under the 1934 Act the President was authorized by Congress to cut these rates in half. In 1945 the President was authorized to make an additional 50 per cent reduction.

Thus, if a duty had already been reduced the full 50 per cent it could be cut half once more, that is, a total reduction of 75 per cent below the 1934 rate. Since 1945 the President has twice been given additional tariff reducing authority — a 15 per cent reduction in the Act of 1955 and another one of 20 per cent in the Trade Agreements Act of 1958.

Under the trade program since 1934 tariffs have been reduced until now the protective effect is down approximately 80 per cent from the 1930-1935 level. Most of the reduction has been in the form of tariff cuts but a part is attributable to the rise in prices.

When prices go up the protective effect declines in proportion. Our average duty on imports today is only a little over 10 per cent compared with a little over 50 per cent when the Trade Agreements Act went into effect 27 years ago.

To assure against damaging import competition Secretary of State Cordell Hull wrote an escape clause into the Trade Act. Hull told the House Ways and Means Committee:

"Every precaution is provided in advance to take care of any unexpected development that might be injurious or materially hurtful to any of our industries."

The escape clause permits industry to petition for relief from oppressive negotiated tariff reductions. Escape clause appeals go to the Tariff Commission, an agency of Congress. The President has power to veto the Commission's findings. The Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization has jurisdiction to guard essential industries, and there are prohibitions against dumping foreign merchandise.

The escape clause has been little, especially since this country joined 22 other countries in the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade — GAAT.

There were complaints against the way the escape clause was administered under the Truman Administration, but the big beef was against the Eisenhower Administration. Representative Bailey charged that under its aid and trade policy the Eisenhower Administration, guided by State Department policy, virtually made a nullity of the escape clause. The other supposed avenues of relief did no better by protecting American industry.

From 1954, according to a showing made by Representative Dent, the Treasury Department received from industry 126 complaints against dumping and disallowed 124. From 1948 to 1960 the Tariff Commission investigated 90 applications for tariff relief. The Commission, or the President, rejected 77 of them. Of 22 applications to OCDM from 1955 to 1960, only two were granted.

Even when the Tariff Commission recommended relief, Eisenhower usually overruled it, sometimes because such action would "offend" friendly countries.

Republican Split

Divided Into Four Factions; Goldwater Forces Strong

At this moment, the Republican Party is split into four factions:

1. There are those who still believe that Richard Nixon can make a come-back in 1964, provided he makes a lot of speeches between now and then;

2. The Rockefeller machine is in high gear operation; however, Nelson Rockefeller has to be reelected Governor of New York State in 1962. This involves a very complex political situation, because the Democrats in New York City are split over the question of the leadership of Carmine DeSapio, the Tammany boss. Should Mayor Wagner be defeated in 1961, Rockefeller will be safer in 1962. Rockefeller, thus far, represents a New Deal liberalism, alien to the Republican Party. What will happen to his political posture should he face John Kennedy in 1964, it is difficult to say. Rockefeller may find no better excuse for running than that he agrees with Kennedy but is more able — a boast that is always suspect!

3. Senator Barry Goldwater has built an enormous following for himself, not only among Republicans but among no-party conservatives. An element of this following might be called McCarthyite. Goldwater is the first Republican to have cracked the intellectual hard shell of the universities; not even Robert A. Taft succeeded in doing that. This generation of youngsters knew not Roosevelt and are not influenced by the excitement of the 1930's;

4. There is a large element of older Republicans who have ceased to be partisans. They are Republicans because they are such, but they vote or do not vote depending upon whether the candidate is significant. Such Republicans fell away from Nixon because of his television speeches; they dislike Rockefeller because he does not belong; they are not sure that they understand Goldwater. In a word, they are very uncertain as to where to go and many of them join crackpot organizations as a demonstration of principle.

It will take the Republican Party more leadership than it now possesses to amalgamate all these different factions into a strong political party. No Republican program is presently possible. What does Senator Styles Bridges have in common with Senator Jacob Javits? Bridges moves within the margins of Republican tradition; Javits is an individualist who runs all over the map without a compass.

In a word, the Republican Party is now so split and riddled that it requites reorganization not only in ideas but in personnel. The great advantage of Robert A. Taft's leadership was that he managed to keep together those who called themselves Republicans. There is no one like Taft among Republicans today.

Perhaps the most surprising factor in this situation is the complete elimination of former President Eisenhower from even a semblance of leadership. He is not consulted by an appreciable element in the party. He exerts no influence upon any significant following among Republicans. He has served as President for eight years and has left a small mark on the sands of time. Of him, it can be said that he kept us out of war but at what a price! By 1964, Eisenhower is not likely to have the influence in the Republican Party that Herbert Hoover exercises now, nearly 30 years after he was defeated.

The Republicans do not have too much time. They are now depending on President Kennedy's failure in solving the problems of unemployment, of the value of the dollar, and in the conduct of the foreign policy. But what if President Kennedy should not fail? Having no program except another man's failure is like living in a dead man's shoes. A political party needs more than the negative attitude of hoping that the party in power will fail. If the Republicans could build a conservative program for the country, a logical, a philosophic concept of American life, it would have value, but a party without belief, without ideas, without aspirations except to get jobs for the politicians, is not good enough.

And there is so little time left. The United States needs two parties — a single party, long in power, is intolerable, an opposition party exists to oppose by proposing an alternative program. Have the Republicans an alternative program to what is sloganized as the New Frontier? During the last campaign, the Republican Platform was an absurd document which was not even supported by the candidates in their speeches. The party of Lincoln should have been able to do better than that.

QUIZZED ON INVASION

Havana Parades Captives On TV

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Havana television capped a three-hour propaganda film show Friday night with live interrogation of men described as captured Cuban counterrevolutionaries who were involved in last Monday's ill-fated invasion of Cuba.

The first man questioned by a group of journalists said he was signed up for the Cuban invasion in Miami, Fla., was flown to Guatemala and then Nicaragua in a plane with no markings, before going to Cuba.

He gave his name as Jose Anchon Bayona. Asked the names of the chiefs of the expeditionary force that invaded Cuba last Monday, he gave only the name of San Roman.

The man who was questioned before a large public audience, appeared in camouflaged battle fatigues. He said he received no training in Miami. A B24 carried him to Guatemala and Nicaragua, he asserted.

Asked the names of others with him, he declared he could not recall. He said the invaders were armed with machine guns, pistols and antitank guns and that he belonged to a group of paratroopers called Co. C.

He said he has received good treatment since his capture by Castro forces.

Prior to the live interrogation, films were shown, including some of Prime Minister Fidel Castro inspecting a bomb-damaged airport during last Saturday's air raid. Nothing in these pictures cleared up the mystery of Castro's more recent whereabouts or state of health.

Television reception in Key West was spotty and many of the questions and answers were unintelligible during the live questioning of captives.

The second prisoner identified himself as a member of Armored Battalion No. 4. His name was indistinguishable.

In response to questions, he said the invasion forces had left Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, aboard five merchant ships escorted by the frigate Balger. He said the convoy was joined somewhere in the vicinity of Grand Cayman by two destroyers, one of which bore the number 507.

The prisoner said he was aboard the ship Caribe.

The men appeared stilted in their replies, as though they had been rehearsed.

There was a studio audience for the questioning. Newspapermen were lined up at one table and the moderator at another. The men described as prisoners appeared one at a time, occupying a sort of witness chair.

The second man was asked: "Are you convinced that Kennedy is a liar?

"Our eyes have, unfortunately, been opened," was the reply. "Today there are more than 500 Cubans who know the truth."

He also said there had been open dissidence among the rebel chiefs.

He said that while training in Central America, they were constantly bombarded with propaganda from radio Swan, a station on an island near the Cuban coast, and from the United States.

Another alleged prisoner said he was transported by plane from Miami to Guatemala and that there were Americans involved in the transportation. He said the boats of the invasion force were escorted by two destroyers and he presumed they were American.

Still another man under questioning said the counterrevolutionaries were told that they would find a general uprising of the Cuban population when they landed on the island. He said he spent two weeks in training at Retalhuleu and a total of six battalions was being trained at the base while he was there.

One of the captives said he had once owned 300 acres in Cuba that were taken away from him but he was not questioned as to when that happened.

"Did you have any idea of getting back your land when you came to Cuba?" he was asked.

He answered he did not, but he understood the Castro agrarian reform law would have been changed if the invaders had been successful.

The former landowner did not appear to cooperate with his questioners as much as those who preceded him and he was quizzed more sharply than the others.

The films of Castro threw no light on the question where he has been since Sunday, the day of his last known public appearance.

British Queen Observes Her 35th Birthday

LONDON (UPI) — A youthful Queen Elizabeth observed her 35th birthday Friday, and reports circulated in the royal household that she would like to have a fourth child.

Court circles noted that the Queen's first two children Prince Charles and Princess Anne, were only two years apart. They say the Queen also would like one-year-old Prince Andrew to have a brother or sister near his own age.

Reports that the Queen wanted another child were heightened by the assigning of increased duties to Princess Alexandra and her brother, the Duke of Kent, both of whom will represent the Queen overseas this year.

Princess Margaret has not been mentioned frequently in plans for the royal family, but court circles said the Queen believes her 30-year-old sister may wish to have her own family.

Queen Elizabeth marked her birthday with a family party Friday night.

Smith To Attend Chamber Meet In Baton Rouge

West Monroe Chamber of Commerce Manager Eugene Smith yesterday disclosed plans to attend the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Association of Louisiana Chambers of Commerce, set for May 8-9 in Baton Rouge.

Invitations to attend normally are extended to managers and presidents of each of the 33 Chambers of Commerce located throughout the state, Smith said.

Headquartering at the Capitol Hotel, the program this year is expected to draw around 100 conferees.

Smith did not indicate if he would be accompanied to the capital by West Monroe President Mack Owens, or if Owens was planning to attend.

Kennedy Gets Nixon Support In Cuban Crisis

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon said Friday night he had told President Kennedy this week that he would support him in the Cuban situation even to commitment of American armed forces.

The former vice president said that as a private citizen he would back Kennedy in such a move if the President considered it necessary to "stop the build-up of the Communist beachhead in Cuba." Nixon said he so informed Kennedy in a White House conversation Thursday.

Cuban Data On Americans Hard To Get

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is having a hard time obtaining information about exactly what has happened to Americans in Cuba since the start of the week when anti-Castro forces launched an invasion.

Officials said Friday they have been releasing all facts reported by the Swiss Embassy in Havana, but the information available to the embassy has been scanty and fragmentary.

The United States has no diplomatic representation in Havana, having broken relations last December. Switzerland represents U.S. interests in Havana. Czechoslovakia represents Cuban interests in the United States.

State Department press officer Lincoln White told a news conference that Switzerland was taking up with the Castro government the cases of all Americans detained or jailed. Such action usually means inquiry as to their precise status, where they are held, what, if any, reason there is for holding them and how they are being treated.

White said the department had word from the Swiss government that Henry Raymont, United Press-International correspondent who was previously reported jailed, was not jailed, but was held in detention.

Two reports from Switzerland Thursday said three U.S. journalists had been arrested and another 20 Americans had been reported arrested. In that connection, the Swiss reported they were taking up the matter with the Castro government.

French Report Soviet Injured In Space Flight

PARIS (UPI) — A French radio correspondent said Friday that a Soviet spaceman made a flight before the successful one of Yuri Gagarin and returned incurably injured.

Edouard Bobrovski, who has just returned from Moscow said the son of Soviet aircraft designer Sergei Ilyushin, Serge, made the trip three or four days before Gagarin and came back "having completely lost his sense of balance."

Bobrovski said Ilyushin was so badly injured that there was no hope of his being cured.

The correspondent said his report was based on "entirely reliable" sources in Moscow.

The London Daily Worker reported a space flight the day before Gagarin's flight, but later said the report was erroneous.

The Worker said the man orbited the earth three times, which was also in the version reported by Bobrovski.

Negro Child, 2, Is Injured In Two-Car Crash

The child, identified as Della May Reed of 1700 Grammont St. in Monroe, suffered a cut on the left leg and was carried to a private doctor for treatment.

The wreck was one of seven traffic accidents in Monroe Friday, but was the only one in which there was an injury reported.

Driver of the car in which the child was riding was identified as Bennie Reed, 47, of 1700 Grammont St., Monroe, who was cited by Monroe police for following too closely.

Driver of the other vehicle, a pickup truck, was identified as Dennis Neal, 60, Negro, of route one, Monroe.

Czech Machinegun Holds Back Invaders In Cuba

EDITOR'S NOTE: Pedro Bonetti of the UPI Havana bureau was one of a group of newsmen taken by the Cuban government on a tour of the invasion zone in Las Villas Province. His dispatch was telephoned to New York.

By PEDRO BONETTI
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's army officers Friday credited a multiple-barreled Czech machinegun with beating back the invaders who landed in Las Villas Province Monday.

They said militiamen using the weapon — originally designed for anti-aircraft use — held back the invaders until reinforcements could be rushed from Havana to meet the attack. The gun, known as the quadro boca, also shot down the invaders' aircraft.

It was a bloody battle for the beachhead on the Bay of Cochinos and losses were heavy on both sides. Many militiamen drowned in the coastal swamps when they tried to escape the invaders in the early stages of the attack.

The casualties were especially high on the government's side. No figures were announced, but hospitals and clubs in the nearby towns were filled with wounded. Sixty bodies were buried Thursday in a common grave. I saw some bodies still unburied.

A Cuban army officer said the Castro men were "more Christian than they . . . we buried their dead ones in wooden coffins while our own boys were buried where they fell."

The officers said the invaders took their wounded and dead back to their ships whenever possible.

They said the high number of casualties was explained by the fact the militiamen had to fight in the open over roads that go over the swamp, where the men could be picked off. They said the rebels used tanks and recoilless rifles placed in strategic places and "wounded and killed many at one time."

Government officials expressed surprise at some actions of the invaders. They said the invaders picked up 180 workers and several volunteer teachers, mostly teen-agers assigned to teach illiterates in that zone, and treated them well and released them later.

Several captured girls were reported ordered to take off their clothes, leaving on only a brassieres and panties, and then sent out of the combat zone because "this is no place for you."

The Cuban army singled out 11-year-old Haroldo Massone as one of the heroes. It said he escaped from the invaders and joined a Cuban patrol to fight alongside men. The boy, armed with a Belgian semiautomatic rifle, captured a revolver and a knife from one prisoner.

Haroldo told newsmen visiting the area he saw four Sherman tanks debarked by the invaders but that others fell in the water and were destroyed. He estimated 500 invaders. Medics captured with the invaders estimated 500 to 1,000.

The Cuban officers said Castro directed the battle personally and moved forward with his men. They said Castro was still in the battle zone Friday talking with prisoners, including a man who killed a militiaman while trying to escape to the United States.

Militiamen asked Castro if they should take out the prisoner and shoot him and Castro replied, "No, but please take him out of my sight," they reported.

They said one of Castro's aides, a Captain Carvo, was killed at his side during the battle.

Castro officers said most of the invaders were members of wealthy families who lost all their holdings under revolutionary law. One man writing down the names of the prisoners said it was like reading the membership roll of the Havana Yacht Club.

Among those captured was Jose Miro Torra, son of Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, chief of the exiled anti-Castro forces. Cuban newspaper men taunted him, "your father was a Yankee monopoly lawyer."

"My father represented the Cuban Telephone Co. only in one case," he replied. "For that he cannot be branded as a representative of monopoly. All of his life he was a criminal lawyer and almost everyone says he was a very good one, too."

PITY THE SNORER'S FAMILY

Snoring is a noisy habit that bothers the listeners more than the responsible party. The rest of the family suffers but not always in silence. Humor came to the rescue of one wife, who said, "At least, I know he is alive."

The snorer may cause such a commotion he awakens even himself. But this is the exception; many of these men and women are able to sleep thru thunderous blasts that vibrate the entire house. Infants and children snore occasionally but the tendency is more common after age 30.

Snoring is more than noisy breathing while asleep. It is a roughened, low pitched sound produced by vibrating tissues in the throat and nose. The soft palate, uvula, and tonsil pillars wave in the breeze like a flag in a strong wind. Relaxation of cheeks and lips adds to the tune and the same can be said of boggy nasal membranes.

The physician is consulted occasionally by a loud snorer, usually at the insistence of the spouse. Not much can be done except to explore the nasal passageways for obstructions that encourage mouth breathing.

Many snore only when lying on the back. The jaw muscles relax, allowing the mouth to drop open. This fact has led to the production of many mechanical contraptions and ideas to cure snoring. One suggestion is to tape a tennis ball to the small of the back; the sleeper awakens on rolling over. Another remedy is the head halter that holds the mouth shut. The Snore Stopper, a patented device, is inserted over the teeth to block off the opening of the mouth.

These gadgets rarely are successful and my best advice is to have the culprit sleep in a separate room or get the innocent family a set of earmuffs or noise stoppers.

INFLAMED GALL BLADDER

N. W. writes: Are the antibiotics helpful in gall bladder infection?

REPLY

Yes, when the structure is acutely inflamed and the victim has high fever, chills, and severe pain. Antibiotics are not recommended in the more common chronic infections.

CHOKING ON EATING

A. J. D. writes: Twice recently I started to suffocate on a piece of meat. What is the best thing to do in a case like this?

RELY

Don't panic — muster your strength and give a good cough. Lowering the head and chest (over a chair or divan) often helps. Slapping the back is a time-honored remedy but it backfires occasionally by allowing the piece of food to settle in the lungs. Meanwhile, find out why you choke so frequently.

CROOKED SHOES

Mrs. P. W. writes: Our 13 month old daughter's shoes are crooked. The tops curve in and are misshapen. Is this serious enough to see a doctor?

REPLY

If the toes curl up, the shoes may be too short. But you should see a physician because it is difficult to picture the shape of the shoe from your description.

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS

T. W. writes: Isn't 34 young to have rheumatoid arthritis?

REPLY

No. This type of arthritis is partial to men and women in early and mid-adult life.

EAR HAIRS

A. A. writes: I have hairy ears. I clip the hairs periodically but wonder if permanent removal is possible.

REPLY

Yes, but it may be too difficult or expensive to remove each hair by electrolysis. Have the barber cut them when you get your haircut. On the other hand, hairy ears are said to be a sign of virility in men. Do you still want them removed?

Cardona Not To Ask U.S. Military Aid

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, leader of the anti-Castro Cuban invasion, called Friday for hemisphere-wide "material and moral support" against "the Moscow-Havana-Peiping axis" but spurned any suggestion of military aid from the United States.

Miro Cardona said his forces had received no military aid from the U.S. and would not ask for any.

"The United States should not intervene militarily against the Castro regime," he told a heavily-guarded news conference. "I have said repeatedly this is a Cuban fight by Cubans against Cubans."

He pleaded emphatically, however, for "material and moral support" from the United States and all the nations of Latin America for his continuing struggle.

"Cuba cannot be permitted to be the abandoned Hungary of America," he said. "Either Cuba throws off the yoke that oppresses it with the coordinated force of all the nations of this continent or this hemisphere will succomb inevitebly before the thrust of the Soviet empire. Either we destroy the Moscow-Havana-Peiping axis or they will destroy us, one by one."

The leader sent a cabled appeal to Pope John XXIII asking him to intercede immediately through the International Red Cross to halt the executions of prisoners taken by Castro forces. He also sent pleas to the presidents of 11 Latin American countries asking them to act promptly to halt Castro's actions "in violation of human rights and international treaties."

Mira Cardona said that last Monday's invasion had been heavily hit by Castro forces using Soviet Mig fighter planes and tanks, inflicting "a grave reverse to Cuba's cause." But he said the underground uprising that accompanied landings still was in progress and added:

"The majority of those who landed are actually fighting at the present time."

The 59-year-old Miro Cardona who served as Castro's first premier and later was named Cuban ambassador to the U.S., confirmed that his son, Jose Miro Torras, had been captured by Castro's army. He appealed for pressure to be brought on Castro urging him to refrain from the mass slaughter of prisoners.

He reported that at a secret meeting with President Kennedy earlier this week, he asked the President to appeal to the International Red Cross, the Organization of American States and the nations around the world to prevent the mass slaughter of prisoners captured by Castro's forces.

Judge Orders N.O. Assistant Attorney Jailed

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Municipal traffic judge Bernard J. Fonseca Friday ordered asst. city attorney Herbert J. Garon jailed for contempt of court following an angry exchange over administration of traffic tickets.

Garon was sentenced to 10 hours in Orleans Parish prison and fined $10.

He insisted persons who want to plead guilty to traffic violations be allowed to do so in the violations bureau. He said they could then pay their fines and leave.

Judge Fonseca denied Garon's motion permitting this.

Fonseca ruled that persons with moving violations may pay the fines in the violations bureau, but all violators must also appear before him on their trial date.

Other assistant city attorneys were seeking Garon's release on a writ of habeas corpus. Garon waited in the prisoner's dock in the courtroom.

Phouma Plans Laos Return In Few Days

MOSCOW (AP)—Former Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma, a self-exiled neutralist, said Friday he will return to his country Tuesday or Wednesday, "which will coincide with the start of a cease-fire" in Laos.

Britain and the Soviet Union were expected to issue a joint cease-fire appeal within 48 hours but Souvanna's statement was the strongest indication yet that East and West had decided on a date for calling a halt to fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told diplomats a compromise had been reached on the sequence of a cease-fire and a peace conference, which made it possible to publish a truce appeal.

Souvanna, though he has lived in Cambodia since fleeing Vientiane in December 1960, has been a central figure in moves to end the Laotian civil war. He is recognized by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels and the Communist bloc as Lao's legal head of government.

He said in an interview Friday he will spend two or three days in Laos, adding: "During that time I believe an effective government can be created."

Souvanna said he did not know whether he would be premier in a government thus created and declined to speculate on which parties would get which Cabinet posts. But he indicated he has in mind a coalition government, with Cabinet representation for all parties, including that of U.S.-backed Premier Boun Oum and the Communist-backed Pathet Lao.

Souvanna said he was convinced the Soviet Union is ready to accept a neutral Laos. Souvanna added that Laos, lying between the Communist bloc and what he called the "Occidental bloc," has to be neutral because neither side will accept it as a zone of influence for the other.

State CPA'S Set For Annual Meet From May 3 To 5

Louisiana certified public accountants are making plans to attend the annual meeting of their organization at Alexandria May 3-5.

The organization, the Society of Louisiana Certified Public Accountants, will meet at the Hotel Bentley.

Speakers include Louis H. Pillie, who is recognized in accounting. He is president of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Pillie lives in New Orleans.

In addition, several members of the institute staff will attend the meeting and a number of technical papers of current interest to the profession will be presented.

Highlight of the meeting will be a pig roast at Marksville.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Volz, a native of Warren County, Indiana, was farming in Alberta, Canada, when World War I broke out. He joined the Canadian army in 1916 and was wounded by shrapnel at Ypres, Belgium. He was discharged in 1918.

Phouma Plans Laos Return In Few Days

MOSCOW (AP)—Former Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma, a self-exiled neutralist, said Friday he will return to his country Tuesday or Wednesday, "which will coincide with the start of a cease-fire" in Laos.

Britain and the Soviet Union were expected to issue a joint cease-fire appeal within 48 hours but Souvanna's statement was the strongest indication yet that East and West had decided on a date for calling a halt to fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told diplomats a compromise had been reached on the sequence of a cease-fire and a peace conference, which made it possible to publish a truce appeal.

Souvanna, though he has lived in Cambodia since fleeing Vientiane in December 1960, has been a central figure in moves to end the Laotian civil war. He is recognized by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels and the Communist bloc as Lao's legal head of government.

He said in an interview Friday he will spend two or three days in Laos, adding: "During that time I believe an effective government can be created."

Souvanna said he did not know whether he would be premier in a government thus created and declined to speculate on which parties would get which Cabinet posts. But he indicated he has in mind a coalition government, with Cabinet representation for all parties, including that of U.S.-backed Premier Boun Oum and the Communist-backed Pathet Lao.

Souvanna said he was convinced the Soviet Union is ready to accept a neutral Laos. Souvanna added that Laos, lying between the Communist bloc and what he called the "Occidental bloc," has to be neutral because neither side will accept it as a zone of influence for the other.

State CPA'S Set For Annual Meet From May 3 To 5

Louisiana certified public accountants are making plans to attend the annual meeting of their organization at Alexandria May 3-5.

The organization, the Society of Louisiana Certified Public Accountants, will meet at the Hotel Bentley.

Speakers include Louis H. Pillie, who is recognized in accounting. He is president of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Pillie lives in New Orleans.

In addition, several members of the institute staff will attend the meeting and a number of technical papers of current interest to the profession will be presented.

Highlight of the meeting will be a pig roast at Marksville.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Volz, a native of Warren County, Indiana, was farming in Alberta, Canada, when World War I broke out. He joined the Canadian army in 1916 and was wounded by shrapnel at Ypres, Belgium. He was discharged in 1918.

POLLUTION CONTROL

Oilmen Warned Of Intervention

The warning was sounded by Kenneth Biglane, director of the Louisiana Stream Control Commission, and Henry Wolbrette, executive vice president of the Louisiana Chemical Association.

Wolbrette, who said he studied the bills in Washington several days ago, explained that the Blatnik Bill offered $500,000 to municipalities for the construction of sewer disposal plants.

But he pointed out that the Kerr Bill called for only [illegible].

However, both Wolbrette and Biglane, who also has made a study of the legislation, warned that while the appropriation to [illegible] was good, the bills contained clauses providing for federal intervention in pollution matters.

"This is exactly what I have been warning you about," Biglane said.

He emphasized that Louisiana could have used Public Law 660, which prohibits one state from polluting the stream of another, in the Ouachita River case.

"But I didn't and Arkansas has taken [illegible] to clean up the Ouachita River," Biglane explained.

They appeared at the pollution committee meeting of the Louisiana-Arkansas Division of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Other speakers included [illegible] Yancey, a [illegible] director of the Louisiana Wild Life & Fisheries Commission, and Sam Hanna, Morning World staff.

Yancey explained the pollution problems that the state has in the Louisiana marshes as well as [illegible] state streams. Hanna spoke on pollution as sportsmen see it.

Chairman Nathan Beard of New Orleans presided while the meeting was coordinated by Vernon Dodds, a member of the association's public relations staff.

Association members were present from Louisiana and Arkansas. The meeting was held at the Holiday Inn.

Local Musical Group Records

The Roller Coasters, a six piece dance band made up of Northeast Louisiana State College students, have made their first record a few weeks back.

"Rimshot," the name of the tune, has gone over so well, in fact, that the combo already has been engaged by the same firm for two more numbers.

And that's not all, according to John Schexnaidre, a member of the band and its manager.

WEST MONROE'S chief executive, chief of police and fire chief yesterday was in the hands of West Monroe High School students elected to "run the city" for one day. Students Set To Take City Reins Monday

Monroe will be governed Monday by student administrations from the three high schools in the city. The "city officials" were elected yesterday by voting machine balloting at Neville, Ouachita and St. Matthews high schools.

The election was held in connection with annual Student Government Day, sponsored by the Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce. Winners will take office in ceremonies at city hall Monday. They will also attend the Jaycee luncheon at the Frances Hotel, at which time Mayor W. L. Howard will speak.

There were two candidates for each of the seven offices from the schools, whose week - long campaigns were climaxed by yesterday's voting machine. Students received instruction on the operation of the voting machine, then were allowed to cast their ballot.

Serving as mayor from Neville will be Richard Greene, commissioner of finance and utilities will be Jane Loker, commissioner of streets and parks will be Jim Huggins, the office of city judge will be filled by Jan West, chief of police will be Freddy Howell, the fire chief will be Courtland Gray and city marshall will be Bev Franks.

The slate of officials from Ouachita are mayor, Tommy Beaube; commissioner of finance and utilities, Johnny Roach; commissioner of streets and parks, Cherry Tousinau; city judge, Herbert Perry; chief of police, Carolyn Hart; fire chief, Bruce Davidson and city marshall, Clifford Benson.

Representing St. Matthews will be Charles Biggar, mayor; Paul Graham, commissioner of finance and utilities; Donnie Elias, commissioner of streets and parks; Lewis Stone, city judge; Victor Zagone, chief of police; Buddy Embanato, fire chief and Mary Martin, city marshall.

Dr. Franklin On Institute Staff Of Radiobiology

Dr. Beryl Franklin, assistant professor of biology at Northeast Louisiana State College, has been selected as a participant in the Summer Institute of Radiobiology at the University of Michigan, it was announced by Dr. Aaron Seamster, chairman, department of biology.

The Institute is financed jointly by the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Science Foundation and will begin on June 26 and run for eight weeks, ending on August 18, and will be slanted toward the teaching of techniques in using radioactive materials in research and as a teaching aid.

Dr. Franklin's field of specialization in physiological zoology slanted toward the study of endocrine glands with particular reference to the physiology or endocrinology of reproduction. He has published papers in this field of research and the training acquired at the Institute will enable him to further his research by using radioisotopes in determining target glands or specific action of harmones administered to experimental animals.

Dr. Franklin joined the biology faculty last September. Before coming to Northeast, he had taught at Louisiana State University, Del Mar College in Texas, Ohio State University, and Kentucky Wesleyan University.

Bottle Is Thrown Through Window

Rosie Lee Cole of 700 Bryant Street reported to Monroe police a bottle was thrown through a window of a car she was driving, authorities said Friday.

Police said the woman reported that the bottle was thrown from a red pickup truck.

Dr. Franklin On Institute Staff Of Radiobiology

Dr. Beryl Franklin, assistant professor of biology at Northeast Louisiana State College, has been selected as a participant in the Summer Institute of Radiobiology at the University of Michigan, it was announced by Dr. Aaron Seamster, chairman, department of biology.

The Institute is financed jointly by the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Science Foundation and will begin on June 26 and run for eight weeks, ending on August 18, and will be slanted toward the teaching of techniques in using radioactive materials in research and as a teaching aid.

Dr. Franklin's field of specialization in physiological zoology slanted toward the study of endocrine glands with particular reference to the physiology or endocrinology of reproduction. He has published papers in this field of research and the training acquired at the Institute will enable him to further his research by using radioisotopes in determining target glands or specific action of harmones administered to experimental animals.

Dr. Franklin joined the biology faculty last September. Before coming to Northeast, he had taught at Louisiana State University, Del Mar College in Texas, Ohio State University, and Kentucky Wesleyan University.

Your Woman's World

Saturday, April 22, 1961 Monroe Morning World, Monroe, Louisiana One-B

Miss Ginger Thrasher Complimented With Tea

Miss Ginger Thrasher, whose marriage to Ike McMullen will be solemnized May 19 in the First Baptist Church of Monroe, was complimented with a festive tea on Saturday, April 15. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thrasher, and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. McMullen.

Mrs. Pauline Fife and Mrs. Elizabeth Dixon were hostesses for the gala party in the Fife home, 123 Avant, West Monroe between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock.

Mrs. David Fluitt, grandmother of the prospective groom, greeted guests at the door and invited them into the reception rooms where they were received by Mrs. Fife, Mrs. Dixon, the honoree, Mrs. Thrasher, and Mrs. McMullen.

For the occasion, the honoree was wearing a champagne silk dress with brocade trim and bone accessories. She was presented with an orchid corsage.

Centering the tea table was a miniature bride and groom surrounded by pink and white carnations and stock, accented by fern and carnations placed at intervals around the table. Miss Glenda Thrasher, sister of the bride - elect, presided at the tea service, while Miss Ann Hobgood served. Assisting at the gift table was Miss Kay Richardson.

Among those calling between the appointed hours were: Mrs. A. A. Wallace, Mrs. I. R. Bryan, Mrs. Jesse Heard, Mrs. Fannie Thrasher, Mrs. Bonney Thrasher Mrs. Bonnie Hales, Mrs. Mildred Schrader, Mrs. Delinda Gillham, Mrs. F. C. McMullen, Mrs. W. W. McMullen, Mrs. Esther Carter, Mrs. Paula Milton, Mrs. Jewel Primm, Mrs. Leon Walter Fife, Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, Mrs. Gertie B. Landrum, Mrs. A. T. White, Mrs. Evelyn Chilton, Mrs. Jewel La Pietra, Mrs. Howard Sheppard, Mrs. Roy C. Welch Sr., Miss Vivian Fluitt, Mrs. Ruth Hundley, Mrs. Maudie Fant, and Mrs. James Richardson.

Pezant-Sandlin Wedding Rehearsal Followed By Party Friday Evening

The country home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummins on Garrett Road was decorated with arrangements of spring flowers for the dinner party last evening, April 21, following the wedding rehearsal for Miss Mary Letha Sandlin and Edwin Joseph Pezant. The marriage will be solemnized today at 10 a.m. in St. Paschal's Catholic

White roses in white baskets were used down the dining table in the large room. At each guest's place was a tiny swan filled with mints. Crystal candlesticks with silver candles and white iris appointed the buffet. Magnolia blossoms and leaves made a mass arrangement on the mantel.

Invited to share the occasion with the hosts and honored couple were Mr. and Mrs. Troy Sandlin, and Mr. and Mrs. David Pezant, parents of the couple; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Aehle, Mrs. Ralph Jolissaint, Miss Shirley Jolissaint, Mr. Guy Coats, Miss Joline Buttitia, Mr. Henry Holdiness, Mrs. Thelma Menuet, Miss Stevie Menuet, Miss Lambert, Mrs. Napoli, Father Jordan Schell, Brother Odo Sandlin, Mr. Pat Faucheau, Mr. Enol Lasseglne, Mr. David Sandlin, Mr. Guy Thomas, Master Pat Lee, Miss Ann Mathieu, Miss Margaret Sandlin, and Mrs. Lenora Pierce.

Miss Hayes Given Party In Start

A nine o'clock breakfast was given in the recreation room of the Start Baptist Church to honor Miss Sue Hayes, bride - elect of the Rev. Doyle Adams. Mrs. Leon Boughton and members of the Young Women's Auxiliary were hostesses for the nuptial affair on Saturday, April 15.

The table, covered with a white cloth, was centered with an arrangement of sweetheart roses. The honoree was presented a corsage of sweetheart roses and a gift by the hostesses.

Among those present to share the occasion with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. E. L. Hayes; and sister, Miss Patricia Hayes; Miss Shirley Dark, Miss Betty Lou Colvin, Miss Shirley Hughes, Miss Bonnie Boughton, Miss Janice Fuller, and Miss Delores Futch.

Literary Club Meets With Mrs. Gibbs

Mrs. T. E. Gibbs was hostess to members of the Monroe Literary Club in her home on Frances Place on Wednesday, April 12. Mrs. Arthur Kite presided over the business session.

The program for the meeting was given by Mrs. Harry E. Dixon Jr., a club member. She read a very interesting article entitled "How To Rub Shoulders With Happiness."

A dessert course was served after the program to the following members: Mrs. W. D. Bates, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. M. J. Cooper, Mrs. W. C. Hines, Jr., Mrs. Barney Pate, Mrs. Morris Phillips, Mrs. H. G. Reece, Mrs. Garland Shell, Mrs. J. W. Womack, Mrs. Joe Monroe, Mrs. Ed Hamilton, Mrs. John Kitchingham, Mrs. William Wells, Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Kite, Mrs. Gibbs, and Miss Fred Plitt.

Airlines Plan June 1 Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Air Lines officially requested the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Friday to transfer Capital's routes to UAW as of June 1.

United President W. A. Patterson, in a letter to the CAB, said his company has accepted the conditions the CAB attached to the merger of the two airlines.

The conditions involved transfer of assets and liabilities, protection of the seniority, wage and employment rights of both Capital and United employes, and certain limitations on United service in Pennsylvania to protect Mohawk and Allegheny Airlines.

Patterson told the CAB that Capital also accepted the conditions. He said that before June 1, United will advise the CAB of the steps it will take to complete the merger.

Homemakers Ask And Betty Pepis Answers

Q: Our panelled den and living room adjoin. Vinyl in a neutral shade is used on floors throughout. I have Early American furniture in the den and contemporary in the living room. I have a large braided rug in browns, rust and green; two off - white leather chairs, white lamps, mahogany lamp tables; and would like white figured couch and two red velvet chairs. I would like off-white walls and rug in the living room. What colors for draperies and two sofas?

A. These rooms should be alike in color, if not in furniture or mood. Set a clean, crisp mood in the living room with off-white walls, pale beige rug and celadon green sofas. Draperies might be the same pale yellow - green or pale gold. Sofa pillows and small accessories in rust and sharp green. Rather than red velvet on the den chairs, use a rust color fabric, something less formal, perhaps tweedy fabric. Pick up green accents from living room to use here for ashtrays, sofa pillows on white self - patterned sofa.

Q: I want new upholstery and I want something with zing. I must keep pale pink walls and gray carpet. I have white lamps and shades, fruitwood tables and a beautiful lake view through a large window; several large plants in the room. What color sofa chair and love seat?

A: White is classically fresh and dramatic, and with the new silicone fabric treatments (such as "Scotchgard") it is also practical. Have sofa and chair in a tweedy white fabric. Cover the love seat in a pronounced color, sunny yellow perhaps. Have sofa pillows in bright chrome yellow and Siamese pink. With the natural colors of the plants and outdoors, the neutrals you already have, the effect will be gay and bright, rather than overpowering.

Q: Sofa and chair are mauve, chair is beige with shading of orange and brown; beige draperies and rug; rose beige walls. What color for occasional chair and sofa pillows?

Q: My kitchen has white block ceiling, confetti linoleum on white ground, cabinets and lower walls in light birch. What color would you suggest for wall covering and curtains? Kitchen is not very light.

Gay Luncheon Given For Garden Club

Members of College Heights Garden Club were entertained at a spring luncheon held at The Embers on Thursday, April 13. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Paul Newcomer, Mrs. Paul Keller Jr., Mrs. J. E. Braley, and Mrs. H. W. Morton.

A short business session was held, during which time an impressive installation service for the incoming officers was directed by Mrs. J. V. Jones. Officers for the 1961-62 club year include the following: President, Mrs. M. L. Johnson; vice - president, Mrs. Amy Moses; secretary, Mr. B. Frank Maxwell; treasurer, Mrs. John L. Tolar.

Mrs. Johnson announced that College Heights Garden Club had volunteered to be hostess for the Red Cross party for senior citizens on April 19. Mrs. J. C. Loftin was named chairman for the event. Also the members of this club volunteered to make arrangements for the convention for retarded children to be held in Monroe on April 28 and 29.

A trip to Hodges Gardens in Many, will be an event to look forward to in place of the next meeting for May. A bus has been chartered for the occasion, and those interested in making the trip along with members are asked to contact Mrs. Paul Newcomer at telephone number FA 2-7553.

Members present were: Mrs. E. M. Baber, Mrs. J. E. Braley, Mrs. M. L. Johnson, Mrs. J. V. Jones, Mrs. Paul Keller, Jr., Mrs. R. J. Lee, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. B. Frank Maxwell, Mrs. H. W. Morton, Mrs. Amy Moses, Mrs. Paul Newcomer, Mrs. H. F. Sheppard, Mrs. J. L. Seidenspinner Jr., Mrs. John L. Tolar, Mrs. L. M. Frey Sr., and Mrs. C. L. Mason.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Going Steady With Boy Overseas Causes Problem

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: When I was 19 I fell in love with a married man. We went together five years before his wife would give him a divorce.

We've been married 15 months and our baby is two months old. He is colicky and cries a lot. My husband says his other children never cried at night and he doesn't see why this one has to. He finds fault with my housekeeping and says he's not used to living in an untidy house. He knew when we were going together that I never cared for housework but he said "then" it didn't matter.

Yesterday he made a dirty crack about my having lost my figure and this really hurt. After all the baby is only two months old.

The worst part is that he talks in his sleep and called me by his ex-wife's name and talks to his children. I am very unhappy and I'm afraid he is, too. What happened to the most exciting love affair in the whole world —NAMELESS

Dear Nameless: It was legalized.

You were a lovely dessert but not substantial enough for the main course.

What you two thought was love was just a chemical reaction to the excitement of sneaking around.

The difficult business of building a life as man and wife is much more demanding than sipping wine and holding hands in a dimly-lit rendezvous. Marriage demands maturity. Running around demands only time and energy. The shoddy condition of your present situation proves that neither of you are equal to it—at least not together.

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend is stationed in Germany. We were going steady before he left and he promised to be true to me. I'm wearing his high school ring on a chain around my neck and I'm not accepting dates with other fellows.

In almost every letter he tells me about a different Fraulein he is taking out just for the heck of it. If this isn't dating, what is? I have an idea he is having more fun than he's entitled to.

He's pretty clever about not being too complimentary because he knows I'm a little jealous. He writes that the girls are overweight and overdressed, but he still has a date every weekend. What shall I do —BURNT UP

Dear Burnt: The Frauleins may be overweight and overdressed but they are also overthere.

Since you aren't engaged he is under no moral obligation to spend all his time in museums and old castles. Trying to go steady with a fellow overseas is for the birds—the cuckoos, that is.

Write and tell him he needn't knock the Frauleins just because he's feeling guilty. Encourage him to enjoy their company and tell him that you are dating, too. Then go ahead and date.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Old-fashioned Mother:" Pajama parties are great fun for teenagers, but why in a hotel? Don't the girls have homes? Offer yours and borrow blankets for the floor if there's a shortage of beds.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Watched Too Closely": Your parents aren't punishing you for your sister's mistake. They're just making sure "they" don't make the same mistake twice. You can prove yourself trustworthy by behaving in a responsible way. I guarantee it.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you read "Ann Landers'" booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Ginger Thrasher Complimented With Tea

Miss Ginger Thrasher, whose marriage to Ike McMullen will be solemnized May 19 in the First Baptist Church of Monroe, was complimented with a festive tea on Saturday, April 15. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thrasher, and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. McMullen.

Mrs. Pauline Fife and Mrs. Elizabeth Dixon were hostesses for the gala party in the Fife home, 123 Avant, West Monroe between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock.

Mrs. David Fluitt, grandmother of the prospective groom, greeted guests at the door and invited them into the reception rooms where they were received by Mrs. Fife, Mrs. Dixon, the honoree, Mrs. Thrasher, and Mrs. McMullen.

For the occasion, the honoree was wearing a champagne silk dress with brocade trim and bone accessories. She was presented with an orchid corsage.

Centering the tea table was a miniature bride and groom surrounded by pink and white carnations and stock, accented by fern and carnations placed at intervals around the table. Miss Glenda Thrasher, sister of the bride - elect, presided at the tea service, while Miss Ann Hobgood served. Assisting at the gift table was Miss Kay Richardson.

Among those calling between the appointed hours were: Mrs. A. A. Wallace, Mrs. I. R. Bryan, Mrs. Jesse Heard, Mrs. Fannie Thrasher, Mrs. Bonney Thrasher Mrs. Bonnie Hales, Mrs. Mildred Schrader, Mrs. Delinda Gillham, Mrs. F. C. McMullen, Mrs. W. W. White, Mrs. Evelyn Chilton, Mrs. Jewel La Pietra, Mrs. Howard Sheppard, Mrs. Roy C. Welch Sr., Miss Vivian Fluitt, Mrs. Ruth Hundley, Mrs. Maudie Fant, and Mrs. James Richardson.

Pezant-Sandlin Wedding Rehearsal Followed By Party Friday Evening

The country home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummins on Garrett Road was decorated with arrangements of spring flowers for the dinner party last evening, April 21, following the wedding rehearsal for Miss Mary Letha Sandlin and Edwin Joseph Pezant. The marriage will be solemnized today at 10 a.m. in St. Paschal's Catholic

White roses in white baskets were used down the dining table in the large room. At each guest's place was a tiny swan filled with mints. Crystal candlesticks with silver candles and white iris appointed the buffet. Magnolia blossoms and leaves made a mass arrangement on the mantel.

Invited to share the occasion with the hosts and honored couple were Mr. and Mrs. Troy Sandlin, and Mr. and Mrs. David Pezant, parents of the couple; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Aehle, Mrs. Ralph Jolissaint, Miss Shirley Jolissaint, Mr. Guy Coats, Miss Joline Buttitia, Mr. Henry Holdiness, Mrs. Thelma Menuet, Miss Stevie Menuet, Miss Lambert, Mrs. Napoli, Father Jordan Schell, Brother Odo Sandlin, Mr. Pat Faucheau, Mr. Enol Lassegline, Mr. David Sandlin, Mr. Guy Thomas, Master Pat Lee, Miss Ann Mathieu, Miss Margaret Sandlin, and Mrs. Lenora Pierce.

Miss Hayes Given Party In Start

A nine o'clock breakfast was given in the recreation room of the Start Baptist Church to honor Miss Sue Hayes, bride - elect of the Rev. Doyle Adams. Mrs. Leon Boughton and members of the Young Women's Auxiliary were hostesses for the nuptial affair on Saturday, April 15.

The table, covered with a white cloth, was centered with an arrangement of sweetheart roses. The honoree was presented a corsage of sweetheart roses and a gift by the hostesses.

Among those present to share the occasion with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. E. L. Hayes; and sister, Miss Patricia Hayes; Miss Shirley Dark, Miss Betty Lou Colvin, Miss Shirley Hughes, Miss Bonnie Boughton, Miss Janice Fuller, and Miss Delores Futch.

Airlines Plan June 1 Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Air Lines officially requested the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Friday to transfer Capital's routes to UAW as of June 1.

United President W. A. Patterson, in a letter to the CAB, said his company has accepted the conditions the CAB attached to the merger of the two airlines.

The conditions involved transfer of assets and liabilities, protection of the seniority, wage and employment rights of both Capital and United employes, and certain limitations on United service in Pennsylvania to protect Mohawk and Allegheny Airlines.

Patterson told the CAB that Capital also accepted the conditions. He said that before June 1, United will advise the CAB of the steps it will take to complete the merger.

Homemakers Ask And Betty Pepis Answers

Q: Our panelled den and living room adjoin. Vinyl in a neutral shade is used on floors throughout. I have Early American furniture in the den and contemporary in the living room. I have a large braided rug in browns, rust and green; two off - white leather chairs, white lamps, mahogany lamp tables; and would like white figured couch and two red velvet chairs. I would like off-white walls and rug in the living room. What colors for draperies and two sofas?

A. These rooms should be alike in color, if not in furniture or mood. Set a clean, crisp mood in the living room with off-white walls, pale beige rug and celadon green sofas. Draperies might be the same pale yellow - green or pale gold. Sofa pillows and small accessories in rust and sharp green. Rather than red velvet on the den chairs, use a rust color fabric, something less formal, perhaps tweedy fabric. Pick up green accents from living room to use here for ashtrays, sofa pillows on white self - patterned sofa.

Q: I want new upholstery and I want something with zing. I must keep pale pink walls and gray carpet. I have white lamps and shades, fruitwood tables and a beautiful lake view through a large window; several large plants in the room. What color sofa chair and love seat?

A: White is classically fresh and dramatic, and with the new silicone fabric treatments (such as "Scotchguard") it is also practical. Have sofa and chair in a tweedy white fabric. Cover the love seat in a pronounced color, sunny yellow perhaps. Have sofa pillows in bright chrome yellow and Siamese pink. With the natural colors of the plants and outdoors, the neutrals you already have, the effect will be gay and bright, rather than overpowering.

Q: Sofa and chair are mauve, chair is beige with shading of orange and brown; beige draperies and rug; rose beige walls. What color for occasional chair and sofa pillows?

Q: My kitchen has white block ceiling, confetti linoleum on white ground, cabinets and lower walls in light birch. What color would you suggest for wall covering and curtains? Kitchen is not very light.

Gay Luncheon Given For Garden Club

Members of College Heights Garden Club were entertained at a spring luncheon held at The Embers on Thursday, April 13. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Paul Newcomer, Mrs. Paul Keller Jr., Mrs. J. E. Braley, and Mrs. H. W. Morton.

A short business session was held, during which time an impressive installation service for the incoming officers was directed by Mrs. J V. Jones. Officers for the 1961-62 club year include the following: President, Mrs. M. L. Johnson; vice - president, Mrs. Amy Moses; secretary, Mr. B. Frank Maxwell; treasurer, Mrs. John L. Tolar.

Mrs. Johnson announced that College Heights Garden Club had volunteered to be hostess for the Red Cross party for senior citizens on April 19. Mrs. J. C. Loftin was named chairman for the event. Also the members of this club volunteered to make arrangements for the convention for retarded children to be held in Monroe on April 28 and 29.

A trip to Hodges Gardens in Many, will be an event to look forward to in place of the next meeting for May. A bus has been chartered for the occasion, and those interested in making the trip along with members are asked to contact Mrs. Paul Newcomer at telephone number FA 2-7553.

Members present were: Mrs. E. M. Baber, Mrs. J. E. Braley, Mrs. M. L. Johnson, Mrs. J. V. Jones, Mrs. Paul Keller, Jr., Mrs. R. J. Lee, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. B. Frank Maxwell, Mrs H. W. U.S. Medical Plan Critics Are Blasted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare (HEW), Friday attacked the American Medical Association (AMA) for labeling President Kennedy's old age health plan as "socialized medicine."

Ribicoff charged in a speech prepared for delivery to the American Society of Newspaper Editors that the AMA "is trying to make a hobgoblin out of a sound and constructive plan designed to relieve one of the major causes of economic misery in old age—the frightful costs of illness."

The secretary said that "despite the AMA claim that it 'is not crying wolf,' that is exactly what this organization is doing."

Ribicoff urged the editors to give the American people "plain, unvarnished information" about the administration's program for health insurance under the Social Security system.

Ribicoff characterized the program as an insurance plan which would operate "in much the same way as voluntary health insurance now does, only on a broader basis."

He said the American people should know that under the President's bill, every person has the right to choose his own doctor and his own hospital, that every doctor will treat his own patients exactly as he does now."

"They must know the simple [illegible]

Ribicoff [illegible] that the federal government [illegible] as far as education is concerned. He made a plea for the Kennedy program of federal aid to education which would, he said, give the states the right "to decide how much to spend to close the classroom gap and how much to use for raising teachers' salaries or for hiring more teachers."

U.S. Assigns First Of Peace Corps Teams

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy announced Friday that the first team of Peace Corps volunteers had been assigned to Tanganyika to help the newly independent African nation map and build roads.

He told his news conference that, at the request of Tanganyika, a party of 20 surveyors, four geologists and four civil engineers would provide some of the skills that country needs to speed its highway development plans.

"There is nothing more important in Tanganyika than the development of roads to open up the country," he said, "and I am delighted that some Americans have volunteered to help in this important effort."

Peace Corps officials said the team would be trained this summer and tentatively was scheduled to leave for Tanganyika next September.

The project was announced in advance of a trip by Peace Corps director R. Sargent Shriver to eight countries in Africa and southeast Asia. Shriver leaves New York Saturday for Nigeria.

Five Diplomat Nominees Win Senate Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday unanimously approved five more of President Kennedy's diplomatic nominees after brief hearings. No opposition was voiced to any of them.

The nominations now go to the Senate for confirmation.

The nominee:

U. Alexis Johnson, now ambassador to Thailand, to be deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Edward J. Sparks, now ambassador to Venezuela, to be ambassador to Uruguay.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Cutting Teeth Should Be Painless Process

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Cutting teeth, despite its hurtful-sounding verb, should, by rights, be a painless process. That it is for some babies a time of discomfort, of slight fever and of noticeable irritability argues that the child's diet is not what it should be. Also it indicates the mother's diet before its birth was not adequate.

From the very moment of conception a mother-to-be should be conscientious about providing her body with the proper nutritive material. The infant's teeth are being formed in the gums as early as the second or third month of pregnancy. It may be during this period that the mother's nausea, her capricious appetite, lead her to partake of foods which are eaten for their appetite appeal alone and not their value to her nutrition.

PROTEINS

She must make sure that she gets enough of the protein foods: meat, milk, eggs, fish and fowl, plus cooked and uncooked fruits and vegetables and whole grain cereals and bread. With this as a foundation she may cater to her desire for some of the foods which taste so good to her knowing that her own and the baby's nutritional needs are being met.

Vitamins dare not be forgotten. Vitamin D is enormously important in helping the mother's body to make the most efficient use of the minerals provided by her diet.

DRINK JUICE

Because of the need for vitamin C during the pregnant period the mother should drink a large glass of citrus fruit juice daily and also add some extra vitamin C in the form of ascorbic acid.

Every mother wants her child to have smooth, even teeth of sound structure and good color. She hopes they will be cut with a minimum of stress and discomfort. To aid in both of these objectives she should insure that her own diet is all that it should be while she carries the baby. And, of course, she then provides the infant and young child with a wholesome adequate diet.

Heredity is the only factor over which she has no control. That does, in many cases, influence the time when teeth are cut and often their enduring form.

POSTPONE LAUNCHING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A test launching of the Mercury man-in-space capsule, planned as one of the final preliminaries to a U.S. manned rocket flight, was postponed Friday until some time next week.

NUCLEAR-POWERED

Atomic Scientist Proposes 'Gopher'

WASHINGTON (AP)—An atomic scientist offered an idea Friday for a nuclear-powered "gopher" that would burrow 15 to 20 miles into the depths of the earth in the cause of science.

The gopher would be a special nuclear reactor whose heat would gradually melt its way down through rock.

Researcher William M. Adams of the Lawrence Radioation Laboratory, operated for the Atomic Energy Commission by the University of California, offered the concept in a talk at the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union.

He said previous ideas for investigating the earth's interior—such as the current "Mohole" project — all involve mechanical drilling with power supplied from the surface. Such efforts face real problems from the high temperatures and pressures that will be encountered at great depths, he said.

The "Mohole" project envisions lowering a drill through a pipe extending down more than three miles in the Pacific, and then drilling more than 2½ miles through the ocean floor—to reach the "Moho" area just beneath the crust. The advantage of ocean drilling is that the earth's crust is thinnest beneath the ocean.

Under Adams' concept, the job would be attacked on land, even though the earth's crust beneath the continents may be from 15 to 20 miles thick.

The reactor would be shaped like a needle—about a yard in diameter, and of indefinite length.

Adams said he hasn't figured out the cost of such a venture.

DEAR ABBY

Husbands Still Loyal To Friends' Ex-Spouse

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A friend of ours (let's call her Sue) recently divorced her husband (let's call him Joe) and plans to marry another man (let's call him Carl), which is their business.

We women, who have been friends of Sue's, want to have a party (husbands included) to welcome Sue and Carl into our circle.

Our husbands have known Joe for many years and this is their attitude: "If you girls want to see Sue during the day, that's fine, but out of loyalty to Joe, we don't care to 'welcome Carl into our circle.' Let Sue make a new life for herself with her new husband's friends."

DEAR FRIENDS: If your husbands don't like Carl, and don't want him around, the husband and wife party should be off. How you "keep Sue's friendship" under such circumstances is your problem.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would say a few words to those cheap, roving tomcats who will never take a girl out, but will go to bars and dances where girls are sitting alone and ask to take one home. They don't care what they take home so long as it's a girl. They rarely ask to dance with you or buy you a drink. They just look the girls over and take their pick. —DISGUSTED WITH TOMCATS

DEAR DISGUSTED: Girls who frequent bars and dances unescorted should not be insulted if a tomcat asks to take her home. (She can always say no.)

DEAR ABBY: How do you cure a man of running around the house in his undergarments in front of the children? I believe it is indecent, but when I bring it up my husband says I am only trying to start an argument. Our oldest child is 6 and she knows the difference between male and female and, in my opinion, between right and wrong better than my husband does. How can you teach a child decency and modesty when her father acts like this? I have tried every way I know. Begging, kindness and demanding. Nothing works. Please help me as this is becoming quite a problem in our home. —WIFE OF "NATURE BOY"

DEAR WIFE: I agree that children should be taught modesty and propriety by example in the home. If your husband occasionally dashes from one room to another in a state of semi-dress, don't make a big fuss about it lest you compound your problem by overemphasizing it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old boy who has a problem at home. My mother and father think I am half girl. They make me do the dishes, dust the furniture, run the vacuum cleaner and mop the bathroom and kitchen floors just like a girl would do. Do you think this is work for a boy? I would not mind doing something that would use my strength and energy . . . but this sissy kind of housework makes me feel like a girl. I can't help it if I have no sisters. How do you feel about this? —"HALF GIRL"

DEAR "HALF": You are "all" wrong. It doesn't matter what kind of work you do as long as you lighten the burden for your mother. If you think mopping floors, vacuuming and even dusting do not require "strength and energy," there is something wrong with the way you are doing it.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to "Abby", in care of News Star, and encolse a stamped, self-addressed enevolep.

Hearing Is Held At Shreveport On River Study

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The initiation to a comprehensive study for development of the Red River Valley "is considered one of the major efforts of the Davis administration." Claude Kirkpatrick, director of the Louisiana Department of Public Works, said here Friday.

Kirkpatrick was one of some 100 public officials and representatives of business and industry here to testify at a hearing about the Red River, which is being conducted by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

Col. George M. Cookson, dist. engineer at New Orleans, is presiding at the meeting. He held a similar meeting at Alexandria at which strong support was shown for the study.

The study was authorized by congress last year and would take four years to complete. Its supporters hope that it will result in recommendations for a comprehensive development of flood control, policing control, recreational facilities and reopening of navigation from the mouth of the Red River to Denison, Tex.

U.S. Medical Plan Critics Are Blasted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare (HEW), Friday attacked the American Medical Association (AMA) for labeling President Kennedy's old age health plan as "socialized medicine."

Ribicoff charged in a speech prepared for delivery to the American Society of Newspaper Editors that the AMA "is trying to make a hobgoblin out of a sound and constructive plan designed to relieve one of the major causes of economic misery in old age—the frightful costs of illness."

The secretary said that "despite the AMA claim that it 'is not crying wolf,' that is exactly what the organization is doing."

Ribicoff urged the editors to give the American people "plain, unvarnished information" about administration's program for health insurance under the Social Security system.

Ribicoff characterized the program as an insurance plan which would operate "in much the same way as voluntary health insurance now does, only on a broader basis."

He said the American people should know that under the President's bill, every person has the right to choose his own doctor and his own hospital, that every doctor will treat his own patients exactly as he does now."

"They must know the simple fact," he added, "that this legislation has nothing whatever to do with doctor bills."

Ribicoff also struck at those who claim that the federal government is trying to "take over the whole show" as far as education is concerned. He made a plea for the Kennedy program of federal aid to education which would, he said, give the states the right "to decide how much to spend to close the classroom gap and how much to use for raising teachers' salaries or for hiring more teachers."

U.S. Assigns First Of Peace Corps Teams

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Kennedy announced Friday that the first team of Peace Corps volunteers had been assigned to Tanganyika to help the newly independent African nation map and build roads.

He told his news conference that, at the request of Tanganyika, a party of 20 surveyors, four geologists and four civil engineers would provide some of the skills that country needs to speed its highway development plans.

"There is nothing more important in Tanganyika than the development of roads to open up the country," he said, "and I am delighted that some Americans have volunteered to help in this important effort."

Peace Corps officials said the team would be trained this summer and tentatively was scheduled to leave for Tanganyika next September.

The project was announced in advance of a trip by Peace Corps director R. Sargent Shriver to eight countries in Africa and southeast Asia. Shriver leaves New York Saturday for Nigeria.

Five Diplomat Nominees Win Senate Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday unanimously approved five more of President Kennedy's diplomatic nominees after brief hearings: No opposition was voiced to any of them.

The nominations now go to the Senate for confirmation.

The nominee:

U. Alexis Johnson, now ambassador to Thailand, to be deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Edward J. Sparks, now ambassador to Venezuela, to be ambassador to Uruguay.

James K. Penfield now deputy assistant secretary of state for African affairs, to be ambassador to Iceland.

John A. Calhoun to be ambassador to Chad.

James Wine, New Canaan, Pikeville, Ky., to be ambassador to Luxembourg.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Cutting Teeth Should Be Painless Process

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Cutting teeth, despite its hurtful-sounding verb, should, by rights, be a painless process. That it is for some babies a time of discomfort, of slight fever and of noticeable irritability argues that the child's diet is not what it should be. Also—it indicates the mother's diet before its birth was not adequate.

From the very moment of conception a mother-to-be should be conscientious about providing her body with the proper nutritive materials. The infant's teeth are being formed in the gums as early as the second or third month of pregnancy. It may be during this period that the mother's nausea, her capricious appetite, lead her to partake of foods which are eaten for their appetite-appeal alone and not their value to her nutrition.

PROTEINS

She must make sure that she gets enough of the protein foods; meat, milk, eggs, fish and fowl; plus cooked and uncooked fruits and vegetables and whole grain cereals and breads. With these as a foundation she may cater to her desire for some of the foods which taste so good to her knowing that her own and the baby's nutritional needs are being met.

Vitamins dare not be forgotten. Vitamin D is enormously important in helping the mother's body to make the most efficient use of the minerals provided by her diet.

DRINK JUICE

Because of the need for vitamin C during the pregnant period the mother should drink a large glass of citrus fruit juice daily and also add some extra vitamin C in the form of ascorbic acid.

Every mother wants her child to have smooth, even teeth of sound structure and good color. She hopes they will be cut with a minimum of stress and discomfort. To aid in both of these objectives she should insure that her own diet is all that it should be while she carries the baby. And, of course, she then provides the infant and young child with a wholesome adequate diet.

Heredity is the only factor over which she has no control. That does, in many cases, influence the time when teeth are cut and often their enduring form.

Your pregnancy "can" be a happy time for you. Read Mrs. Eldred's booklet, "The Mother-To-Be." To obtain it, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Deaths

Mrs. Adell Day

FERRIDAY (Special) — Funeral services will be held 11 a.m. Saturday for Mrs. Adell Day, 61, of Ferriday, who died in a Jackson Hospital Thursday following an illness of several years.

She was a resident of Ferriday for 30 years.

Services will be held at the Assembly of God Church here with the Rev. S. E. Lum, Pastor, officiating.

Interment will be in Pine Hill Cemetery under direction of Comar Funeral Home of Ferriday.

Vatican-Cuba Relations At New Low Ebb

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican circles said Friday night latest developments in the Cuban crisis may have brought relations between the Roman Catholic Church and Fidel Castro to a new low point.

Officially the Vatican remained silent on Cuba. But reports of the arrest of the Most Rev. Eduardo Boza Mazvidal, auxiliary bishop of Havana, were causing increasing concern.

If the reports prove correct, Vatican circles said, those responsible for the arrest probably would incur automatic excommunication.

The circles said such excommunication would include Castro — as chief of the Cuban government — unless there was some proof the reported arrest was made without his knowledge and against his orders.

Relations between Castro and the Vatican have been at a low point for months. The Castro regime in the past has accused Catholic priests of conspiring against it.

Perry Como's Mother Dies

CANONSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Lucia Como, 78, mother of singer Perry Como, died Friday at the home of a daughter.

The daughter, Venzie Jakubetz, said her mother died from a combination of pneumonia and a heart condition.

Mrs. Como had been bedfast since suffering a heart attack five weeks ago. She also suffered from diabetes, an ailment that resulted in amputation of one of her legs in 1959.

Como was notified of his mother's death by phone in New York where he was in rehearsal for his television show.

Mrs. Como is survived by six other children, 27 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Tear Gas Used On Mexico Mob

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police using tear gas dispersed a pro-Castro crowd of 12,000 as a group tried to burn a U.S. flag in downtown Mexico City Friday night.

Steel-helmeted police moved in when student leaders of the demonstration formed a circle around the flag and started to set fire to it.

Demonstration organizers had hoped to attract 50,000 to protest the rebel invasion of Cuba.

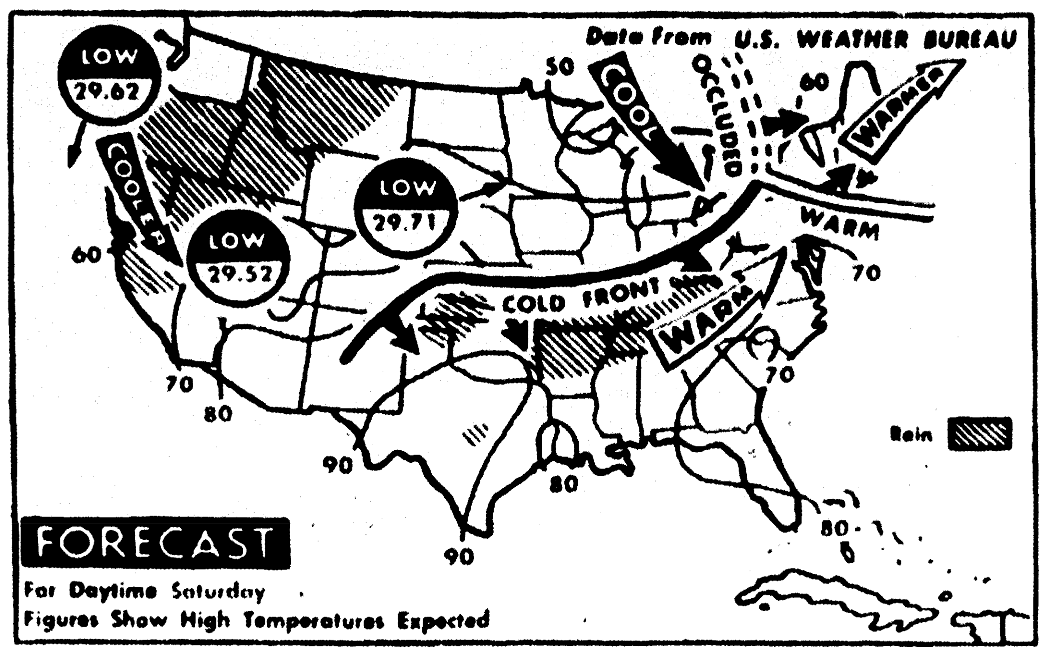
Earlier, informed sources said the wrecking of the Mexican-American Cultural Institute at Morelia Tuesday by a pro-Castro mob was instigated by officials of the Soviet Embassy here.

Gamblers Face Parish Charges

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Charges will be filed against 25 Jefferson Parish gamblers who failed to apply for licenses under a new local ordinance, parish finance director Donald Nettles announced Friday.

Nettles said that none of the gamblers listed in federal records as having Jefferson addresses applied for the licenses as required by the new parish law. The law was passed in March.

Gamblers found guilty of failing to secure the occupational license are subject to 90-day mandatory jail terms and $250 fines.



FORECAST
For Daytime Saturday
Figures Show High Temperatures Expected

SCATTERED SHOWERS or rain is forecast Saturday in much of the northern and central Plateau and along the central and southern Pacific coast. Widely scattered showers and thundershowers are expected in the Ohio and mid-Mississippi valleys and the central and southern Plains area. It will be cooler in the south central Plains and northeastern Rockies warmer in the northern Plains and middle Atlantic coast, unchanged elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map)

SOVIETS USE VACCINE

CHICAGO (UPI) — Successful Soviet use of the Sabin live polio virus vaccine in candy form was reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association Friday.

Dr. Albert B. Sabin, Cincinnati, developer of the vaccine, said Professor M.P. Chumakov, director of the Moscow Institute for Poliomyelitis Research, reported that the Soviets administered the Sabin vaccine, mainly in candy form, to 77,475,000 persons, most of them under 21 years old.

U.S. Bares Woes Of Sgt. Alvin York

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government bared Friday the financial woes of Sgt. Alvin York, the aged World War I hero whose tax debt was paid off this week through public contributions.

The Internal Revenue Service said York, a Medal of Honor winner, has only $2.25 in the bank, is burdened with heavy debts, but has an interest in more than 2,000 acres of land.

It said he reported an income of $3,483.15 in 1959.

These and other details were made public because the government's tax claim against York, 79 and bedridden, was settled Wednesday for $25,000. The money was raised through a public subscription and was turned over to IRS Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplan by Rep. Joe L. Evins, D-Tenn.

IRS had been trying to collect from York $85,442 plus accumulated interest amounting to an additional $87,155. It claimed York owed the taxes on income received from a book and a motion picture dealing with his wartime exploits.

The agency said it settled for $25,000 because "it appears to be in excess of the sum collectible from a forced sale of all the taxpayer's assets, and it gives adequate consideration to his earning capacity and future prospects."

IRS said York each month receives a veteran's pension of $135, a Social Security check for $38, and a federal payment of $10 as a Medal of Honor winner.

Honest Finder Of Cash Reaps Some Ridicule

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Douglas W. Johnson who found $240,000 in cash in the street and returned it to an armored car service, said Friday he and his family have been subjected to ridicule because of his honesty.

Johnson, 50, a self-employed janitor, said he still believes honesty is the best policy but he wishes he had never seen the money.

"I wish we'd let that money sit in the street and rot," he said. "I wish we'd thrown it down a sewer or burned it . . ."

Letters scoffing at his honesty have upset Johnson and his wife, Helen. His three sons have been targets of ridicule by some of their school mates who called their father "dumb and stupid" for returning the unmarked bills to the Brink's, Inc., armored car service.

Deaths

Mrs. Adell Day

FERRIDAY (Special) — Funeral services will be held 11 a.m. Saturday for Mrs. Adell Day, 61, of Ferriday, who died in a Jackson Hospital Thursday following an illness of several years.

She was a resident of Ferriday for 30 years.

Services will be held at the Assembly of God Church here with the Rev. S. E. Lum, Pastor, officiating.

Interment will be in Pine Hill Cemetery under direction of Comar Funeral Home of Ferriday.

Vatican-Cuba Relations At New Low Ebb

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican circles said Friday night latest developments in the Cuban crisis may have brought relations between the Roman Catholic Church and Fidel Castro to a new low point.

Officially the Vatican remained silent on Cuba. But reports of the arrest of the Most Rev. Eduardo Boza Mazvidal, auxiliary bishop of Havana, were causing increasing concern.

If the reports prove correct, Vatican circles said, those responsible for the arrest probably would incur automatic excommunication.

The circles said such excommunication would include Castro — as chief of the Cuban government — unless there was some proof the reported arrest was made without his knowledge and against his orders.

Relations between Castro and the Vatican have been at a low point for months. The Castro regime in the past has accused Catholic priests of conspiring against it.

NO MATTER HOW MUCH SPENT

Kennedy Says Hopes Dim On Reaching Moon First

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy said Friday that no matter how much is spent on the best U.S. rocket now being developed "we are still going to be second" to Russia in the race to explore the moon.

The President gave a pessimistic appraisal of this country's Saturn rocket which he said "does not offer any hope of being first to the moon." He told his news conference the administration was considering whether a program to develop nuclear or chemical rockets "offers us a better hope of making a jump forward."

Kennedy said he did not want to start spending billions of dollars without a careful scientific judgment "whether a real success can be achieved or whether we are so far behind now in this particular race we are going to be second in this decade."

The Russians hit the moon with their Lunik space rocket in September, 1959. The first Saturn, which will develop 1,500,000 pounds of thrust, is expected to become operational in 1964. A more powerful type of Saturn which would enable a manned a space craft to orbit the moon is slated for 1966.

Kennedy noted that he had requested spending an additional $126 million for the Saturn project but added:

"Saturn is still going to put us well behind. Saturn does not offer any hope of being first to the moon. Saturn is several years behind the Soviet Union, and I can just say to you that regardless of how much money we spend on Saturn we are still going to be second."

In other highlights of his news conference, Kennedy:

1. Applied a curb on any extensive questioning of the role he might have played in the unsuccessful anti-Castro invasion of Cuba. He said no useful national purpose would be served by his going beyond his speech Thursday to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The President warned in the speech that U.S. restraint in dealing with Communist penetration of the Western Hemisphere was "not inexhaustible."

2. Announced that as a spur to the economy, the Veterans Administration would pay a special insurance dividend of $230 million this summer to approximately five million veterans who are holders of GI life insurance.

3. Questioned whether the conservative John Birch Society was waging an effective anti-Communist fight. He said of members of the Birch group, "I don't feel that their judgments are based on accurate information on the kind of challenges that we face. ... I am not sure that the John Birch Society is wrestling with the real problems which are created by the Communist advance around the world."

Kennedy talked at length on the space race when a questioner suggested that he didn't seem to be pressing the U.S. program as vigorously as during the election campaign. The President was asked whether a "crash program" might not be needed.

The Chief Executive commented:

"We have to consider whether there is any program now, regardless of its cost, which offers us hopes of being pioneers in a project. It is possible to spend billions of dollars in these projects in space to the detriment of other programs and still not be successful. We are behind, as I said before, in large boosters. We have to make a determination whether there is any effort we could make in time or money which could put us first in any new area."

Kennedy noted that some suggestions for accelerating the U.S. space exploration pace might run between $20 billion and $40 billion.

He said:

"The question is whether the nuclear rocket or other kinds of chemical rockets offer us a better hope of making a jump forward but we are second and Saturn will not put us first. I want, however, to speed up if we can on Saturn, and the vice president is now leading a study to see what we ought to do in this area."

Kennedy firmly agreed that "if we can get to the moon before the Russians, we should."

At about the same time the President was holding his news conference, a top space official told a House space subcommittee that an extra $15 million he wanted for the U.S. nuclear rocket program had been denied by the administration.

Dr. Ira Abbott, director of advanced research for the National Aeronautics & Space Administration, said the appropriations request was spiked by the Budget Bureau.

U.S. Is Backed In Cuban Crisis By Philippines

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo Friday called the United States the "most generous victors in the history of all wars."

He said his country is solidly behind the fight to stop Communism.

Romulo was here to accept the USS Bowers for his country. The Navy fired a 19-gun salute, the crew lowered the American flag and transferred the ship to the Philippine crew.

Romulo called the transfer a milestone in the relations between the two countries.

Rear Adm. Frederick B. Warder and Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, deputy chief of naval operations, transferred the ship and praised the courage and devotion of the Philippine people in their fight against tyranny.

Romulo said his people are backing the United States because they know the U. S. "is not imperialistic" and has "no aggressive design."

Robbery Charge May Be Filed Against Garvin

BATON ROUGE (AP) -- Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher Jr. said Friday he would file armed robbery charges against Marc C. Garvin, already facing his second life sentence.

Pitcher said the armed robbery trial for Garvin, 23, would be set for May 15. Maximum sentence is 30 years.

A 12-man jury Thursday night found Garvin guilty without capital punishment on rape charges.

Garvin already is under life sentence in Florida for armed robbery. He is on 90-day loan from Florida to Louisiana authorities.

Negro Students Fined By Judge In Bus Incident

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — City Judge James L. Spencer convicted four Negro college students Friday on breach of peace charges for attempting to crack segregated seating on Jackson's public buses.

While the trial was in progress, police booked another Negro, Charles Patterson Jr. of Jackson, for trying to take a seat in the white section of a bus Friday afternoon.

Patterson boarded the bus on Capitol street, the city's main thoroughfare, not far from where the four were arrested for taking white-only seats Wednesday.

Spencer fined the four $100 each and gave them 30-day suspended jail sentences. It was the same punishment received by nine other Negro students in a sit-in attempt at a white municipal library last month.

There were no demonstrations in or outside the city court building during the trial.

Gill Schedules Ruston Hearing

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Conservation Commissioner James Gill Friday announced he will hold public hearings here May 21 on operations in the Minden, Ruston and Wallace Lake oilfields.

Seven of the nine hearings will be on the Minden field, concerning units and rules for sands to be designated "new pools."

One hearing will be revision of a McFearin sand unit in the Ruston field. Another will be on units for the new lake sand on the Wallace Lake field.

Duke, Duchess To Return Home

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor said Friday they would end their annual winter stay here Sunday and return to their home in Paris, by way of New York.

The Duke and Duchess, who have spent their winters here for the last 20 years, talked with newsmen at an informal press conference at the hotel where they have stayed for the past month.

Asked what she thought about Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the President, the Duchess called her "absolutely lovely."

Actor, Wife To Separate

Vagrancy

Realtor Week To Inform Of Functions

Professional services of realtors to persons buying and selling real estate will be highlighted during Realtor Week, April 23-29, according to Dean Carter, president of the Monroe-West Monroe Board of Realtors. The local organization will join with other boards across the country in celebrating the week.

The purpose of the week's activities will be to inform citizens of the role of the realtor and the Code of Ethics of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, Carter said.

"During this week we hope to impress upon the public's mind that a realtor is a member of the local board and the national board and he meets the requirements of these groups for demonstrated competence and business ethics," Carter commented.

Local Student Sings In Choir

Singing with the A Cappella Choir of the East Texas Baptist College on spring concert tour will be Charles Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Hogan, 105 Mauldin Dr. in West Monroe.

The group will perform throughout the East Texas area, from Texarkana to Houston, April 26-May 4.

Signals At Rail Crossings Seem To Be Stalled

Plans for installation of warning signals at West Monroe rail crossings appeared stalled yesterday by developments brought to light in a letter to Chamber of Commerce officials from the state Department of Highways.

Chamber Manager Gene Smith said that the letter, from A. B. Ratcliff Jr., project control engineer, disclosed refusal by the Illinois Central Railroad to pay more than 10 per cent of costs involved. Original planning called for equal contributions by the state and the railroad, covering the full expense.

Ratcliff's letter, addressed to Gene Scott, former chairman of the Chamber's highway and streets committee, also indicated that the Highways Department could not consider footing more than half the bill.

Man Draws 60 Days In Jail

A West Monroe man, Z. L. Sabrsula, 55, of 703 Lazarre St. was given 60 days in jail Friday in West Monroe City Court on a charge of being intoxicated in public.

Dot Harris, 38, of 412 Cypress Street, West Monroe, forfeited $40 bond on a charge of being intoxicated.

Two other persons were released to Texas authorities and a third was transferred to District Court.

SOME SAY NICARAGUA

Place Of Invasion Launching Disputed

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Was Nicaragua used as an operations base by the anti-Castro invaders of Cuba?

Some here say the invasion was launched by sea and air from Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua's big military base on the Caribbean coast, by Cuban exiles who stole planes from Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Others say it was launched from Corn Island, 40 miles offshore.

And just as many others shrug off the rumors as nonsense.

The highest authority in the republic, President Luis Somoza, insists Nicagarua is not and has not been involved. "These are all street rumors," he says.

Government press secretary Orlando Buitrago Mendez issued a statement denying claims that the invasion was launched from Nicaragua.

The statement said "It is a Castro lie. Nicaragua adheres to the principles of nonintervention."

One of the strongest claims came from a long-time foreign resident. He said: "Seven ocean-going ships carrying between 4,000 and 6,000 Cuban exiles left Puerto Cabezas April 10. They went from here to Guatemala where they picked up other invaders." At the same time, 27 B26s were waiting at Puerto Cabezas to strike, he added.

"There are eight more ships at Puerto Cabezas. These Cuban exiles were flown to Puerto Cabezas in U.S. Air Force Globemasters from the United States. This is the real McCoy. I got it first hand."

Other rumors that reached Managua came from air passengers returning from Puerto Cabezas.

One man said "B26 bombers with Cuban insignia have been landing and taking off from Puerto Cabezas day and night the last several days."

"We had to get special permission to leave and the base commander warned us in no uncertain terms not to say anything about what we had seen or heard," the passenger said.

"I am afraid. Don't get me in trouble," he added.

Others reported that fighter planes had been flying over the Puerto Cabezas base and apparently landing on a small air strip somewhere along the coast of Nicaragua.

None of these reports could be confirmed through authorities.

An American plantation owner who flies his own plane said: "Rumors that Corn Island was used as an invasion base are absolutely ridiculous.

"The airstrip on Corn Island is tiny and is in such condition that even Piper Cubs would have trouble landing safely there. There are no facilities of any kind, no hangars or anything."

Flights lately have been irregular. One report was that the flights were canceled to keep people away from Puerto Cabezas while the operations were going on.

But Linca officials said there have been irregular schedules for mechanical reasons.

There are no telephone communications between here and Puerto Cabezas and no road or rail connections because of mountains and jungle.

2 Negroes Booked In Simple Battery

Two Negroes were booked by Monroe police Friday on counts of simple battery. Peace warrants also were sworn out against them.

They were identified as Joe Andrew Tibbs, 38 of 806 S. 19th St., Monroe, and Clarence Hunter, 50, of 110½ S. 22nd St., Monroe. Bond for Hunter was set at $660 while Tibbs' bond was listed as $600.

NO MATTER HOW MUCH SPENT

Kennedy Says Hopes Dim On Reaching Moon First

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy said Friday that no matter how much is spent on the best U.S. rocket now being developed "we are still going to be second" to Russia in the race to explore the moon.

The President gave a pessimistic appraisal of this country's Saturn rocket which he said "does not offer any hope of being first to the moon." He told his news conference the administration was considering whether a program to develop nuclear or chemical rockets "offers us a better hope of making a jump forward."

Kennedy said he did not want to start spending billions of dollars without a careful scientific judgment "whether a real success can be achieved or whether we are so far behind now in this particular race we are going to be second in this decade."

The Russians hit the moon with their Lunik space rocket in September, 1959. The first Saturn, which will develop 1,500,000 pounds of thrust, is expected to become operational in 1964. A more powerful type of Saturn which would enable a manned a space craft to orbit the moon is slated for 1966.

Kennedy noted that he had requested spending an additional $126 million for the Saturn project but added:

"Saturn is still going to put us well behind. Saturn does not offer any hope of being first to the moon. Saturn is several years behind the Soviet Union, and I can just say to you that regardless of how much money we spend on Saturn, we are still going to be second."

In other highlights of his news conference, Kennedy:

1. Applied a curb on any extensive questioning of the role he might have played in the unsuccessful anti-Castro invasion of Cuba. He said no useful national purpose would be served by his going beyond his speech Thursday to the American Society of Newspaper Editors: The President warned in the speech that U.S. restraint in dealing with Communist penetration of the Western Hemisphere was "not inexhaustible."

2. Announced that as a spur to the economy, the Veterans Administration would pay a special insurance dividend of $230 million this summer to approximately five million veterans who are holders of GI life insurance.

3. Questioned whether the conservative John Birch Society was waging an effective anti-Communist fight. He said of members of the Birch group: "I don't feel that their judgments are based on accurate information on the kinds of challenges that we face . . . I am not sure that the John Birch Society is wrestling with the real problems which are created by the Communist advance around the world."

Kennedy talked at length on the space race when a questioner suggested that he didn't seem to be pressing the U.S. program as vigorously as during the election campaign. The President was asked whether a "crash program" might not be needed.

The Chief Executive commented:

"We have to consider whether there is any program now, regardless of its cost, which offers us hopes of being pioneers in a project. It is possible to spend billions of dollars in these projects in space to the detriment of other programs and still not be successful. We are behind, as I said before, in large boosters. We have to make a determination whether there is any effort we could make in time or money which could put us first in any new area."

Kennedy noted that some suggestions for accelerating the U.S. space exploration pace might run between $20 billion and $40 billion.

He said:

"The question is whether the nuclear rocket or other kinds of chemical rockets offer us a better hope of making a jump forward but we are second and Saturn will not put us first. I want, however, to speed up if we can on Saturn, and the vice president is now leading a study to see what we ought to do in this area."

Kennedy firmly agreed that "if we can get to the moon before the Russians, we should."

At about the same time the President was holding his news conference, a top space official told a House space subcommittee that an extra $15 million he wanted for the U.S. nuclear rocket program had been denied by the administration.

Dr. Ira Abbott, director of advanced research for the National Aeronautics & Space Administration, said the appropriations request was spiked by the Budget Bureau.

Yanks Beat Orioles Behind Ford, Mantle

Whitey Takes Second, Mick Slams Homer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Southpaw Whitey Ford pitched his second straight victory for the New York Yankees Friday night with the aid of another homer by Mickey Mantle in a 4-2 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

It was the fifth straight triumph after a losing debut for the defending American League champions and moved them into a tie with Detroit for first place.

The loss was the fifth out of six games for the Orioles before 12,368 on hand for the start of a four-game series with the Yanks.

Mantle clouted his fourth homer of the young season with a runner on base in the third inning off Steve Barber, who had pitched the only Oriole victory to date.

Ford, loser in the Yankee debut, followed with a shut out last Monday over Kansas City. He doled out seven hits to the Orioles, but they broke his spell of goose eggs in the fifth on a pair of two-baggers.

Mantle's homer over the center field fence about 350 feet away came behind a single by Hector Lopez. Bobby Richardson, who smashed a single off Barber's glove and took second when catcher Gus Triandos threw the ball into right field, scored the first run on the hit by Lopez.

The Orioles got to Ford on a double by pinch hitter Dave Philley over the head of Roger Maris in right field. Philey was given a second chance when catcher Elston Howard was unable to hold a foul tip with the count 3 and 2.

Philley's two-bagger knocked in Earl Robinson, who drew Ford's only walk, and Marv Breeding, who doubled.

The Yankees nudged over their other run on Oriole reliever Dick Hall in the seventh on singles by Howard and Maris and sacrifices by Clete Boyer and Ford.

Cubs Dump Phillies By 3-2 Margin

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tony Curry's three-base error on Don Zimmer's fly in the seventh inning Friday night enabled Al Heist to score the winning run as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2.

Don Cardwell and Don Elston collaborated with a four-hit pitching effort. Cardwell got credit for the victory, his first against no losses.

Zimmer figured in all the Cubs' scoring. In the first inning he singled and scored on Billy Williams' double. And in the sixth, he tallied on Ron Santo's double.

Robin Roberts went all the way for the Phillies for his third loss in as many starts.

The Phillies scored one run in the second without a hit on two walks, a wild pitch by Cardwell, a fly out and a force out. Their other run came in the seventh on Pancho Herrera's triple and Clay Dalrymple's single.

Jockey Killed

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary's leading jockey, Lajos Burgel, was killed Friday when a horse which had thrown its rider at a hurdle crashed into his mount, the newspaper Nepszava reported.

JAKE WOOD, Detroit Tigers 2nd baseman, on his stomach as he gets back to second none too soon in the first inning of yesterday's game at Detroit. Los Angeles pitcher Jerry Casale tried to pick off Wood as he tossed to Angels second baseman Ken Aspromonte, who holds ball in his glove. Detroit won the game, 9-1. (AP Wirephoto)

Cleveland Tops Kansas City Athletics By 5-3

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Cleveland's Mudcat Grant and rookie Bob Allen, combined a six-hit pitching job that dampened Kansas City's home baseball opener Friday as the Indians made off with a -3 victory.

The crowd of 25,727 had braved showers that fell throughout the morning and left outfield play in Municipal Stadium almost hopeless.

Vic Power tripled off relief pitcher Ken Johnson in the eighth inning, driving home Tito Francona with the tying run. Power than scored the winner as Woody Held grounded out. The Indians got an insurance run in the ninth when Francona walked again and came home when Jimmy Piersall's fly in right bounced off Hank Bauer's glove for a triple.

The Athletics almost walked away with the game in the seventh inning when they scored two runs and went ahead 3-2 without a hit. Five bases on balls forced the two runs in.

The Indians collected 11 hits off three A's pitchers and the defeat was charged to Johnson, who came on briefly in the eighth. Ed Rakow finished up for Kansas City.

Allen, who got out of a slight ninth inning jam, was the winning Indian hurler.

Grant sailed through the first six innings, giving up only four hits and one run. But he lost control in the seventh and walked the bases full before Manager Jimmy Dykes gave him the hook and brought in his rookie left-hander, Allen.

The sodden outfield contributed to the first hit off Grant. With two out in the second inning Willie Kirkland flipped trying to field a routine drive off Bill Tuttle's bat and the ball rolled past him for a triple.

Andy Carey struck out and stranded Tuttle but the A's tied the score with a run in the next frame. Jerry Lumpe doubled after two were out and scored on Bauer's single to left-center.

Cleveland went ahead 2-1 in the fifth off starter Ray Herbert. Grant walked, was sacrificed to second by Johnny Temple and scored on Francona's scorching single through the middle of the diamond.

Grant also scored the Indians' first run in the third. He doubled to right, went to third as Temple bunted safely. After Francona walked and filled the bases, Piersall hit a fly to shallow right that was caught by Lumpe. The second baseman fell trying to throw to the plate and Grant scored easily.

9-1 SCORE

Tigers Hand LA 5th Straight Loss

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers dealt the Los Angeles Angels their fifth straight defeat 9-1 Friday. They backed Don Mossi's smooth eight-hit pitching with an 11-hit attack that included Rocky Colavito's three-run home run in the first inning.

Colavito's second homer of the season followed walks to Jake Wood and Al Kaline and gave Mossi all the support he needed for his second victory.

Jerry Casale, first of four Los Angeles pitchers, was the victim of Colavito's smash.

Winning for the fifth time in six starts, the Tigers exploded for five runs in the fifth inning against Casale and Tex Clevenger. Mossi started the splurge with a single and Wood laid down a perfect bunt and beat it out for a hit.

Detroit added an unearned run in the seventh off former teammate Ray Semproch.

Mossi went the distance for the first time since last August and struck out nine Angels.

The only run he yielded was a booming home run by ex-Tiger Steve Bilko leading off the fourth inning.

Moon Leads Los Angeles Over Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wally Moon continued his astonishing power hitting streak Friday night, slamming his seventh home run in 10 games, as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Cincinnati 5-3.

Johnny Roseboro also homered for the Dodgers, winding up with three RBIs, and left-hander Sandy Koufax gave a 11-strikeout performance in scoring the first April victory of his National League career.

Koufax allowed only six hits but one of them was a three-run homer by Frank Robinson. The earliest Koufax had won before was on May 6 in 1957.

Moon, who had hit safely in 10 games he has played this season, had a single in addition to his home run, and finished the night hitting .543.

Last season Moon did not hit his seventh home run until his 53rd game, June 14. He finished the season with 13 homers.

Nobody Puts Cricket Garb On Babe Ruth

MAYODAN, N.C. (AP) — It wouldn't have been cricket to put a cricket uniform on a likeness of Babe Ruth, one of this nation's immortal baseball players.

The Royal London Wax Museum, a branch of Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum in Victoria, B.C., threatened to put a cricket uniform on the likeness of Ruth because it said it was unable to get any information from the New York Yankees about Ruth's baseball uniform.

When Phil Lundeen, a retired baseball player who lives here, read of the situation, he decided to make sure the Babe's likeness was properly garbed.

Packed away in a trunk was a complete uniform once worn by Ruth. Lundeen got it when the Yankees sent him to the Raleigh, N.C., team and shipped the team several old Yankee uniforms.

Twins' Rally Falls Short As Washington Wins, 5-3

By GEORGE MOSES

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Veteran relief pitcher Dave Sisler came off the bench in the ninth inning to snuff out a bases-loaded Minnesota Twins' rally and give Washington a 5-3 major league baseball victory Friday before 24,606 fans.

The loss dumped the Twins 5-2 out of the American League lead.

After the Twins evened the count 3-3 in the eighth on centerfielder Lennie Green's 350-foot home run, the Senators plagued their old name-sakes with two more runs in the ninth.

The Twins loaded the bases in the ninth when Bob Allison blooped a single past Veal, catcher Earl Battey singled through second after Bob Lemon fanned and pinchhitter Elmer Valo walked.

Sisler relieved McClain, who had held the Twins to three runs through the eighth, before the walk to Valo.

Hitting for second baseman Billy Gardner, Hal Naragon flied to the shortstop and Pete Whisenant, another pinchhitter, went down swinging as Sisler outguessed him.

Dale Long homered with the bases empty in the first for Washington after singling Marty Keough rode home on a double play. Tasby singled home Klaus in the third.

The size of the crowd under fair skies was something of a disappointment, since the Twins had expected to play to more than 30,000 spectators in their new home at Metropolitan Stadium.

FACE NSC DEMONS

Tech Nine Hopes To Pad Loop Lead

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech will try to fatten its lead in the Gulf States conference race here this afternoon when they meet Northwestern State in a doubleheader.

The twinbill will start at 1:30 p.m. Southwestern faces McNeese at Lake Charles and Northeast meets Southeastern at Hammond in other loop twinbills today.

Coach Berry Hinton's Tech nine has grabbed an early two-game lead in the loop race with a 7-1 mark. The Bulldogs are 13-3 for the full campaign. However, the two-game margin could disintegrate in a hurry because Tech meets runnerup Southeastern in Hammond Monday in a pair of tilts.

Hinton also has high regard for the Demons despite their resting in the league cellar with a 1-7 record. "Northwestern has excellent pitching, some good hitters and they have been losing some hard luck games," Hinton said.

The Tech mentor hasn't decided on starters against NSC. Sonny Parker (4-0), Charlie Fuller (2-0), George Woodson (3-0), and Willie Williams (2-0) are all unbeaten. Jim Penton is 1-1 Newell Blume 1-2 and Paul Wedel 0-0 for the season.

Pitching, defense and speed have carried the Techsters a long way this season because they are hitting only .240 as a team. Parker has a 1.06 ERA in loop play while Fuller and Woodson both have 1.92. Williams, who hasn't been in a loop game, has the best ERA on the club at 0.61 for 14 innings.

Among the regulars, only Wendell Lorio (.345) and Max Lewis (.321) are hitting over .300. Tech's opponents are hitting only .204 as a team for 16 games and loop foes are batting only .187 against Bulldog hurlers.

Woodson must rate as the big surprise so far this season. The Amity, Ark., frosh has won two league game in route going performances. Paul Wedel, the promising frosh southpaw, is recuperating from an injured foot.

Jackets Top Ouachita, 7-6 In Loop Tilt

Bob Carter's Lions moved ahead 3-0 in the top of the second inning only to have the Jackets bounce into the lead 4-3 after three frames. Ouachita tied it up in the first half of the fifth inning, 4-4, but Byrd again took the lead 6-4 in the bottom of the inning.

Leading the Lions at the plate were Carl Guinn, two for three; Roy Walton, two for three; Johnny Roach, three for four; and Billy Darden, two for four. Byrd's top hitter was Bookie Shilcutt, who got three for three at the plate.

Yanks Beat Orioles Behind Ford, Mantle

Whitey Takes Second, Mick Slams Homer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Southpaw Whitey Ford pitched his second straight victory for the New York ankees Friday night with the aid of another homer by Mickey Mantle in a 4-2 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

It was the fifth straight triumph after a losing debut for the defending American League champions and moved them into a tie with Detroit for first place.

The loss was the fifth out of six games for the Orioles before 12,368 on hand for the start of a four-game series with the Yanks.

Mantle clouted his fourth homer of the young season with a runner on base in the third inning off Steve Barber, who had pitched the only Oriole victory to date.

Ford, loser in the Yankee debut, followed with a shut out last Monday over Kansas City. He doled out seven hits to the Orioles, but they broke his spell of goose eggs in the fifth on a pair of two-baggers.

Mantle's homer over the center field fence about 330 feet away came behind a single by Hector Lopez. Bobby Richardson, who smashed a single off Barber's glove and took second when catcher Gus Triandos threw the ball into right field, scored the first run on the hit by Lopez.

The Orioles got to Ford on a double by pinch hitter Dave Philley over the head of Roger Maris in right field. Philey was given a second chance when catcher Elston Howard was unable to hold a foul tip with the count 3 and 2.

Philley's two-bagger knocked in Earl Robinson, who drew Ford's only walk, and Marv Breeding, who doubled.

The Yankees nudged over their other run on Oriole reliever Dick Hall in the seventh on singles by Howard and Maris and sacrifices by Clete Boyer and Ford.

Cubs Dump Phillies By 3-2 Margin

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tony Curry's three-base error on Don Zimmer's fly in the seventh inning Friday night enabled Al Heist to score the winning run as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2.

Don Cardwell and Don Elston collaborated with a four-hit pitching effort. Cardwell got credit for the victory, his first against no losses.

Zimmer figured in all the Cubs' scoring. In the first inning he singled and scored on Billy Williams' double. And in the sixth, he tallied on Ron Santo's double.

Robin Roberts went all the way for the Phillies for his third loss in as many starts.

The Phillies scored one run in the second without a hit on two walks, a wild pitch by Cardwell, a fly out and a force out. Their other run came in the seventh on Pancho Herrera's triple and Clay Dalrymple's single.

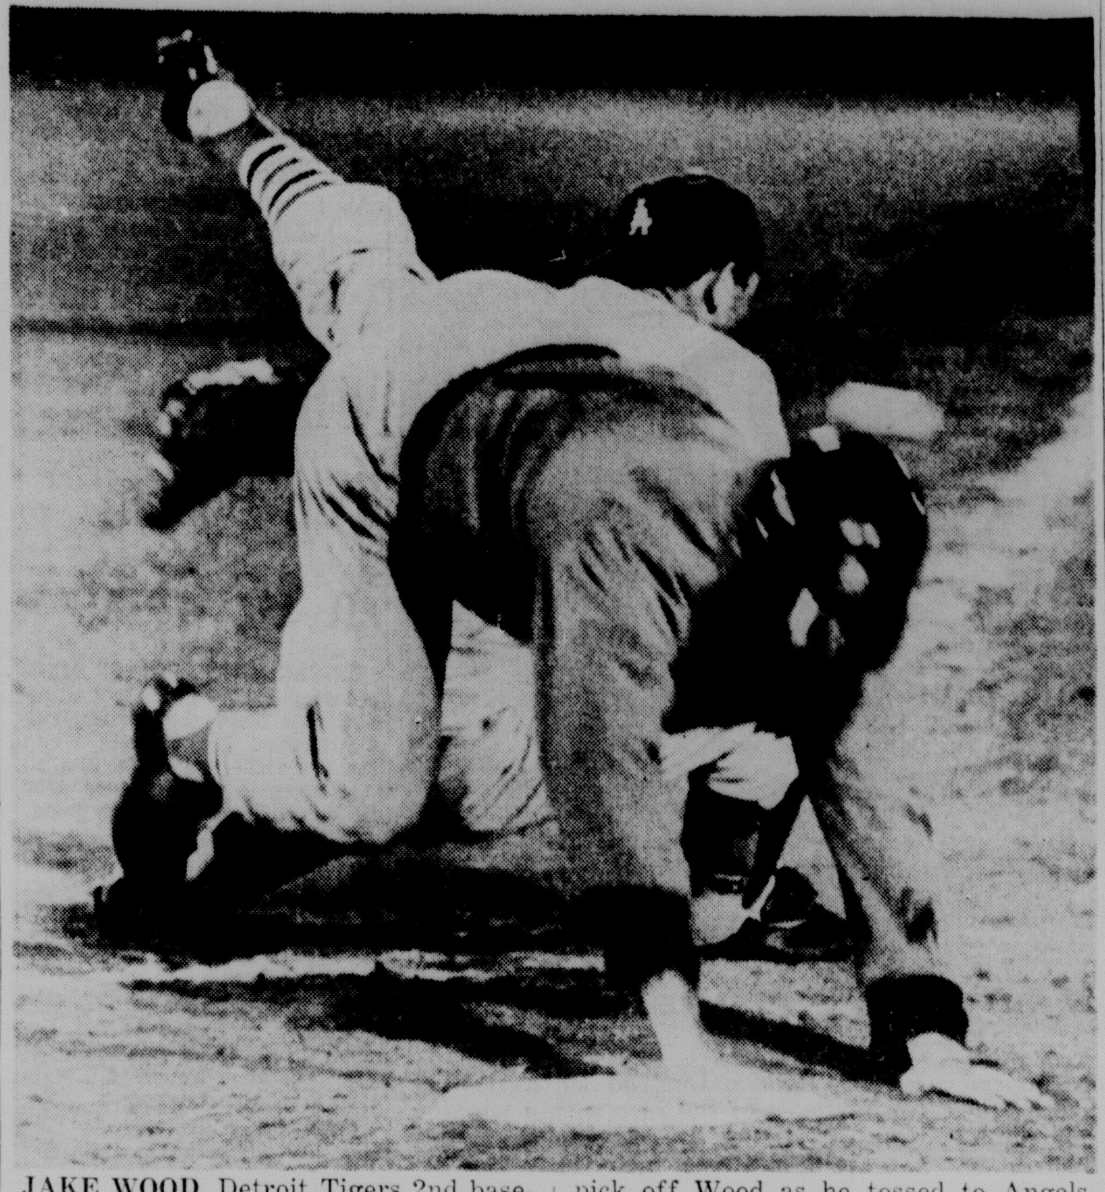
Jockey Killed

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary's leading jockey, Lajos Burgel, was killed Friday when a horse which had thrown its rider at a hurdle crashed into his mount, the newspaper Nepszava reported.



JAKE WOOD, Detroit Tigers 2nd baseman, on his stomach as he gets back to second none too soon in the first inning of yesterday's game at Detroit. Los Angeles pitcher Jerry Casale tried to pick off Wood as he tossed to Angels second baseman Ken Aspromante, who holds ball in his glove. Detroit won the game, 9-1. (AP Wirephoto)

Cleveland Tops Kansas City Athletics By 5-3

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Cleveland's Mudcat Grant and rookie Bob Allen combined a six-hit pitching job that dampened Kansas City's home baseball opener Friday as the Indians made off with a -3 victory.

The crowd of 25,727 had braved showers that fell throughout the morning and left outfield play in Municipal Stadium almost hopeless.

Vic Power tripled off relief pitcher Ken Johnson in the eighth inning, driving home Tito Francona with the tying run. Power than scored the winner as Woody Held grounded out. The Indians got an insurance run in the ninth when Francona walked again and came home when Jimmy Piersall's fly in right bounced off Hank Bauer's glove for a triple.

The Athletics almost walked away with the game in the seventh inning when they scored two runs and went ahead 3-2 without a hit. Five bases on balls forced the two runs in.

The Indians collected 11 hits off three A's pitchers and the defeat was charged to Johnson, who came on briefly in the eighth. Ed Rakow finished up for Kansas City.

Allen, who got out of a slight ninth inning jam, was the winning Indian hurler.

Grant sailed through the first six innings, giving up only four hits and one run. But he lost control in the seventh and walked the bases full before Manager Jimmy Dykes gave him the hook and brought in his rookie left-hander, Allen.

The sodden outfield contributed to the first hit off Grant. With two out in the second inning Willie Kirkland flipped trying to field a routine drive off Bill Tuttle's bat and the ball rolled past him for a triple.

Andy Carey struck out and stranded Tuttle but the A's tied the score with a run in the next frame. Jerry Lumpe doubled after two were out and scored on Bauer's single to left-center.

Cleveland went ahead 2-1 in the fifth off starter Ray Herbert. Grant walked, was sacrificed to second by Johnny Temple and scored on Francona's scorching single through the middle of the diamond.

Grant also scored the Indians' first run in the third. He doubled to right, went to third as Temple bunted safely. After Francona walked and filled the bases, Piersall hit a fly to shallow right that was caught by Lumpe. The second baseman fell trying to throw to the plate and Grant scored easily.

9-1 SCORE

Tigers Hand LA 5th Straight Loss

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers dealt the Los Angeles Angls their fifth straight defeat 9-1 Friday. They backed Don Mossi's smooth eight-hit pitching with an 11-hit attack that included Rocky Colavito's three-run home run in the first inning.

Colavito's second homer of the season followed walks to Jake Wood and Al Kaline and gave Mossi all the support he needed for his second victory.

Jerry Casale, first of four Los Angeles pitchers, was the victim of Colavito's smash.

Winning for the fifth time in six starts, the Tigers exploded for five runs in the fifth inning against Casale and Tex Clevenger. Mossi started the splurge with a single and Wood laid down a perfect bunt and beat it out for a hit.

Detroit added an unearned run in the seventh off former teammate Ray Semproch.

Mossi went the distance for the first time since last August and struck out nine Angels.

The only run he yielded was a booming home run by ex-Tiger Steve Bilko leading off the fourth inning.

Moon Leads Los Angeles Over Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wally Moon continued his astonishing power hitting streak Friday night, slamming his seventh home run in 10 games, as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Cincinnati 5-3.

Johnny Roseboro also homered for the Dodgers, winding up with three RBIs, and left-hander Sandy Koufax gave a 11-strikeout performance in scoring the first April victory of his National League career.

Koufax allowed only six hits but one of them was a three-run homer by Frank Robinson. The earliest Koufax had won before was on May 6 in 1957.

Moon, who had hit safely in 10 games he has played this season, had a single in addition to his home run, and finished the night hitting .543.

Last season Moon did not hit his seventh home run until his 53rd game, June 14. He finished the season with 13 homers.

Nobody Puts Cricket Garb On Babe Ruth

MAYODAN, N.C. (AP) — It wouldn't have been cricket to put a cricket uniform on a likeness of Babe Ruth, one of this nation's immortal baseball players.

The Royal London Wax Museum, a branch of Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum in Victoria, B.C., threatened to put a cricket uniform on the likeness of Ruth because it said it was unable to get any information from the New York Yankees about Ruth's baseball uniform.

When Phil Lundeen, a retired baseball player who lives here, read of the situation, he decided to make sure the Babe's likeness was properly garbed.

Packed away in a trunk was a complete uniform once worn by Ruth. Lundeen got it when the Yankees sent him to the Raleigh, N.C., team and shipped the team several old Yankee uniforms.

Twins' Rally Falls Short As Washington Wins, 5-3

By GEORGE MOSES

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Veteran relief pitcher Dave Sisler came off the bench in the ninth inning to snuff out a bases-loaded Minnesota Twins' rally and give Washington a 5-3 major league baseball victory Friday before 24,606 fans.

The loss dumped the Twins 5-2 out of the American League lead.

After the Twins evened the count 3-3 in the eighth on centerfielder Lennie Green's 350-foot home run, the Senators plagued their old name-sakes with two more runs in the ninth.

The Twins loaded the bases in the ninth when Bob Allison blooped a single past Veal, catcher Earl Battey singled through second after Bob Lemon fanned and pinchhitter Elmer Valo walked.

Sisler relieved McClain, who had held the Twins to three runs through the eighth, before the walk to Valo.

Hitting for second baseman Billy Gardner, Hal Naragon flied to the shortstop and Pete Whisenant, another pinchhitter, went down swinging as Sisler outguessed him.

Dale Long homered with the bases empty in the first for Washington after singling Marty Keough rode home on a double play. Tasby singled home Klaus in the third.

The size of the crowd under fair skies was something of a disappointment, since the Twins had expected to play to more than 30,000 spectators in their new home at Metropolitan Stadium.

FACE NSC DEMONS

Tech Nine Hopes To Pad Loop Lead

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech will try to fatten its lead in the Gulf States conference race here this afternoon when they meet Northwestern State in a doubleheader.

The twinbill will start at 1:30 p.m. Southwestern faces McNeese at Lake Charles and Northeast meets Southeastern at Hammond in other loop twinbills today.

Cvach Berry Hinton's Tech nine has grabbed an early two - game lead in the loop race with a 7-1 mark. The Bulldogs are 13-3 for the full campaign. However, the two - game margin could disintegrate in a hurry because Tech meets runnerup Southeastern in Hammond Monday in a pair of tilts.

Hinton also has high regard for the Demons despite their resting in the league cellar with a 1-7 record. "Northwestern has excellent pitching, some good hitters and they have been losing some hard luck games," Hinton said.

The Tech mentor hasn't decided on starters against NSC. Sonny Parker (4-0), Charlie Fuller (2-0), George Woodson (3-0), and Willie Williams (2-0) are all unbeaten. Jim Penton is 1-1 Newell Blume 1-2 and Paul Wedel 0-0 for the season.

Pitching, defense and speed have carried the Techsters a long way this season because they are hitting only .240 as a team. Parker has a 1.06 ERA in loop play while Fuller and Woodson both have 1.92. Williams, who hasn't been in a loop game, has the best ERA on the club at 0.64 for 14 innings.

Among the regulars, only Wendell Lorio (.345) and Max Lewis (.321) are hitting over .300. Tech's opponents are hitting only .204 as a team for 16 games and loop foes are batting ohly. 187 against Bulldog hurlers.

Woodson must rate as the big surprise so far this season. The Amity, Ark., frosh has won two league game in route going performances. Paul Wedel, the promising frosh southpaw, is recuperating from an injured foot.

Bob Carter's Lions moved ahead 3-0 in the top of the second inning only to have the Jackets bounce into the lead 4-3 after three frames. Ouachita tied it up in the first half of the fifth inning, 4-4, but Byrd again took the lead 6-4 in the bottom of the inning.

Leading the Lions at the plate were Carl Guinn, two for three; Roy Walton, two for three; Johnny Roach, three for four; and Billy Darden, two for four. Byrd's top hitter was Bookie Shilcutt, who got three for three at the plate.

Bulldogs And Redskins In Northwestern Relays

The track feud between Northeast State and Louisiana Tech should errupt anew tonight when the Indians tackle an 11 team field at Natchitoches in the 23rd Northwestern Relays.

All six Gulf States teams are entered, in addition to several outsiders that have furnished the Pelican staters opposition already this year — Lamar Tech, Stephen F. Austin, Millsaps, Miami University and Ole Miss.

But the big battle should come off between Tech and Northeast. All year these two have battled each other down the wire, while doing well against some of the top competition in the nation.

At first the Tribe led the Bulldogs while placing first, second or third at every running they entered, but Tech finally caught up and nipped the Indians.

First it was at the Memphis relays where they won in a 13-entry meet and edged Northeast by a half point. Then a week later, Tech scotched the Indians by six points in a three-team run at Ruston.

The Indians slipped back into the fore at the Southwestern relays, coming in first among the GSC entries. Tech was second.

Perhaps the highlight for both teams was the big Forida relay, where Northeast was second only to an arrow-shift Navy crew, and Tech finished fifth behind the Indians, Auburn and Alabama.

Other results for Northeast were third place standards at the Coliseum Relays in Montgomery, the indoor Memphis Relays and the Southwestern Recreation Meet in Fort Worth, to start the season.

Improving a notch, they won a three-way meet here by slipping past Tech, then caught the Bulldogs again to win the Shreveport Relays.

120 high hurdles — Owen Owen, James Copeland.
100 yard dash — Charles McDonald, John Neal.
220 relay — Charles McDonald, Jim Mouser, John Baker, and Randall Walker.
440 relay — McDonald, Mouser, Owen, Walker.
220 low hurdles — Owen, Noel Orr.
Sprint Medley Relay — Walker, Mouser, McDonald, Eiland.
Mile relay — Mouser, Mercer, John Baker, Walker.
Broad Jump — Owen.
Javelin — John Pennel, Gene Harbert.
High jump — Ronnie Williams, Copeland.
Shot put — Hoy Rogers, Copeland.
Pole Vault — Pennel, Orr.
Discus — Rogers, Copeland.

Two more warm-ups follow the Northwestern junket before the 'Skins enter the big one — the Gulf States Conference meet, which will be held here this year. First are the LSU relays in Baton Rouge, April 29, then a run with mercury-footed East Texas State in Commerce.

TWINBILL AT HAMMOND

Northeast Nine Tackles Lions

Northeast State's Indian nine hopes to break a precedent and win on the road when they take on the Southeastern Lions in a conference doubleheader today at Hammond.

The Indians played the league's three thoughest clubs in home twinbills and split down the line—winning three and losing three. In fact, they handed the conference leader and defending champion, Louisiana Tech, its only GSC loss of the season.

But on the road its been a different story. In six away games they have failed to win once.

So today's twin show will be important for at least two reasons. First the Redskins want to prove they can win away from the friendly confines of the Northeast diamond.

Then too, a complete sweep is almost imperative for any kind of record when the final GSC rankings are tabulated. After standing high with their split performances at home, the Tribe dropped to 3-5 with a dual loss to McNeese in their first conference road endeavor.

Southeastern stands 5-3 at present, after being picked the conference favorite starting the season. They split with Northeast here earlier, winning the nightcap 3-0 after losing the opener 8-7.

Northeast's top hurler, Jerry Godwin will definitely pitch one game but Coach George Luffey has not decided whether to start Bobby Lockwood or Teddy Payne in the other.

Southside Is Softball Top At Tech Meet

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Byrd High School made a complete sweep of the tennis titles in the annual North Louisiana rally at Louisiana Tech here Friday, while Southside of Monroe's boys and Downsville's girls won softball championships and the Calhoun girls and Eros boys took volleyball titles.

Byrd's golf team also won the 27-hole tourney at the Ruston country club.

The Yellow Jacket net team raced through the competition beating other Shreveport or Bossier teams in the finals in each division.

Ray Lake won the boys' singles, Linda Hamel, the girls' singles, Lake and Tom Took, the boys' doubles, Miss Hamel and Mary Blanchard, the girls' doubles, and Miss Blanchard and Took, the mixed doubles.

Lake won by defeating Jimmy Moore of Ruston, 6-0, 6-0, Loyd Wallace of Fair Park, 6-2, 6-2. Miss Hamel downed Loyce Garrett of Ruston, 6-1, 6-0, Eloise Coleman of Fair Park, 6-1, 6-0, and Margret Roemer of Bossier City 6-1, 6-2.

Lake and Took copped their title by defeating Andy Anderson and Bill Swartz of Woodlawn 6-1, 6-0, Billy Weathersby and Tony Baskin of Ruston 6-0, 6-1, and Danny Walker and Jim Pruitt of Fair Park 6-1, 6-1.

Miss Hamel and Miss Blanchard beat Jean Riley and Marcia Nesbitt of Springhill 6-0, 6-0, Jo Anderson and Shirley Wade of Woodlawn 6-0, 6-0 and Martha Crump and Jo Ann Roper of Fair Park 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Blanchard and Took garnered the mixed doubles by upending Wallace and Miss Crump of Fair Park 6-0, 6-3, and Dan Romer and Miss Romer of Bossier 6-0, 6-0.

In softball play, Southside beat Eros 15-3 and Weston 28-8, to claim the boys' title. Downsvilles' girls won with a 14-4 trouncing of Lisbon, 19-4 over Spearsville and 8-4 over Bonita.

In volleyball, the Eros boys secured the crown by thumping Gibsland 15-2, 15-12, and Calhoun by an identical score. The Calhoun girls swept past Sikes 11-5, 12-5; Eros 13-3, 11-5, and Pioneer 9-2, 11-5 in the finals.

Byrd's golf team won by a wide margin over Neville of Monroe and Winnfields teams that tied for second. Byrd won the title with a 459. Winnfield and Neville had 485, Bossier City 486, Bastrop 491, Minden 511, Ruston 530, and Homer 561.

John Stringer and Frobert Flagger, both of Byrd, tied for low medal honors with 112. Neville's team score included Glenn Walker 116, Henry Cole 128, Ray Mulhearn 120, and Henry Hinkle 121.

Mangham Annual Track Meet Today

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Mangham High will hold its 6th annual track meet today, hosting a field of at least 12 teams that threaten many of the run's old marks.

Tallulah's varsity, which won last year, will not return, but the Trojans will be represented by their B squad, and a new favorite has appeared in Bernice, a hard-running aggregation from North Central Louisiana.

Other teams entered are Central of Delhi, Lake Providence, Southside of Monroe, Forest, Sterlington, Harrisonburg and Mangham.

Field events get underway at 1 p.m., with the running to follow at 1:30 p.m. Admission is 25 and 50.

A score of old standards may fall before the dust settles on Mangham's oval today and a goodly number could come from the winged heels of Bernice or the host school.

Sammy Johnson of Bernice and Rayville's Hans Eppinette can both do the century in 10.5, the existing record.

Bernice's Johnny Buckley has hit a high jump charting of 5.7 and Freddie Dawson does 40'3" on the hop, step, jump, while Mangham's Brent Etier is reported just a shade better, at 40'4". Record is 40'11½" set by Knight of Grayson in 1956.

At the Delta Relays, Mangham's Glascell Morris set a new banner, running the low hurdles in 21.4, to slice .3 from the previous fast. Mangham criterion is 21.3, set by Nobles in 1957.

Another Mangham ace, Joe Cannon vaulted 10'.

Highland Park To Have Scotch Foursome

The Highland Park Country Club will have its first Scotch Foursome of the season today at 1 p.m.

There will be a buffet dinner served in the club following the play at 8:30 p.m.

The foursome is the first of three to be held at the club this year.

Sports To Hold First Workout For LaArk Play

The Monroe Sports of the La-Ark Baseball League have been summoned for their first workout of the season this afternoon. Tryouts will also be conducted for new talent seeking jobs with the amateur team.

Manager Vivian Pettit has scheduled today's practice for 2 o'clock on the Northeast State College diamond.

Pettit said ball players desiring tryouts are invited to telephone him at FA 5-6526.

KANSAS UNIVERSITY'S Bob Lindrud almost collapsed and was helped off the track by a teammate Thursday afternoon after winning the 10,000 meter run, first event of the 36th annual Kansas Relays. Lindrud led a field of ten for most of the race with a winning time of 31:43.1. It was the first time the event had been included in the Relays. (AP Wirephoto)

PINEVILLE FIRST

Tigers Are 3rd At Northwestern

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) — A pack of running Rebels from Pineville High copped the AA title in the 23rd Northwestern relays here yesterday, claiming 57 points to down Abbeville with 51½ and Neville with 34.

A total of six track and one field record fell to the blazing sprinters of four schools and the Gazelle-like leap of a fifth school's product.

Haynesville finished fifth in the running with 25 points, followed by Natchitoches 22¾, and North Caddo 13¾.

Rusten, for year's the kingpin of North Louisiana track, was seventh with 18. Next came Homer 13, DeRidder 11¼, Minden 7, and Springhill 2. At least part of the Bearcats weak showing may be due to the injury bug which reduced the team's strength.

In one of the day's most surprising races, Cordland Gray of Neville got his first win over his old nemesis – Ruston's Allen Carpenter and lowered the 120 high hurdle mark to 14.6. The old standard was 15.3.

Carpenter, in turn, took the 180 low hurdles to set a record, reducing the criterion from 20.4 to 19.7.

Haynesville's Greer toured the torturous four circuit mile in 4:30.0, shaving .02.3 off the previous zenith and Pineville's lightening-fast relay combines smashed three existing records—beating the 880, 440 and sprint medley marks.

Neville bounded back to capture the mile relay, however, and tail to set a record by 2 seconds.

Only one field achievement fell—this being the high jump when Haynesville's Johnson soared 6'1" to add a ½" inch to the previous best performance.

100 yard dash - Day, Homer; Seleman, Abbeville; Allen, DeRidder; Lowery, Haynesville; Hooter, Pineville (10.0)
120 yard high hurdles - Gray, Neville; Carpenter, Ruston; Brantley, Homer; Duhon, Abbeville; Prichard, North Caddo (14.6) beat old record of 15.3.
Mile run - Greer, Minden; Sanders, Haynesville; Smith, Haynesville; White, Abbeville; Helms, Natchitoches (4:30.0) broke old record 4:32.3.
440 relay - Pineville, Abbeville, tie between DeRidder and Natchitoches, Neville (43.9) beat old record of 44.9.
880 relay - Pineville, Abbeville, Neville, Natchitoches, Homer (1:32.0) beat old record of 1:32.4.
Sprint medley - Pineville, North Caddo, Haynesville, Abbeville, Natchitoches (3:42.4) beat old record of 3:43.8.
Mile relay - Neville, Abbeville, Natchitoches, Pineville, DeRidder (3:30.3).
Shot put - Gray, Ruston; Corley, Pineville; Seagers, Neville; Parker, Natchitoches; White, Jonesboro (47'2") Discus - Corley, Pineville; Seagers, Neville; Searey, North Caddo; Martin, Marion; Johnson, Marion (139'7").

Tigs Take Lead With Win Over MSU Maroons

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) —Louisiana State edged Mississipoi State 3-2 Friday and took the lead in the western division baseball standings of the Southeastern Conference.

LSU scored three unearned runs in the seventh for the victory. MSU pitcher Sammy Ellis gave up three hits and struck out 18 in absorbing the loss.

The victory went to southpaw Allen Smith, his seventh in eight games.

MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE FIGHT

Pender Favored To Stop Carmen

BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender and old pro Carmen Basilio Friday finished preparations for their scheduled 15-round battle Saturday night for Pender's version of the middleweight title, each voicing respect for the other and some mild surprise at the 2-1 odds favoring the champion.

" I didn't come here to lose," the 34-year-ol Basilio snorted after a loosening up drill.

"You can't sell Basilio short," Pender warned. "He's a game fighter. He'll take two to get one."

Pender, one-time fireman from suburban Brookline, is expected to go in at about 159 or 160 for this third defense of his title recognized in Massachusetts, New York and Europe. The nationally-televised (ABC, 10 p.m., EST) bout from Boston Garden will be blacked out locally.

Basilio, a crowding belter who favors a brutal left hook, will give up four years in age, almost 5 inches in height, 5 inches in reach and probably five pounds in weight.

The former middleweight and welterweight champion from upstate New York said he expects to make about 155 at the noon weigh-in Saturday.

It figures to be a vivid contrast in style between Pender, a standup boxer of the classic school who owns sharp left jab and slashing hook, and the crowding Basilio.

"My left hand may be sharp, but don't go for the idea that I'm going to slice him up. Except for the Robinson fight he has never been seriously cut," Pender said.

"It could go the distance. You can't tell."

Basilio said he had no specific plan other than "to try and find some shots and take them."

"If the opportunity arises, I'll try for the knockout, but no predictions. I expect to have to chase him. His style is not aggressive," the scarred veteran said.

Pender expects to get about $80,000 of the anticipated $100,000 gate and $75,000 television money. Basilio, going into his 11th title fight, expects a purse of about $50,000.

The contract calls for a rematch in Boston in 90 days if Basilio wins.

White Sox Top Boston In 3-2 Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnie Minoso's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning sent home the winning run and enabled the Chicago White Sox and right-hander Cal McLish to stagger to a 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Chicago loaded the bases in the eighth on singles by Luis Aparicio, Nellie Fox, a sacrifice bunt by Jim Landis and an intentional walk to Roy Sievers before Minoso sacrificed and Aparicio scampered home with the tie-breaking run.

McLish, scoring his first triumph in a White Sox uniform, was in constant trouble, but managed to go the distance.

Seven times the Red Sox got their lead off batter on base, but three Chicago doubleplays helped McLish out of trouble.

McLish yielded 9 hits, struck out 3 and walked in 2 in recording his first triumph against one loss. Bill Monbouquette gave up seven hits and was tagged with his second loss in as many starts.

The White Sox broke in front with two runs in the third inning. Sherm Lollar singled, his first hit of the year. After McLish struck out, Luis Aparicio singled Lollar to third and then stole second. Fox followed with a two-run single to left.

Boston picked up a run in the fourth on singles by Gary Geiger, Jackie Jensen and Pete Runnels and then tied it in the fifth on a single by Pumpsie Green, a sacrifice and a single by Geiger before Vic Wertz ended the inning by bouncing into his second doubleplay of the game.

Then too, a complete sweep is almost imperative for any kind of record when the final GSC rankings are tabulated. After standing high with their split performances at home, the Tribe dropped to 3-5 with a dual loss to McNeese in their first conference road endeavor.

Southeastern stands 5-3 at present, after being picked the conference favorite starting the season. They split with Northeast here earlier, winning the nightcap 3-0 after losing the opener 8-7.

Northeast's top hurler, Jerry Godwin will definitely pitch one game but Coach George Luffey has not decided whether to start Bobby Lockwood or Teddy Payne in the other.

Southside Is Softball Top At Tech Meet

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Byrd High School made a complete sweep of the tennis titles in the annual North Louisiana rally at Louisiana Tech here Friday, while Southside of Monroe's boys and Downsville's girls won softball championships and the Calhoun girls and Eros boys took volleyball titles.

Byrd's golf team also won the 27 - hole tourney at the Ruston country club.

The Yellow Jacket net team raced through the competition beating other Shreveport or Bossier teams in the finals in each division.

Ray Lake won the boys' singles, Linda Hamel, the girls' singles, Lake and Tom Took, the boys' doubles, Miss Hamel and Mary Blanchard, the girls' doubles, and Miss Blanchard and Took, the mixed doubles.

Lake won by defeating Jimmy Moore of Ruston, 6-0, 6-0, Loyd Wallace of Fair Park, 6-2, 6-2. Miss Hamel downed Loyce Garrett of Ruston, 6-1, 6-0, Eloise Coleman of Fair Park, 6-1 6-0, and Margret Roemer of Bossier City 6-1, 6-2.

Lake and Took copped their title by defeating Andy Anderson and Bill Swartz of Woodlawn 6-1, 6-0, Billy Weathersby and Tony Baskin of Ruston 6-0, 6-1, and Danny Walker and Jim Pruitt of Fair Park 6-1, 6-1.

Miss Hamel and Miss Blanchard beat Jean Riley and Marcia Nesbitt of Springhill 6-0, 6-0, Jo Anderson and Shirley Wade of Woodlawn 6-0, 6-0 and Martha Crump and Jo Ann Roper of Fair Park 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Blanchard and Took garnered the mixed doubles by upending Wallace and Miss Crump of Fair Park 6-0, 6-3, and Dan Romer and Miss Romer of Bossier 6-0, 6-0.

In softball play, Southside beat Eros 15-3 and Weston 28-8, to claim the boys' title. Downsvilles' girls won with a 14-4 trouncing of Lisbon, 19-4 over Spearsville and 8-4 over Bonita.

In volleyball, the Eros boys secured the crown by thumping Gibsland 15-2, 15-12, and Calhoun by an identical score. The Calhoun girls swept past Sikes 11-5, 12-3; Eros 13-3, 11-5, and Pioneer 9-2, 11-5 in the finals.

Byrd's golf team won by a wide margin over Neville of Monroe and Winnfields teams that tied for second. Byrd won the title with a 459. Winnfield and Neville had 485, Bossier City 486, Bastrop 491, Minden 511, Ruston 530, and Homer 561.

John Stringer and Frobert Flagger, both of Byrd, tied for low medal honors with 112. Neville's team score included Glenn Walker 116, Henry Cole 128, Ray Mulhearn 120, and Henry Hinkle 121.

Highland Park To Have Scotch Foursome

The Highland Park Country Club will have its first Scotch Foursome of the season today at 1 p.m.

There will be a buffet dinner served in the club following the play at 8:30 p.m.

The foursome is the first of three to be held at the club this year.

Mangham Annual Track Meet Today

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Mangham High will hold its 6th annual track meet today, hosting a field of at least 12 teams that threaten many of the run's old marks.

Tallulah's varsity, which won last year, will not return, but the Trojans will be represented by their B squad, and a new favorite has appeared in Bernice, a hard-running aggregation from North-Central Louisiana.

Other teams entered are Central of Delhi, Lake Providence, Southside of Monroe, Forest, Sterlington, Harrisonburg and Mangham.

Field events get underway at 1 p.m., with the running to follow at 1:30 p.m. Admission is 25 and 50.

A score of old standards may fall before the dust settles on Mangham's oval today and a goodly number could come from the winged heels of Bernice or the host school.

Sammy Johnson of Bernice and Rayville's Hans Eppinette can both do the century in 10.5- the existing record.

Bernice's Johnny Buckley has hit a high jump charting of 5.7 and Freddie Dawson does 40'3" on the hop, step, jump, while Mangham's Brent Etier is reported just a shade better, at 40'4". Record is 40'11½" set by Knight of Grayson in 1956.

At the Delta Relays, Mangham's Glascell Morris set a new banner, running the low hurdles in 21.4, to slice .3 from the previous fast. Mangham criterion is 21.3, set by Nobles in 1957.

Another Mangham ace, Joe Cannon vaulted 10'.

Sports To Hold First Workout For LaArk Play

The Monroe Sports of the La-Ark Baseball League have been summoned for their first workout of the season this afternoon. Tryouts will also be conducted for new talent seeking jobs with the amateur team.

Manager Vivian Pettit has scheduled today's practice for 2 o'clock on the Northeast State College diamond.

Pettit said ball players desiring tryouts are invited to telephone him at FA 5-6526.

KANSAS UNIVERSITY'S Bob Lindrud almost collapsed and was helped off the track by a teammate Thursday afternoon after winning the 10,000 meter run, first event of the 36th annual Kansas Relays. Lindrud led a field of ten for most of the race with a winning time of 34:43.1. It was the first time the event had been included in the Relays. (AP Wirephoto)

PINEVILLE FIRST

Tigers Are 3rd At Northwestern

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) — A pack of running Rebels from Pineville High copped the AA title in the 23rd Northwestern relays here yesterday, claiming 57 points to down Abbeville with 51½ and Neville with 34.

A total of six track and one field record fell to the blazing sprinters of four schools and the Gazelle - like leap of a fifth school's product.

Haynesville finished fifth in the running with 25 points, followed by Natchitoches 22¾, and North Caddo 18¾.

Ruston, for year's the kingpin of North Louisiana track, was seventh with 18. Next came Homer 13, DeRidder 11¼, Minden 7, and Springhill 2. At least part of the Bearcats weak showing may be due to the injury bug which reduced the team's strength.

In one of the day's most surprising races, Cortland Gray of Neville got his first win over his old nemesis - Ruston's Allen Carpenter and lowered the 120 high hurdle mark to 14.6. The old standard was 15.3.

Carpenter, in turn, took the 180 low hurdles to set a record, reducing the criterion from 20.4 to 19.7.

Haynesville's Greer toured the torturous four circuit mile in 4:30.0, shaving .02.3 off the previous zenith and Pineville's lightening - fast relay combines smashed three existing records-beating the 880, 440 and sprint medley marks.

Neville bounded back to capture the mile relay, however, and fail to set a record by .2 seconds.

Only one field achievement fell-this being the high jump when Haynesville's Johnson soared 6'1" to add a ½" inch to the previous best performance.

100 yard dash - Day, Homer; Selemon, Abbeville; Allen, DeRidder; Lowery, Haynesville; Hooter, Pineville(10.0)

120 yard high hurdles - Gray, Neville; Carpenter, Ruston; Brantley, Homer; Duhon, Abbeville; Prichard, North Caddo (14.6) beat old record of 15.3.

Mile run - Greer, Minden; Sanders, Haynesville; Smith, Haynesville; White, Abbeville; Helms, Natchitoches (4:30.0) broke old record 4.32.3.

440 relay - Pineville, Abbeville, tie between DeRidder and Natchitoches, Neville (43.9) beat old record of 44.9.

880 relay - Pineville, Abbeville, Neville, Natchitoches, Homer (1.32.0) beat old record of 1.32.4.

Mile relay - Neville, Abbeville, Natchitoches, Pineville, DeRidder (3.30.8).

Shot put - Gray, Ruston; Corley, Pineville; Seagers, Neville; Parker, Natchitoches; White, Jonesboro (47.2½).

Southwestern Beats Tribe In Tennis 6-1

Southwestern University dropped Northeast's tennis team to a 1-5 record for the season here yesterday by smashing the Tribe 6-1.

Northeast's next match will be with the GSC defending champions, McNeese State in Lake Charles Monday, April 23.

The summary:

Bob Lange (SW) beat Kirk Fisher (NE) 8-6, 7-5.

Larry Case (SW) beat Bill Ulmer (NE) 6-4, 6-4.

Ferdie Herbert (SW) beat Peter Vincent (NE) 6-4, 1-6, 7-5.

Lange and Minrielle (SW) beat Varino and Jay Goldsmith (NE) 6-2, 6-1.

Tigs Take Lead With Win Over MSU Maroons

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) —Louisiana State edged Mississippi State 3-2 Friday and took the lead in the western division baseball standings of the Southeastern Conference.

LSU scored three unearned runs in the seventh for the victory. MSU pitcher Sammy Ellis gave up three hits and struck out 18 in absorbing the loss.

The victory went to southpaw Allen Smith, his seventh in eight games.

MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE FIGHT

Pender Favored To Stop Carmen

BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender and old pro Carmen Basilio Friday finished preparations for their scheduled 15-round battle Saturday night for Pender's version of the middleweight title, each voicing respect for the other and some mild surprise at the 2-1 odds favoring the champion.

" I didn't come here to lose," the 34-year-ol Basilio snorted after a loosening up drill.

"You can't sell Basilio short," Pender warned. "He's a game fighter. He'll take two to get me one."

Pender, one-time fireman from suburban Brookline, is expected to go in at about 159 or 160 for this third defense of his title recognized in Massachusetts, New York and Europe. The nationally-televised (ABC, 10 p.m., EST) bout from Boston Garden will be blacked out locally.

Basilio, a crowding belter who favors a brutal left hook, will give up four years in age, almost 5 inches in height, 5 inches in reach and probably five pounds in weight.

The former middleweight and welterweight champion from upstate New York said he expects to make about 155 at the noon weigh-in Saturday.

It figures to be a vivid contrast in style between Pender, a standup boxer of the classic school who owns sharp left jab and slashing hook, and the crowding Basilio.

"My left hand may be sharp, but don't go for the idea that I'm going to slice him up. Except for the Robinson fight he has never been seriously cut," Pender said.

"It could go the distance. You can't tell."

Basilio said he had no specific plan other than "to try and find some shots and take them."

"If the opportunity arises, I'll try for the knockout, but no predictions. I expect to have to chase him. His style is not aggressive," the scarred veteran said.

Pender expects to get about $80,000 of the anticipated $100,000 gate and $75,000 television money. Basilio, going into his 11th title fight, expects a purse of about $50,000.

The contract calls for a rematch in Boston in 90 days if Basilio wins.

White Sox Top Boston In 3-2 Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnie Minoso's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning sent home the winning run and enabled the Chicago White Sox and right-hander Cal McLish to stagger to a 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Chicago loaded the bases in the eighth on singles by Luis Aparicio, Nellie Fox, a sacrifice bunt by Jim Landis and an intentional walk to Roy Sievers before Minoso sacrificed and Aparicio scampered home with the tie-breaking run.

McLish, scoring his first triumph in a White Sox uniform, was in constant trouble, but managed to go the distance.

Seven times the Red Sox got their lead off batter on base, but three Chicago doubleplays helped McLish out of trouble.

McLish yielded 9 hits, struck out 3 and walked in 2 in recording his first triumph against one loss. Bill Monbouquette gave up seven hits and was tagged with his second loss in as many starts.

The White Sox broke in front with two runs in the third inning. Sherm Lollar singled, his first hit of the year. After McLish struck out, Luis Aparicio singled Lollar to third and then stole second. Fox followed with a two-run single to left.

Boston picked up a run in the fourth on singles by Gary Geiger, Jackie Jensen and Pete Runnels and then tied it in the fifth on a single by Pumpsie Green, a sacrifice and a single by Geiger before Vic Wertz ended the inning by bouncing into his second doubleplay of the game.

ONE STROKE ADVANTAGE

Thompson Holds Slim Lead In Houston Golf Classic

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Peter Thomson mastered the back nine in a high wind Friday to retain his one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the $40,000 Houston Golf Classic.

Thomson finished early with a one-over 71 for a 36-hole 136 that stood unchallenged until Arnold Palmer, finishing late, missed a 3-foot putt on the final green that would have let him tie the Australian.

Palmer's 68 gave him a 137 and a tie for runner-up with Jerry Barber, Johnny Pott and Lionel Hebert.

Tommy Bolt, a former Houston carpenter, bogeyed the last hole after being heckled by the gallery and took his second straight 69 for a 138, two under par for the 7,122-yard, par 70 Memorial Park course.

Player declined to discuss the dismissal.

"These are things in my private life, and I don't discuss my private life with anyone," he said.

Thomson was the only player among the leaders to take nine pars on the back nine. All the others were over par on at least one hole.

Jerry Pittman, 24-year-old newcomer from Tulsa, was among those faltering in the high wind. Pittman actually held a one-stroke lead over Thomson after 27 holes. He had three bogeys and a double bogey, however, on the back nine for a 72 that dropped him to a 139 tie with Freddie Haas.

Gordon Jones, Orlando, Fla., also had 139, finishing late with a 72 after a first round 67.

Houston add classic golf b36 eliminated.

SWAC Teams Set For 3rd Tiger Relays

GRAMBLING, La (Special — All eight Southwestern Athletic Conference teams are expected to file entries in the third annual Grambling Relays here today.

The Grambling quarter of Frank Smith, Bill Brown, Bobby Porche and Johnson set a 440-yard relay record of :41.8 and pushed Texas Southern to a 1:27.3 in a half mile event last week. Coach Tom Williams can call on Wayne Curl, a 22.2 low hurdle, sprinter Carey Woods and James Tyrone to aid the above crew. Grambling has run :41.2 and 1:27.3 in the 440 and 880 relays.

Defending champs expected to be on hand are Donnie Davis Southern University — 120 high hurdles; Pat Arthurs, Arkansas AM&N running broad jump; and Stone Johnson, 100 yard dash. Southern University is the defending champ in the sprint medley relay, the two mile relay and the one mile relay. Southern ran 3:13.6 in this event last year.

Garland Boyett of Grambling is unbeaten in the shot this year and is expected to move up from his second place finish last year. Boyette has tossed the iron ball 54 feet 9½ inches this year. Joe Hall of Grambling and Charles Granger of Southern are expected to duel in the discus. Hall won at Southern last week with a 147-foot toss. Tommy Howard and Roosevelt Richardson of Grambling will attempt to defend the high jump crown won by Gramblinge Charles last year. They went 6-6 and 6-4 respectively last week at Southern.

Preliminaries will get under way at 9:30 tomorrow morning with finals in the discus, Javel'n and spring medley coming before 11:15.

All other finals will begin promptly at 1:30 this afternoon with the first running event the 120 high hurdles scheduled at 1:45 p.m.

STYRON TRIPS ON LAST HURDLE

Texas Southern Sets Relay Mark

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Texas Southern set a meet record of :41.1 in the 440-yard college relays and Houston ran the fastest four-mile baton trick of the season in the opening session of the Kansas Relays Friday.

Most records held fast, however, following a downpour during the morning and a light shower in the afternoon.

Texas Southern's Homer Jones, Berney Allen, Charles Frazer and Lester Milburn beat the college 440-yard relays record of :41.4, set by East Texas State in 1958, in the preliminaries.

Houston's foursome of three Australians and a Pole won the 4-mile relay in 17:02.3 with Berrie Almond's 4:08.6 on the third leg providing the winning margin over Missouri. Missouri had a 4:11 anchor leg by Bob Hanneken.

There was one notable absentee and another highly billed athlete met with mishap. Ralph Boston, Olympic and world record holder in the broad jump, didn't show up. A special broad jump event was set up just for Boston's appearance but his five-man Tennessee A&I team was withdrawn Thursday night.

Don Styron of Southern Illinois, much-travelled hurdler who set a world record in the 220-yard lows last year, knocked over his next-to-last barrier, fell to his knees, and failed to finish in the 400-meter AAU hurdles.

Cliff Cushman, Kansas graduate student who finished second in the Olympics in the 400-meter hurdles, won the event in the good time of :51. Rex Stucker of Kansas State was timed in :51.7 for second.

In bettering the 17:02.8 at the recent Texas Relays, Houston's 4-mile team of Al Lawrence, Almond, Pat Clohessy and John Macy got a tight fight from Missouri in all but Almond's leg.

Morris Patterson and Jerry McFadden of Missouri ran 4:21.1 and 4:16.9 to outdistance Lawrence and Macy the first 2 miles. Almond's 4:06.8 gave Texas Southern a 35-yard edge and Hanneken couldn't make it up against Clohessy.

Phil Mulkey of Memphis, Tenn., who is seeking his fourth straight decathlon title, had a leading total of 3,918 points after the first five events.

Elliott Captures Half-Mile Win At Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)—Herb Elliott, world record miler, won the Cambridge University half-mile in 1:53.4 Friday in his first middle-distance race in five months.

Floyd Receives Hickok Award For Knockout

The heavyweight champion received 54 first place votes and 212 points in the voting by a nation-wide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

ONE STROKE ADVANTAGE

Thompson Holds Slim Lead In Houston Golf Classic

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Peter Thomson mastered the back nine in a high wind Friday to retain his one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the $40,000 Houston Golf Classic.

Thomson finished early with a one-over 71 for a 36-hole 136 that stood unchallenged until Arnold Palmer, finishing late, missed a 3-foot putt on the final green that would have let him tie the Australian.

Palmer's 68 gave him a 137 and a tie for runner-up with Jerry Barber, Johnny Pott and Lionel Hebert.

Tommy Bolt, a former Houston carpenter, bogeyed the last hole after being heckled by the gallery and took his second straight 69 for a 138, two under par for the 7,122-yard, par 70 Memorial Park course.

Player declined to discuss the dismissal.

"These are things in my private life, and I don't discuss my private life with anyone," he said.

Thomson was the only player among the leaders to take nine pars on the back nine. All the others were over par on at least one hole.

Jerry Pittman, 24-year-old newcomer from Tulsa, was among those faltering in the high wind. Pittman actually held a one-stroke lead over Thomson after 27 holes. He had three bogeys and a double bogey, however, on the back nine for a 72 that dropped him to a 139 tie with Freddie Haas.

Gordon Jones, Orlando, Fla., also had 139, finishing late with a 72 after a first round 67.

Houston add classic golf b36 eliminated.

The leaders:

Peter Thomson	65-71—136
Jerry Barber	68-69—137

SWAC Teams Set For 3rd Tiger Relays

GRAMBLING, La (Special — All eight Southwestern Athletic Conference teams are expected to file entries in the third annual Grambling Relays here today.

The Grambling quarter of Frank Smith, Bill Brown, Bobby Porche and Johnson set a 440-yard relay record of :41.8 and pushed Texas Southern to a 1:27.3 in a half mile event last week. Coach Tom Williams can call on Wayne Curl, a 22.2 low hurdle, sprinter Carey Woods and James Tyrone to aid the above crew. Grambling has run :41.2 and 1:27.3 in the 440 and 880 relays.

Defending champs expected to be on hand are Donnie Davis Southern University — 120 high hurdles; Pat Arthurs, Arkansas AM&N running broad jump; and Stone Johnson, 100 yard dash. Southern University is the defending champ in the sprint medley relay, the two mile relay and the one mile relay. Southern ran 3:13.6 in this event last year.

Garland Boyett of Grambling is unbeaten in the shot this year and is expected to move up from his second place finish last year. Boyette has tossed the iron ball 54 feet 9½ inches this year. Joe Hall of Grambling and Charles Granger of Southern are expected to duel in the discus. Hall won at Southern last week with a 147-foot toss. Tommy Howard and Roosevelt Richardson of Grambling will attempt to defend the high jump crown won by Gramblinge Charles last year. They went 6-6 and 6-4 respectively last week at Southern.

Preliminaries will get under way at 9:30 tomorrow morning with finals in the discus, Javelin and spring medley coming before 11:15.

All other finals will begin promptly at 1:30 this afternoon with the first running event the 120 high hurdles scheduled at 1:45 p.m.

STYRON TRIPS ON LAST HURDLE

Texas Southern Sets Relay Mark

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Texas Southern set a meet record of :41.1 in the 440-yard college relays and Houston ran the fastest four-mile baton trick of the season in the opening session of the Kansas Relays Friday.

Most records held fast, however, following a downpour during the morning and a light shower in the afternoon.

Texas Southern's Homer Jones, Berney Allen, Charles Frazier and Lester Milburn beat the college 440-yard relays record of :41.4, set by East Texas State in 1958, in the preliminaries.

Houston's foursome of three Australians and a Pole won the 4-mile relay in 17:02.3 with Berrie Almond's 4:08.6 on the third leg providing the winning margin over Missouri. Missouri had a 4:11 anchor leg by Bob Hanneken.

There was one notable absentee and another highly billed athlete met with mishap. Ralph Boston, Olympic and world record holder in the broad jump, didn't show up. A special broad jump event was set up just for Boston's appearance but his five-man Tennessee A&I team was withdrawn Thursday night.

Don Styron of Southern Illinois, much-travelled hurdler who set a world record in the 220-yard lows last year, knocked over his next-to-last barrier, fell to his knees, and failed to finish in the 400-meter AAU hurdles.

Cliff Cushman, Kansas graduate student who finished second in the Olympics in the 400-meter hurdles, won the event in the good time of :51. Rex Stucker of Kansas State was timed in :51.7 for second.

In bettering the 17:02.8 at the recent Texas Relays, Houston's 4-mile team of Al Lawrence, Almond, Pat Clohessy and John Macy got a tight fight from Missouri in all but Almond's leg.

Morris Patterson and Jerry McFadden of Missouri ran 4:21.1 and 4:16.9 to outdistance Lawrence and Macy the first 2 miles. Almond's 4:06.8 gave Texas Southern a 35-yard edge and Hanneken couldn't make it up against Clohessy.

Phil Mulkey of Memphis, Tenn., who is seeking his fourth straight decathlon title, had a leading total of 3,948 points after the first five events.

Elliott Captures Half-Mile Win At Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)—Herb Elliott, world record miler, won the Cambridge University half-mile in 1:53.4 Friday in his first middle-distance race in five months.

Floyd Receives Hickok Award For Knockout

The heavyweight champion received 54 first place votes and 212 points in the voting by a nation-wide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

CONGO FUNDS REJECTED

U.N. Faces New Financial Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The United Nations was plunged into a serious financial crisis early Saturday when the General Assembly failed to approve a $100 million budget for the Congo peace operation during the first ten months of 1961.

The Assembly voted 45-25 for the proposed budget but Latin American and Soviet bloc opposition robbed the resolution of the necessary two-thirds majority. Twenty-seven countries abstained.

The failure to vote the funds in the final session of the 15th Assembly threatened to throw the question into a special session.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold announced two days ago that failure to vote him funds would force him to go to the Security Council for authority to liquidate the Congo operation.

Mongi Slim of Tunisia asked Assembly President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland not to close the session "until we have reached a formula for continued financing of the United Nations operation in the Congo."

He pointed out that the operation was already illegal, since Hammarskjold's authority to run up debts to keep it going had expired at midnight.

The Latin American countries fought the measure because they were unhappy over the amount of rebates proposed to help countries with low financial resources.

The Assembly Budget Committee had argued for weeks on a formula to fix the Congo costs, with the Latin American group demanding the setting of "an extraordinary formula for extraordinary expenses."

These delegations pleaded they were too poor to pay heavy costs of Congo operations or other peace programs at regular assessment rates.

The United States offered to pay nearly half of the $100 million — $32 million on regular assessment rates and $15 million in a voluntary contribution of cash and remission of Congo airlift costs.

But U. S. Delegate Philip M. Klutznick made it plain in committee and Assembly debates that the extra contribution was conditional and would be withdrawn unless the Assembly approved a principle that all members had a collective responsibility for peace program costs to be paid on any assessment the Assembly ordered.

Plane Overdue; Patrol Alerted In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Highway Patrol was alerted Friday night to search for a private plane overdue on a flight from White Plains, N. Y., to Guatemala.

The patrol said the Beechcraft Bonanza left White Plains last Sunday and has not been heard from since.

The pilot, believed to be a man named Keplewitz, had earlier flown the aircraft to New York state from Brownsville, Tex., via Houston, Tex., and Atlanta, Ga., the patrol said.

No other details were available, the patrol said.

New REA Head Is Speaker At Jennings Meet

JENNINGS, La. (AP) — Norman Clapp, new head of the Rural Electrification Administration, said Friday the Kennedy administration plans to restore the REA to its former preeminence.

In an address to the quarterly meeting of the Louisiana Electric Cooperatives, Clapp said emphasis would be placed on the generation and transmission of loans to electric cooperatives to assure abundant power at low cost.

Clapp, of Washington, said the REA would aid its borrowers to assure their territorial integrity.

$50 Frozen Meat Reported Stolen

Approximately $50 in frozen meat was stolen from a deep freeze in a storeroom at a Monroe home, it was reported to Monroe police Friday.

Mrs. W. F. Thurman of 1112 No. 5th St., turned in the report, police said.

SAM ORCHARD

Sam Orchard Heads Market Development

Sam Orchard, one of Monroe's outstanding sales executives, has been appointed to the important post of Trade Area Market development chairman for the Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber president Garland Shell in announcing Orchard's selection for the key - trade - area coordination position, termed Sam "a man with boundless energy and an engaging personality."

Orchard has been a leader in civic, professional and religious activities for the past two decades. The 64 - year - old native of St. Louis, settled in Monroe in 1926.

He immediately became active in the B'nai Israel temple, serving as President of the Men's club and also as a member of the Board of Directors.

Being a World War I veteran, Orchard's military background led him into a number of high offices in the American Legion. He was State Commander of the 40 and 8, District Commander, and Past Drapean National of the 40 and 8.

Too, he is past president of the Lion's Club of Monroe, Treasurer of the YMCA, past president of the High-12 Club. He is a member of the Shrine and has been a booster of the Pelican Boys State organization for over a decade.

Orchard is currently a member of the Louisiana Paper Company staff.

New Post Office Is Authorized At Harrisonburg

HARRISONBURG (Special) — A new Post Office building has been authorized for Harrisonburg.

This announcement, according to Postmaster Billy R. Johnson, coincides with the optioning by the Post Office Department of a building site on the south side of Sicily Street Between Short and Catahoula Streets (next to present location of old Aulin Store.)

"This new and modern postal facility," the Postmaster said, "will be constructed under the Post Office Department's commerical leasing program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise to obtain needed postal buildings.

Bidding forms, specifications and other pertinent data will be available to prospective bidders at the Post Office.

The site option will be transferred to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, and then will construct the building to Post Office Department specifications and lease it to the Department on a long - term basis, with lease renewal options running up to ten years.

4 Tech Coeds Seek Positions As Cheerleaders

Tech students who attend the assembly will be given ballots to mark before they leave, according to John David Stewart of Shreveport, who is chairman of the election. Working with Stewart is Gene Bryson, Shreveport. Both are members of the Student Senate here.

FERRIDAY (Special) — The Concordia Parish Red Cross fund drive has collected $2,591.37 by the end of its seventh week, with several areas not reported. Chapter officials said the drive will continue until the goal of $2,953 is reached.

'Teacher's Pet' Confesses To Fatal Stabbing

CHICAGO (UPI) — A teen-age "teacher's pet" confessed Friday night he stabbed his favorite schoolmarm to death with a switch blade knife in a grade school where children were busy at their classes.

Police said Arthur Lee Hester, 14, admitted he came up behind Mrs. Josephine Keane, 45, Thursday as she was stooping over in a book cupboard at the Lewis-Champlin Elementary Grade School on Chicago's southwest side.

Arthur said he had a knife in his hand. He said he tripped and the knife went into Mrs. Kean's back. It was an accident, he said.

But homicide chief Capt. William L. Coesfeld said the slight Negro boy went on to tell how he then stabbed Mrs. Keane three times in the side, turned her over, and drove th eknife into her chest three more times.

When a janitor broke into the locked room Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Keane's clothing had been disarrayed or stripped away. All evidence pointed to a sexual assault.

Coesfeld said the only apparent motive was the fact that Arthur had once been Mrs. Keane's favorite helper and had recently been demoted.

Honduras Break With Cuba Due

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI)—President Ramon Villeda-morales of Honduras announced Friday that this government has decided to break diplomatic relations with the government of Fidel Castro.

2 Latin Leaders Back Kennedy

URUGUAIANA, Brazil (AP) — The presidents of Brazil and Argentina declared Friday night their alliance with the West against communism and approved President Kennedy's "alliance for progress" in the hemisphere.

Wife Freed In Arkansas Slaying Case

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)— Virginia Rand, wife of a prominent Rogers, Ark., businessman, was acquitted Friday of a second degree murder charge in the fatal shooting of a man the state contended was her lover.

Mrs. Rand, after the jury's verdict, stepped from the courtroom a free woman for the first time since Aug. 9, 1959, when H. V. (Buddy) Clark, 33, a Rogers restaurant owner, was shot in the bedroom of her home.

She was charged with first degree murder but a grand jury indicted her on a second degree murder count. She was convicted in November 1959, but an Arkansas Supreme Court reversed that verdict on grounds that inadmissable and prejudicial testimony about her character had been presented.

Mrs. Rand, who had steadfastly denied any affair with Clark, did not testify in the earlier trial. But this time she went on the witness stand to say Clark invaded her bedroom while her husband was at a Georgia Army camp with the Army reserve.

She grabbed a pistol when he advanced on her, she said, and it went off during a struggle.

The state had contended Clark was shot while trying to break off an affair with Mrs. Rand. Clark died in a hospital operating room a few hours after he was shot.

Saturn Barge Is Damaged In River Collision

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The Saturn barge Palemon was damaged slightly Friday in a collision with a vessel in the Mississippi River, the Marshall Space Fight Center announced.

The flight center said the Palaemon, en route to Cape Canaveral, Fla., on a trial run, was involved in a minor accident with a Norwegian ship below New Orleans.

The above-deck hangar in which the Saturn booster will be transported to Canaveral was dented. But the flight center said neither a weight simulating the booster or an inert S-IV rocket aboard the barge was damaged. There were no injuries.

The S-IV rocket aboard the Palaemon will remain at Canaveral for use as an upper stage of the saturn launch vehicle.

Three Are Killed In Farm Crash Of FAA Plane

MUSTANG, Okla. (AP)—A C47 airplane operated by the Federal Aviation Agency spun to earth and exploded on a farm Friday, killing the three FAA instructors aboard.

Warren Smith, a spokesman for the FAA Aeronautical Center in Oklahoma City—about 10 miles from the crash site—said Cole and Donnelly were air carrier inspectors on temporary assignment at the center as instructors in the air transport rating course.

All three were qualified pilots said Smith, but it was not known who was flying the craft at the time of the crash. Smith said the plane was on a routine flight training mission.

JFK Admits Tax Program Faces Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy conceded Friday that his tax program faces a tough fight in Congress but said the rest of his legislative program has "done better recently."

Kennedy said he anticipated difficulty with his tax program in Congress because "the plan when it was sent up was intended to secure as much revenue as may have been lost because of the new tax credit plan."

The tax credit plan he referred to would give business certain concessions for investing new fund in plant and equipment. These concessions would cost the government an estimated $1.7 billion in revenues.

To make up the loss, Kennedy asked for tighter rules on expense accounts and foreign income, withholding taxes on dividends and interest, and repeal of two tax concessions now given those who get dividends from stock.

The people who would be hit by the proposed new tax laws, he said, would object.

To support his statement that his general legislative program was doing better recently, the President cited House action Thursday on his Social Security proposals and Senate passage of bills dealing with the minimum wage and aid for dependent children of unemployed parents.

Bob Kennedy To War On Price-Fixers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told the American Society of Newspaper Editors Friday that the Justice Department will be rough on price-fixers.

Kennedy said in his first address as attorney general that the recent jail sentences for seven executives of the electrical industry were just a warning.

The days of price fixers getting off with civil penalties are over" Kennedy said. "Too often in the past," he said, the government has behaved as though it was "handing out tickets for speeding or parking."

In a related development, Chairman William L. Dawson, D-Ill., announced that the House Government Operations subcommittee will begin hearings Tuesday on legislation requiring public exposure of private firms which submit identical bids to the federal government.

In other speeches before the newspaper editors, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon said deficit spending is bad. But he said if the economy does not operate at full speed, the federal government must go in debt to meet its responsibilities.

Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles told the editors the United States has been too inclined in the past to let other nations tell it what to do. Another speaker, State Department adviser Charles E. Bohlen, said the biggest question today is whether Russia wants to risk its own safety in order to spread world Communism.

Kennedy said price-fixing investigations were going on in every major city. When indictments are brought, he said, the government will fight pleas of no contest by defendants seeking to receive a light sentence.

Kennedy also asked for the help of newspapers in fighting crime and racketeering. He said 25 per cent of leads on criminal activities came from newspapers when he was counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee.

N.O. Financial Picture Gloomy

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The city administration painted a gloomy picture of 1961 finances Friday and revealed that New Orleans will be unable to issue a $3,050,000 in bonds for capital improvements provided for in the 1961 capital budget.

Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison said the city's bonding capacity has been sharply limited because 1961 property assessments showed only an increase of about $10 million. A hike of $45 million had been expected.

CONGO FUNDS REJECTED

U.N. Faces New Financial Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations was plunged into a serious financial crisis early Saturday when the General Assembly failed to approve a $100 million budget for the Congo peace operation during the first ten months of 1961.

The Assembly voted 45-25 for the proposed budget but Latin American and Soviet bloc opposition robbed the resolution of the necessary two-thirds majority. Twenty-seven countries abstained.

The failure to vote the funds in the final session of the 15th Assembly threatened to throw the question into a special session.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarksjold announced two days ago that failure to vote him funds would force him to go to the Security Council for authority to liquidate the Congo operation.

Mongi Slim of Tunisia asked Assembly President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland not to close the session "until we have reached a formula for continued financing of the United Nations operation in the Congo."

He pointed out that the operation was already illegal, since Hammarskjold's authority to run up debts to keep it going had expired at midnight.

The Latin American countries fought the measure because they were unhappy over the amount of rebates proposed to help countries with low financial resources.

The Assembly Budget Committee had argued for weeks on a formula to fix the Congo costs, with the Latin American group demanding the setting of "an extraordinary formula for extraordinary expenses."

Their delegations pleaded they were too poor to pay heavy costs of Congo operations or other peace programs at regular assessment rates.

The United States offered to pay nearly half of the $100 million—$32 million on regular assessment rates and $15 million in a voluntary contribution of cash and remission of Congo airlift costs.

But U. S. Delegate Philip M. Klutznick made it plain in committee and Assembly debates that the extra contribution was conditional and would be withdrawn unless the Assembly approved a principle that all members had a collective responsibility for peace program costs to be paid on any assessment the Assembly ordered.

Plane Overdue; Patrol Alerted In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Highway Patrol was alerted Friday night to search for a private plane overdue on a flight from White Plains, N. Y. to Guatemala.

The patrol said the Beechcraft Bonanza left White Plains last Sunday and has not been heard from since.

The pilot, believed to be a man named Keplewitz, had earlier flown the aircraft to New York state from Brownsville, Tex., via Houston, Tex., and Atlanta, Ga., the patrol said.

No other details were available, the patrol said.

New REA Head Is Speaker At Jennings Meet

JENNINGS, La. (AP) — Norman Clapp, new head of the Rural Electrification Administration, said Friday the Kennedy administration plans to restore the REA to its former preeminence.

In an address to the quarterly meeting of the Louisiana Electric Cooperatives, Clapp said emphasis would be placed on the generation and transmission of loans to electric cooperatives to assure abundant power at low cost.

Clapp, of Washington, said the REA would aid its borrowers to insure their territorial integrity.

$50 Frozen Meat Reported Stolen

Approximately $50 in frozen meat was stolen from a deep freeze in a storeroom at a Monroe home, it was reported to Monroe police Friday.

Mrs. W. F. Thurman of 1112 No. 5th St., turned in the report, police said.

New Post Office Is Authorized At Harrisonburg

This announcement, according to Postmaster Billy R. Johnson, coincides with the optioning by the Post Office Department of a building site on the south side of Sicily Street Between Short and Catahoula Streets (next to present location of old Aplin Store.)

"This new and modern postal facility," the Postmaster said, "will be constructed under the Post Office Department's commerical leasing program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise to obtain needed postal buildings.

Bidding forms, specifications and other pertinent data will be available to prospective bidders at the Post Office.

The site option will be transferred to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, and then will construct the buildng to Post Office Department specifications and lease it to the Department on a long - term basis, with lease renewal options running up to ten years.

4 Tech Coeds Seek Positions As Cheerleaders

Tech students who attend the assembly will be given ballots to mark before they leave, according to John David Stewart of Shreveport, who is chairman of the election. Working with Stewart is Gene Bryson, Shreveport. Both are members of the Student Senate here.

Parish Red Cross

FERRIDAY (Special) — The Concordia Parish Red Cross fund drive has collected $2,591.37 by the end of its seventh week, with several areas not reported. Chapter officials said the drive will continue until the goal of $2,953 is reached.

'Teacher's Pet' Confesses To Fatal Stabbing

CHICAGO (UPI) — A teen-age "teacher's pet" confessed Friday night he stabbed his favorite schoolmarm to death with a switch blade knife in a grade school where children were busy at their classes.

Police said Arthur Lee Hester, 14, admitted he came up behind Mrs. Josephine Keane, 45, Thursday as she was stooping over in a book cupboard at the Lewis-Champlin Elementary Grade School on Chicago's southwest side.

Arthur said he had a knife in his hand. He said he tripped and the knife went into Mrs. Kean's back. It was an accident, he said.

But homicide chief Capt. William L. Coesfeld said the slight Negro boy went on to tell how he then stabbed Mrs. Keane three times in the side, turned her over, and drove th eknife into her chest three more times.

When a janitor broke into the locked room Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Keane's clothing had been disarrayed or stripped away. All evidence pointed to a sexual assault.

Coesfeld said the only apparent motive was the fact that Arthur had once been Mrs. Keane's favorite helper and had recently been demoted.

Honduras Break With Cuba Due

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI)—President Ramon Villedamorales of Honduras announced Friday that this government has decided to break diplomatic relations with the government of Fidel Castro.

2 Latin Leaders Back Kennedy

URUGUAIANA, Brazil (AP) — The presidents of Brazil and Argentina declared Friday night their alliance with the West against communism and approved President Kennedy's "alliance for progress" in the hemisphere.

Wife Freed In Arkansas Slaying Case

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Virginia Rand, wife of a prominent Rogers, Ark., businessman, was acquitted Friday of a second degree murder charge in the fatal shooting of a man the state contended was her lover.

Mrs. Rand, after the jury's verdict, stepped from the courtroom a free woman for the first time since Aug. 9, 1959, when H. V. (Buddy) Clark, 33, a Rogers restaurant owner, was shot in the bedroom of her home.

She was charged with first degree murder but a grand jury indicted her on a second degree murder count. She was convicted in November 1959, but an Arkansas Supreme Court reversed that verdict on grounds that inadmissable and prejudicial testimony about her character had been presented.

Mrs. Rand, who had steadfastly denied any affair with Clark, did not testify in the earlier trial. But this time she went on the witness stand to say Clark invaded her bedroom while her husband was at a Georgia Army camp with the Army reserve.

She grabbed a pistol when he advanced on her, she said, and it went off during a struggle.

The state had contended Clark was shot while trying to break off an affair with Mrs. Rand. Clark died in a hospital operating room a few hours after he was shot.

Saturn Barge Is Damaged In River Collision

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The Saturn barge Palemon was damaged slightly Friday in a collision with a vessel in the Mississippi River, the Marshall Space Fight Center announced.

The flight center said the Palaemon, en route to Cape Canaveral, Fla., on a trial run, was involved in a minor accident with a Norwegian ship below New Orleans.

The above-deck hangar in which the Saturn booster will be transported to Canaveral was dented. But the flight center said neither a weight simulating the booster or an inert S-IV rocket aboard the barge was damaged. There were no injuries.

The S-IV rocket aboard the Palaemon will remain at Canaveral for use as an upper stage of the saturn launch vehicle.

Three Are Killed In Farm Crash Of FAA Plane

MUSTANG, Okla. (AP)—A C47 airplane operated by the Federal Aviation Agency spun to earth and exploded on a farm Friday, killing the three FAA instructors aboard.

Warren Smith, a spokesman for the FAA Aeronauuical Center in Oklahoma City—about 10 miles from the crash site—said Cole and Donnelly were air carrier inspectors on temporary assignment at the center as instructors in the air transport rating course.

All three were qualified pilots said Smith, but it was not known who was flying the craft at the time of the crash. Smith said the plane was on a routine flight training mission.

JFK Admits Tax Program Faces Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy conceded Friday that his tax program faces a tough fight in Congress but said the rest of his legislative program has "done better recently."

Kennedy said he anticipated difficulty with his tax program in Congress because "the plan when it was sent up was intended to secure as much revenue as may have been lost because of the new tax credit plan."

The tax credit plan he referred to would give business certain concessions for investing new fund in plant and equipment. These concessions would cost the government an estimated $1.7 billion in revenues.

To make up the loss, Kennedy asked for tighter rules on expense accounts and foreign income, withholding taxes on dividends and interest, and repeal of two tax concessions now given those who get dividends from stock.

The people who would be hit by the proposed new tax laws, he said, would object.

To support his statement that his general legislative program was doing better recently, the President cited House action Thursday on his Social Security proposals and Senate passage of bills dealing with the minimum wage and aid for dependent children of unemployed parents.

Bob Kennedy To War On Price-Fixers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told the American Society of Newspaper Editors Friday that the Justice Department will be rough on price-fixers.

Kennedy said in his first address as attorney general that the recent jail sentences for seven executives of the electrical industry were just a warning.

The days of price fixers getting off with civil penalties are over" Kennedy said. "Too often in the past," he said, the government has behaved as though it was "handing out tickets for speeding or parking."

In a related development, Chairman William L. Dawson, D-Ill., announced that the House Government Operations subcommittee will begin hearings Tuesday on legislation requiring public exposure of private firms which submit identical bids to the federal government.

In other speeches before the newspaper editors, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon said deficit spending is bad. But he said if the economy does not operate at full speed, the federal government must go in debt to meet its responsibilities.

Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles told the editors the United States has been too inclined in the past to let other nations tell it what to do. Another speaker, State Department adviser Charles E. Bohlen, said the biggest question today is whether Russia wants to risk its own safety in order to spread world Communism.

Kennedy said price-fixing investigations were going on in every major city. When indictments are brought, he said, the government will fight pleas of no contest by defendants seeking to receive a light sentence.

Kennedy also asked for the help of newspapers in fighting crime and racketeering. He said 25 per cent of leads on criminal activities came from newspapers when he was counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee.

N.O. Financial Picture Gloomy

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The city administration painted a gloomy picture of 1961 finances Friday and revealed that New Orleans will be unable to issue a $3,050,000 in bonds for capital improvements provided for in the 1961 capital budget.

Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison said the city's bonding capacity has been sharply limited because 1961 property assessments showed only an increase of about $10 million. A hike of $45 million had been expected.

Latest Methods In Car Business

Latest methods of communications are used in sales operations at Twin City Pontiac Inc., 1909 Louisville Ave.

Al Wilkinson, president, explained that "We recently installed two - way radio in all salesmen's demonstrators for better sales and service for the motoring public. I would say it is about the first in this part of the country."

Continuing, he said, "You've heard of instant coffee. We try to give instant service. We call the salesmen the minute men. If the car is in the caller's neighborhood, we can radio and send it right out. Calls can be made in a radius of 30 miles on the setup. We have pretty good coverage."

DEALERSHIP

Wilkinson has had the Pontiac dealership for about three years. Besides the Pontiac, it also handles the Tempest, which is built by Pontiac.

The firm maintains a service department which can handle repairs and body and paint work. There is also a wrecker service.

"We feel like we are a very aggressive dealership with the very latest in equipment for better service and sales," said Wilkinson.

Describing some of the equipment in the shop, he said, "We have new sunscope equipment so we can see the firing system of the car televised. You can look at all eight spark plugs and [illegible] on the television screen and see which one is weak. You can see each [illegible]. It [illegible] guesswork."

He also stressed that wheel alignment [illegible] services offered, using the latest methods.

Wilkinson [illegible] a native of Monroe. He is married and has three children.

RILEY BUICK INC.

Dealership Here Has Long Record

W. J. RILEY JR.

There has been a Buick dealership in Monroe for about 40 years.

The Agency, Riley Buick Inc., is located at 212 North 3rd, and is operated by W. J. Riley Jr., who is its president.

Riley acquired the agency June 1st of last year.

Prior to that he had been in business for 15 years with Riley Supply Company.

In his lineup of cars, in addition to Buicks, he handles Opels, which are compact autos made in Germany by General Motors.

OTHERS

An array of used cars is also available at Riley's.

The organization maintains a service department, and a well-equipped body shop which is under the supervision of Jimmy Gathright, manager, and John Justice, assistant manager.

Both men are well known around the northeast district for high quality workmanship on car bodies, Riley said.

"We really solicit all makes and models for service and body shop work," Riley said. "We can match any type of paint."

Riley is a director of the Ouachita National Bank, a member of the Kiwanis Club, and the Knights of Columbus.

He is a graduate of Louisiana State University College of Commerce, is married, and has three children.

The exposition of cars is open to the public.

Pistons Sign Dukes

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association have signed center Walt Dukes to a 1961-62 contract. The Pistons said Dukes recovered from a foot injury and surgery on a broken nose, which hampered his play during the final weeks of last season.

Dodge Displays Three Lines At Local Car Show

The Dodge line-up for 1961 includes the brand new compact Lancer; the low - price, standard - size Dart and the luxurious, low - medium - price Polara.

"For the 1961 model year we are providing a wider choice of cars designed to fit virtually every pocketbook and to meet the needs of almost every motorist," Byron J. Nichols, Dodge general manager, said.

"Dodge dealers are offering a selection of 14 sedan models, 10 station wagons, nine hardtops, and two convertibles, plus a number of models built especially for fleet buyers," he said.

Nichols said this is the second consecutive year that Dodge has expanded its lines "to meet the specific needs of a larger segment of the American car-buying public." He said Dodge dealers now market cars in the price classes where 93 per cent of the U.S.-built automobiles are sold.

In the fall of 1959, Dodge entered the low - price field with its popular Dart. Now Dodge has invaded the compact - car field with the Lancer. Prior to introduction of the 1960 models, Dodge marketed only medium - price cars.

Nichols said the Lancer is "an economy car designed for budget-minded families — from young people just starting married life to older couples living on retirement income."

All 1961 Dodge cars also feature:

Standard Torsion-Aire suspension, which makes possible a flat, smooth ride free from dip and sway.

Rugged Unibody construction, which gives Dodge cars greater strength, roominess and quiet.

Nichols said this is the second consecutive year that Dodge has expanded its lines "to meet the specific needs of a larger segment of the American car-buying public." He said Dodge dealers now market cars in the price classes where 93 per cent of the U.S.-built automobiles are sold.

In the fall of 1959, Dodge entered the low - price field with its popular Dart. Now Dodge has invaded the compact - car field with the Lancer. Prior to introduction of the 1960 models, Dodge marketed only medium - price cars.

Nichols said the Lancer is "an economy car designed for budget-minded families — from young people just starting married life to older couples living on retirement income."

All 1961 Dodge cars also feature:

Standard Torsion-Aire suspension, which makes possible a flat, smooth ride free from dip and sway.

Renault Gordini Wins Economy Contests

The Renault Gordini — the spirited French passenger car has won numerous economy runs and rallies in Europe in recent years.

The motorist who wants extra pep and added style without any sacrifice in economy of operation and maintenance will be especially attracted to the Gordini. It will, the local dealer said, be "an exciting addition" to the existing line of Renault passenger cars. Other cars in the line are the popular Dauphine, largest-selling four-door import, the low-priced 4CV and the stylish Caravelle sports type car.

The body shell of the new Gordini is the same as that of the Dauphine, but the Gordini has vented wheels of the Alfa Romeo type rather than disk wheels. these add a distinguishing touch to the car's exterior appearance. Interior upholstery is all vinyl or vinyl trimmed. There are matching colored floor mats, pockets in the two front doors, metallized interior hardware and two - tone steering wheel.

Riding quality of the Gordini, like that of the Dauphine, is enhanced by its unique coil spring suspension system. All four wheels are independently suspended, thus preventing road shock from passing from one wheel to another. In addition, front shock absorbers have variable - flexibility air cushions and rear wheels have, in addition to the shock absorbers, special cushions containing air at atmosphere pressure.

Menu Changed, Thieves Caught

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—For the past couple of weeks two larger classmates of Gary Brown, ninth grade student at Monroe Junior High School, had relieved him of the responsibility of eating his own lunch. It had been disappearing from his lunch bag.

But the recent absence of his lunch didn't cause Gary to bat an eyelash, but the effect elsewhere was discernible; two husky students wound up in the school nurse's room with a temporary gastronomical infirmity.

Embassy Phones 'Out Of Order'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Telephones of the Italian and British embassies in Havana suddenly went "out o order" Friday when reporters tried to question officials of the embassies about conditions in Cuba.

Both embassies were reached by telephone without difficulty.

When a call was placed to the Italian Embassy by the Miami bureau of The Associated Press, the embassy answered. When the reporter began his questions the line went dead.

Asked if the connection was still holding, the Havana operator replied "The number has gone out of order."

The experience was similar in a call to the British Embassy. Suddenly, as the questions started, there was a busy signal. The Havana operator came on the line.

She said: "I have verified the call. The line has gone out o order."

Auto Industry Plants In Full Operation Again

DETROIT (UPI)—Ward's Automotive Reports said Friday auto output in the U.S. this week will total an estimated 125,817 units with every auto assembly plant in the nation in operation for the first time in 1961.

Inventory shutdowns had kept one or more assembly plants idle in all previous weeks this year.

This week's car output was 10.3 per cent higher than production of 114,108 autos last week, but was nearly 20,000 units below output of 144,886 cars in the same week last year.

For the year to date, the industry has built 1,522,056 cars and 334,773 trucks for a combined output of 1,856,829 units. In the same period last year, the companies built 2,449,583 cars and 466,533 trucks for a combined production of 2,916,116 units.

PROLONGS LIFE

CHICAGO (UPI)—Steady use of anti-coagulants appears to prolong the life of heart patients, the Journal of the American Medical Association reported Friday.

The report described a study by Drs. A.B. Thomes, R.W. Seallen and I.R. Savage, all of Minneapolis. They found that blood clots recurred significantly less often in heart patients treated regularly with anti-coagulants and that the treated patients tended to live longer.

U.S. Clamps Secrecy On Missile Tests

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department has ignored [illegible] complaints of secrecy and [illegible] a blackout on information about missile tests, it was [illegible] Friday.

The [illegible] announced "a [illegible]" by Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester [illegible] "the official [illegible]." He said the move would make it more difficult for the Russians to obtain precise information [illegible] a security matter.

But those who oppose the edict, including many with long military experience, said Russia would go right on getting data on U.S. missiles from its tracking and electronic snooping ships while Americans would be left in the dark.

Earlier experience has indicated that information about failures will leak out unofficially, often in a form slanted to suit the views of the informant.

Sylvester's order came to light in the wake of protests by the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) about barriers to newsgathering in the Defense and State Departments.

There have been mounting complaints from newsmen about difficulties in gathering information on a variety of defense matters, ranging from broad policy actions down to small details.

The influential Army, Navy, Air Force Journal commented Friday that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Sylvester, who is in charge of Pentagon public relations, "are striving to increase the amount of information which they believe should be withheld from the public."

It said they are doing so "surely with full White House support."

Sylvester said his ban applied primarily to missile firings conducted at sea or from remote areas not accessible to the public.

SPIRITS STILL HIGH

Cubans In Florida Signing Recruits

By FRANCIS STILLEY

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — They are rather pitiful to see, those three little frame houses in the western section of Miami. They are weatherbeaten, their furniture decrepit, the walls and floors dirty.

But there is plenty of spirit in and around them.

These are the army and navy recruiting stations for would-be Cu[illegible] [illegible] to free their homeland from [illegible]. Furthermore, they'll be the first to beat the Communists [illegible] down.

At all three places the reporter was greeted with gracious smiles, the most hospitable treatment—and almost no information.

"Can not say, it is military secret," they will reply when asked how many recruits they've signed up. Then they will add: "Many, many. More every day than yesterday."

But spot checks of the three places Thursday and Friday showed no evidence of any great activity except at one, where army volunteers were being signed.

[illegible] middle-aged Cubans, standing around chatting.

At one army place three youths sat on the front steps.

"We are just waiting, maybe to go to Guatemala to train," said one. "We do not know when. We just wait. We would like to go soon."

Asked how many other recruits had been signed up at the post, the youth [illegible] "Oh, many. I think 3,000."

The [illegible] one of the others.

"Juan, you must not tell these things. Besides it was not 3,000."

"One thousand, maybe," said Juan.

"Juan, I say you must not tell. You can not tell military secrets. Anyway you do not know any military secrets."

The second army post presented considerable evidence of something stirring. In one room were 15 young men and others loitered outside in the yard.

In a small office were Garcias Fernandez, the chief and a former lieutenant in the Cuban army, two male aides and two girl secretaries. On the chief's desk was a high pile of filled-in recruiting forms. The girls were working on a mountainous heap of file cards.

Most unusual of all Cuban places here is a two-story former mansion in the southwestern section of the city, described by some sources as the staging post for transfer of recruits to camps in Latin America. But there was no sign of any such activity.

If You're Happy Organizer You're Likely A Safe Driver

Are you happy at home and with your job? If you are, you're probably a safe driver.

Are you a good organizer? Do you look ahead? Have you planned for your retirement, for example? If so, you are just as likely to look ahead and plan what you're going to do when you're behind the wheel of your car.

These and other characteristics of accident-free motorists were noted by scientists and safety experts recently during the first national study of what makes drivers safe.

The study was conducted jointly by the National Safety Council and Columbia University. [illegible] Dodge station wagons, equipped with special instruments by Dodge engineers, [illegible] participants in the research project. The tests were [illegible] from [illegible] to [illegible].

The director of the study, Dr. James L. Malfetti of Columbia University, and Columbia and the National Safety Council hope to develop safe driver standards for use in testing large groups of drivers. [illegible] standards would ultimately play an important part in licensing, selecting and training drivers.

Commenting on results of the study, Malfetti said:

"We found that youth and reaction time, now considered safe driver characteristics by some authorities, no longer seem meaningful.

"The safe drivers we tested had the unique ability — regardless of age or physical characteristics — to instantly organize a driving situation and react properly with an instinctive reflex. This ability appears to be the main difference between a safe driver and an unsafe driver."

All of the drivers tested were National Safety Council award winners. Some of them had physical defects but had learned to compensate for them, Malfetti said. He described the drivers' performance in terms of three "C's": caution, carefulness and courtesy.

"They used their [illegible] [illegible] normal driver sees. They seemed to anticipate well in advance what had to be done in every driving situation. They made a minimum use of acceleration and braking."

Malfetti, a psychologist, said the drivers had excellent control of impulses. 'They were easy-going, non-aggressive and non-competitive. They were satisfied with their present level of achievement and careful of finances."

Jeep Universal Sturdy Vehicle For Rugged Duty

Fisherman often find the best streams are inaccessible, that is, unless they have a "Jeep" Universal with its all - steel cargo bed.

The rugged 4 - wheel drive reaches the best fishing spots of all, and the CJ-5 was just made for rough, uphill going.

The vehicle is useful for other duties too. Many police forces and forest rangers find it just can't be beat for rugged assignments.

For farmers, ranchers and contractors, "Jeep" offers the 4-wheel drive pick-up, an attractively styled amazon. New color combinations make the pick - up striking in appearance, and traditional "Jeep" styling makes it the one truck everybody needs and wants.

Short overhang and wide-angled approach enable the "Jeep" truck to take sharp inclines without scraping.

U.S. Clamps Secrecy On Missile Tests

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department has ignored growing complaints of secrecy and clamped a blackout on information about missile tests, it was learned Friday.

The unannounced action was taken by Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester in an order stamped "for official use only." He said the move would make it more difficult for the Russians to obtain precise information about U. S. security matters.

But those who oppose the gag, including many with long military experience, said Russia would go right on getting data on U. S. missiles from its tracking and electronic snooping ships while Americans would be left in the dark.

Earlier experience has indicated that information about failures will leak out unofficially, often in a form slanted to suit the views of the informant.

Sylvester's order came to light in the wake of protests by the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) about barriers to newsgathering in the Defense and State Departments.

There have been mounting complaints from newsmen about difficulties in gathering information on a variety of defense matters, ranging from broad policy actions down to small details.

The influential Army, Navy, Air Force Journal commented Friday that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Sylvester, who is in charge of Pentagon public relations, "are striving to increase the amount of information which they believe should be withheld from the public."

It said they are doing so "surely with full White House support."

Sylvester said his ban applied primarily to missile firings conducted at sea or from remote areas not accessible to the public.

SPIRITS STILL HIGH

By FRANCIS STILLEY

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — They are rather pitiful to see, those three little frame houses in the western section of Miami. They are weatherbeaten, their furniture decripit, the walls and floors dirty.

But there is plenty of spirit in and around them.

These are the army and navy recruiting stations for proud Cubans who will proclaim with fierce intensity that they're going to free their homeland from tyranny, and furthermore, that they'll be the first to beat the Communists in a world showdown.

At all three places the inquiring reporter is greeted with gracious smiles, the most hospitable treatment—and almost no information.

"Can not say, it is military secret,' they will reply when asked how many recruits they've signed up. Then they will add: "Many, many. More every day than yesterday."

But spot checks of the three places Thursday and Friday showed no evidence of any great activity except at one, where army volunteers were being signed.

At the others there were only a half dozen middle-aged Cubans, standing around chatting.

At one army place three youths sat on the front steps.

"We are just waiting, maybe to go to Guatemala to train," said one. "We do not know when. We just wait. We would like to go soon."

Asked how many other recruits had been signed up at the post, the youth replied: "Oh, many. I think 3,000."

This drew a sharp rebuke from one of the others.

"Juan, you must not tell these things. Besides it was not 3,000."

"One thousand, maybe," said Juan.

"Juan, I say you must not tell. You can not tell military secrets. Anyway you do not know any military secrets."

The second army post presented considerable evidence of something stirring. In one room were 15 young men and others loitered outside in the yard.

In a small office were Garcias Fernandez, the chief and a former lieutenant in the Cuban army, two male aides and two girl secretaries. On the chief's desk was a high pile of filled-in recruiting forms. The girls were working on a mountainous heap of file cards.

Most unusual of all Cuban vlaces here is a two-story former mansion in the southwestern section of the city, described by some sources as the staging post for transfer of recruits to camps in Latin America. But there was no sign of any such activity.

Are you happy at home and with your job? If you are, you're probably a safe driver.

Are you a good organizer? Do you look ahead? Have you planned for your retirement, for example? If so, you are just as likely to look ahead and plan what you're going to do when you're behind the wheel of your car.

These and other characteristics of accident-free motorists were noted by scientists and safety experts recently during the first national study of what makes safe drivers safe.

The study was conducted jointly by the National Safety Council and Columbia University. A Dodge station wagon, equipped with special instruments by Dodge engineers, was used in testing participants in the 3-month research project. The tests were climaxed by a 1,200-mile drive from Fraser, Colo., to Death Valley, Calif.

The director of the study, Dr. James L. Malfetti of Columbia University, said Columbia and the National Safety Council hope to develop safe driver standards for use in testing large groups of drivers — standards which would ultimately play an important part in licensing, selecting and training drivers.

Commenting on results of the study, Malfetti said:

"We found that youth and reaction time, now considered safe driver characteristics by some authorities, no longer seem meanful.

"The safe drivers we tested had the unique ability — regardless of age or physical characteristics — to instantly organize a driving situation and react properly with an instinctive reflex. This ability appears to be the main difference between a safe driver and an unsafe driver."

All of the drivers tested were National Safety Council award winners. Some of them had physical defects but had learned to compensate for them, Malfetti said. He described the drivers' performance in terms of three "C's": caution, carefulness and courtesy.

"They used their eyes unusually well — seeing the total traffic situation far beyond what the normal driver sees. They seemed to anticipate well in advance what had to be done in every driving situation. They made a minimum use of acceleration and braking."

Malfetti, a psychologist, said the drivers had excellent control of impulses. 'They were easy-going, non - aggressive and noncompetitive. They were satisfied with their present level of achievement and careful of finances."

Jeep Universal Sturdy Vehicle For Rugged Duty

Fisherman often find the best streams are inaccessible, that is, unless they have a "Jeep" Universal with its all - steel cargo bed.

The rugged 4 - wheel drive reaches the best fishing spots of all, and the CJ-5 was just made for rough, uphill going.

The vehicle is useful for other duties too. Many police forces and forest rangers find it just can't be beat for rugged assignments.

For farmers, ranchers and contractors, "Jeep" offers the 4-wheel drive pick-up, an attractively styled amazon. New color combinations make the pick - up striking in appearance, and traditional "Jeep" styling makes it the one truck everybody needs and wants.

Short overhang and wide-angled approach enable the "Jeep" truck to take sharp inclines without scraping.

AMA REPORTS

22 Percent Of All Retail Sales In U. S. Are Autos

DETROIT (Special) — Twenty-two per cent of all retail sales in the U.S. are automotive, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reported.

This is one of the many motor vehicle and highway transportation items of information contained in the 1961 version of AUTOMOBILE FACTS AND FIGURES, statistical factbook just published by the AMA.

In a special center section, the annual booklet lists automotive retail sales at more than $45 billion for a single year. Total automotive retail wholesale and connected service business receipts exceed $93.5 billion, or 18 per cent of all such business activity in the country.

They show that one business in six is automotive and that 10,000,000 persons are employed in highway transportation industries.

AUTOMOBILE FACTS AND FIGURES also shows that the trend toward motor vehicle ownership and travel continued to grow at a rapid rate in the U.S. in 1960, topping most of the old records.

For the first time in history, more than 75 per cent of the nation's families now own at least one automobile. In fact, 13.4 per cent own more than one car.

Motor vehicle registrations reached a new high of 73,897,000. Of this number, 61,569,000 were passenger cars and 12,328,000 were trucks and buses.

This huge fleet traveled a record 720 billion miles on the nation's streets and highways, according to the statistical yearbook.

Second only to 1955, factory sales of motor vehicles in 1960 totaled 7,869,271 units. This includes sales of 6,674,796 cars and 1,194,475 trucks and buses with a combined wholesale value of $14,461,150,000.

Another first was chalked up by the industry in the sale of more than a million station wagons, a seven-fold increase over 1950.

Among other highlights in the more than 70 pages of charts and figures pertaining to the automotive industry and highway transportation are:

The motor vehicle industry purchases nearly $6 billion worth of goods produced by other industries in a single year, plus vast quantities of steel, rubber, leather and other raw materials.

Special motor vehicle tax collections reached an all-time high of $10.6 billion in 1960, including federal excise taxes of $4.5 billion. Special truck taxes equalled $3 billion.

Taxes take 26 cents of every dollar included in the delivered price of a new car.

This industry has turned out 185 million motor vehicles since 1900. More than 4 million vehicles are scrapped every year.

Of the motor cars now in use, 57 per cent are equipped with automatic transmissions, 22 per cent with power steering, and 20 per cent with power brakes.

Bomber Burns At Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A B47 jet bomber ran off the runway and burned at Little Rock Air Force Base early Friday. All four crewmen escaped without injury.

The plane was destroyed.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane was landing after a training mission when it crashed. Cause of the mishap was not immediately determined.

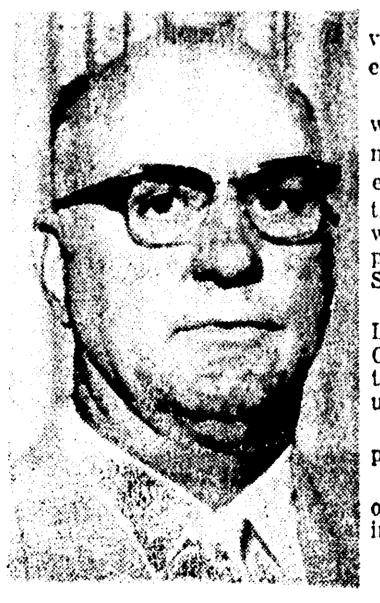
Veteran Dealer Heads Firm Here



F. N. (Sticky) STEELE

Steele Motors Inc., 1203 Louisville Ave., is headed by a veteran automobile dealer.

He is F. N. (Sticky) Steele, 56, who started here in 1924 as a mechanic's helper, and served in every department of the automotive retail business, climaxing with heading an agency. He is president and general manager of Steele Motors.

Cars handled by him include Lincoln Continental, Mercury, Comet, English Ford, and Mack trucks, in addition to inspected used autos.

Steele cited several interesting points about his background.

"I'm the oldest man in years of service in the auto business in Monroe," he said.

ORIGINATORS

He was one of the originators of the Louisiana Automobile Dealers Association and a charter member. He was also in on the launching of the National Automobile Dealers Association, and was one of the founders of the Monroe New Car Dealers Association a number of years ago.

At present he is a director of the Louisiana Automobile Dealers Association, representing dealers from the Fifth Congressional District. He also is area chairman of the National Automobile Dealers Association. He is a past president of the Monroe New Car Dealers Association.

Steele was born in Sterlington and raised in Monroe. In 1931-32 he served as a department official of the Ford Motor Company for a 2½ state area, headquartering in New Orleans, but continuing to maintain a residence in Monroe.

Steele has been in business in the current location for four years. All sales and service departments are at the same location. A wrecker service also is maintained. Mechanics and other personnel are factory trained.

He is married, has a daughter, and three grandchildren.

Continental Is Distinct Luxury In Automobiles

The 1961 Lincoln Continental marked the debut of a unique and distinctive luxury automobile in American transportation. Styled in the classical clean - lined tradition of its predecessors, the completely changed 1961 Lincoln Continental has smaller dimensions in height, width and length.

Exceptional mechanical reliability has been built into the car through a series of engineering techniques, including numerous exclusive features.

The Lincoln Continental is produced in two models, a four - door sedan and a four - door soft top with a completely automatic top. This is the first four - door soft top convertible built in American in many years.

The car is 212.4 inches long, 78.6 inches wide and 53.5 inches high with a 123-inch wheelbase. Engineers developed a car with improved materials, closer tolerances, precision fittings, and a stronger body with more and better sound - deadening materials.

For example, the car's torsional rigidity, or ability to stand twists and strains, has been improved by 67 per cent. Inside, comfort was improved by reducing the transmission hump by 50 per cent.

Civil Rights Suit Against Sheriff Is Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A $650,000 civil rights lawsuit filed by a Michigan convict against Sheriff Harold Norton of Jefferson County, Ark., was dismissed in U.S. District Court Thursday.

Sam H. Bell, an inmate at the Michigan state prison, contended that he was unlawfully confined in the Jefferson County jail from Feb. 5, 1960, to March 5, 1960, and then was turned over to Michigan authorities as a parole violator without extradition proceedings.

Judge J. Smith Henley said Bell's confinement in Arkansas was neither unreasonable nor unlawful because he owed $88.15 on a drunken driving conviction which he could not pay. He added that extradition proceedings were not necessary for Bell to be returned to Michigan because he had waived extradition which paroled from the Michigan prison in 1954.

Corvair Is Now Offering Full Line Of Autos

In addition to the three half-ton commercial cars previously announced, the company has disclosed that station and sports wagons have joined the family at the Auto Show of new models.

Thus, the superior riding and performance qualities which the Corvair pioneered in the small car field has become available to a majority of all transportation requirements.

Here is the Corvair lineup for 1961: Passenger cars — Club coupes, four-door sedans and a new Lakewood Station Wagon in the "500" and "700" series plus the deluxe Monza Sport Coupe and the new Greenbrier Sports Wagons. Commercial — Corvan, Rampside and Loadside trucks.

In appearance, the latest Corvair retains its lithe, symmetrical form. New styling touches and beautified interiors clearly distinguish the models as 1961's, but the low-slung, appealing profile remains unchanged. Also untouched are the engineering fundamentals which have made the Corvair the most talked-about automobile in America. The flat, air-cooled engine and transmission-axle combination are continued at the rear. Compact body-frame integration lends its special staunchness to all models.

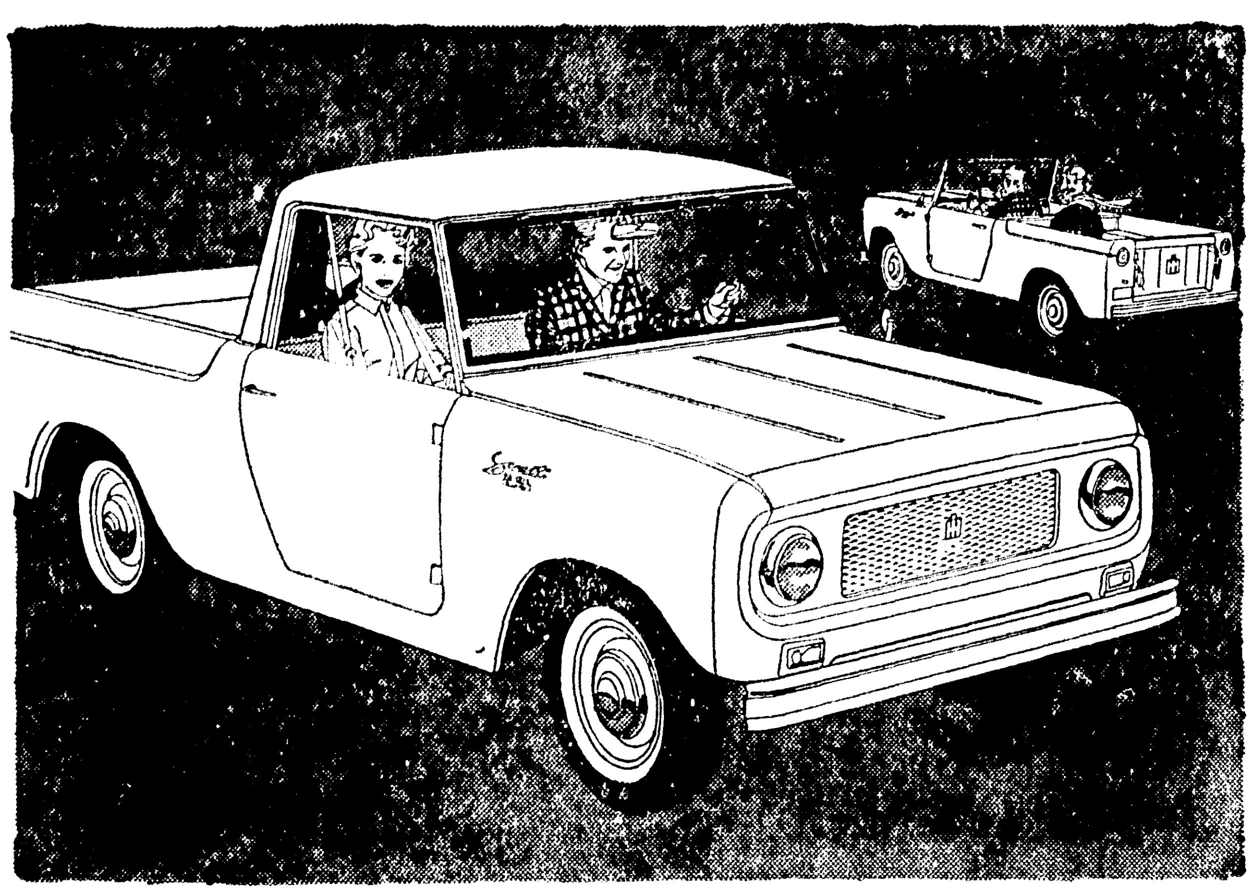
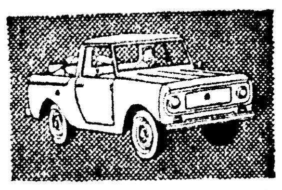
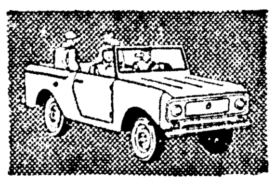
America's New WORK or PLAY WONDER!



It's a hardtop pickup . . . an open air runabout . . . an off-road workhorse . . . a whole new idea in low-cost transportation!



This is the Scout, a neat and nimble pickup. Small in size, light in weight. Fun to drive for business or pleasure.



Same Scout with the roof off. Top is removed in minutes, to give you a vehicle for any kind of activity.

HERE'S YOUR INTRODUCTION

The SCOUT is a completely new small general purpose vehicle. You'll find it ideal for getting you wherever you want to go — speedily, in comfort, and with ease. Its style, adaptability, and economy are sure to please you. Its unique contribution to the small vehicle field for both business and pleasure transportation is best seen in the International Harvester design and engineering of these four major units:

CAB—Fully enclosed, fully equipped, with a full-width adjustable seat for driver and passenger. It is convertible to open-air vehicle by the removal of the cab top. Fold-forward windshield, side windows and doors also are removable!

BODY—All steel, five foot pickup with big capacity for payloads up to 3,900 lbs. Extra passengers can be accommodated on the square wheelhouseings which extend the full body length on each side. A TRAVEL-TOP full body enclosure, with windows on each side, is optional.

CHASSIS—Choice of conventional rear axle drive for normal highway use, or all-wheel drive for maximum traction where roads are hazardous and grades steep.

ENGINE—The COMMANCHE, a new snappy-performing, four cylinder power plant developed by International to set a new standard of four cylinder performance, reliability, and economy.

Here's what the SCOUT adds up to: A mighty attractive "runabout" for work or play . . . attractive in appearance, low purchase price, and operating expense . . . easy to drive and comfortable to ride in . . . You'll like it at the first meeting . . . admire its smooth, swift action when you get behind the wheel . . . and glow with satisfaction when you become the owner of the SCOUT!

BIG WAGON...the TRAVELALL®

this one gives you family room on wheels!

It carries 9 people in comfort and safety, has lots of usable loadspace, goes anywhere on or off the road. The floor is flat and the tailgate folds down for easy loading. Rear window is electrically operated. Torsion bar independent front suspension* provides a smooth ride over any road without shake or shimmy. Rugged box-type frame* lends sturdy passenger and load support—won't twist or rupture. A clean underside offers extra ground clearance for travel off-road. And a standard INTERNATIONAL V-8 engine provides snappy power for any purpose, and saves as you go. All wheel drive available. The TRAVELALL® is so maneuverable a woman can handle it easily.

THIS FIAT 600 sun roof sedan, is among the selecton of these Italian made compact economy cars, which are handled in Monroe by Van-Trow-Olds-Cadillac, 1204 Louisville Ave.

OLDSMOBILE'S all-new and distinctive styling motif for 1961 is exemplified by this Super 88 Holiday Sedan, a four-door hardtop. Van-Trow-Olds-Cadillac, 1204 Louisville Ave. is dealer for this line.

Plymouth Hailed For Economy; 'Car Of Year'

The newly-styled Plymouth for 1961, with its look and feel of solid beauty and even greater stability, has been hailed by industry observers as "the most changed car of the year."

Long an economy leader in the low - priced field, Plymouth in 1961 has made major engineering and styling gains in the areas of economical operation, trouble-free driving, luxury - car appearance and solid riding characteristics.

The design of the car is smooth and uncluttered.

Viewed from the side in silhouette, the new appearance is most pronounced. Designers have reduced the mass of the rear of the car, added to the length of the hood, and used a minimum of side trim. The new design maintains superior directional stability by keeping the center of gravity and the center of pressure as close together as possible.

Plymouth is the recognized economy leader in the automobile industry.

For '61 it has improved upon the features which enabled it to win the Mobilgas Economy run for the four years and a double win last year in the V-8 and 6-cylinder engine classes for low-price cars.

ADAIR GMC

Trucks, Trailers Service Available

The powerful new trucks and trailers which help keep the wheels of industry going are stocked by Adair GMC Inc., 3103 Louisville Ave.

J. L. (Red) Adair is president of the organization and M. J. Carbone is vice president.

J. L. (Red) ADAIR

Adair is dealer for GMC trucks, ranging from one - half-ton to 20 - ton models, both gas and diesel types.

In addition to this he is distributor for American Trailer and Mid - West Grain and Cattle Bodies. Also in stock are used trucks.

"We also carry the largest stock of GMC parts in north Louisiana," Adair said.

REPAIR SHOP

Continuing, he pointed out, "We have the most complete truck repair shop in this part of the country. It has about $15,000 in equipment, and we can work on all types of trucks and trailers in the repair shop."

He is a member of the Monroe New Car Dealers Association.

Adair was born in New Mexico, and came to Monroe from Georgia in 1928. He worked for a parts company for 19 years and 11 months as a salesman.

Following this he became manager of West GMC Truck, and continued in this position for four years before buying the agency.

He has been operating Adair GMC since 1953. The firm has been in its present location for about four years.

Adair belongs to the Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce, Masonic Lodge, and many other civic organizations and clubs. He is a member of the committee on agriculture of the Monroe Chamber.

His organization employs 16 persons.

Adair is married and has one daughter.

Some of the latest models from the Adair GMC stock of trucks will be on display this week at the Auto Show at Eastgate Shopping Center.

Oldsmobiles For 1961 Are Distinctive

The 1961 Oldsmobile Dynamic 88's Super 88's and 98's in 18 different models incorporate the greatest changes in styling and design to be introduced by the division in many years, it was announced by Jack F. Wolfram, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Oldsmobile.

"In addition to their completely new, fresh and distinctive look, many design changes for passenger comfort have been made to make the 88's and 98's more attractive than ever before," Wolfram said. "Head room is increased, the cars are much easier to get in and out of, and seating comfort is greatly improved.

"This, together with many mechanical advancements, makes the 88's and 98's the most alert, best performing, most comfortable and smoothest riding and handling cars in the division's history," he declared.

"The smaller F-85, Oldsmobile's entry in the low - price field," he continued, "will attract the many, many people who have always wanted an Oldsmobile but never thought they could afford one — up until now."

Chrysler Sport Car Powerful, High Performing

Chrysler's 1951 version of its sports touring car, the 300G, has excited sports car enthusiasts.

America's most powerful production car, the 300G is the seventh of a series of high performance cars, pioneered by Chrysler in 1955. There has been a new model each year with a letter of the alphabet indicating the year of production.

The 300G retains many of the features of its predecessor, the 300F, including a sports car interior with four leather upholstered bucket seats divided by an instrument console front and rear. The standard version is powered by a 375 - horspepower ram induction engine with a heavy duty TorqueFlite automatic transmission.

New for 1961 is a Chrysler-built three-speed manual transmission with a floor mounted gear shift lever, available at extra cost.

Wheel diameter has been increased from 14-inch to 15-inch in 1961. The larger wheel diameters coupled with a newly designed ventilated wheel cover will allow much greater air circulation and more effective brake cooling action than last year. As a result, resistance to brake fade is greatly improved.

OLCOTT MOTORS

Firm Long Time In One Location

Olcott Motors Inc., 211 North 2nd St., has been in the same location for a record length of time.

A. G. Olcott, president of the firm, said, "I am the only dealer in Monroe of the original 17 dealers selling the same car in the same location since 1936."

He handles Plymouth, Chrysler, Imperial, and Valiant.

He is one the Chrysler Imperial Dealer Council for a five-state region including Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, and part of Alabama. And he is a past chairman of the Monroe New Car Dealers Association.

COMMITTEES

Olcott has served on various committees of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, board of directors of the Northeast Louisiana Shrine Club, is on the board of directors of the Monroe Lions Club and is a past president of the organization.

The dealer is married, has one daughter, and is a member of the Parkview Baptist Church of Monroe.

Before coming to Monroe in 1935, he was affiliated for 15 years with the Dodge, Plymouth dealer in Pine Bluff, Ark., which is the home town of him and his wife

He was service and salesmanager before becoming a dealer. In addition to new cars he also has used cars, and maintains a complete service department.

His interests extend beyond the auto business. I was the original number one dealer to sponsor a Little League baseball team," he said.

Vice president of the Olcott firm is J. Murphy Oliver, who was Dodge, Plymouth dealer in Bastrop for 15 years before his present affiliation.

At the local agency there is a complete servicing department where repairing and painting work is done.

The two partners were in the automobile business in Shreveport before coming to Monroe. There they operated a used car lot.

They acquired the dealership here October 30, 1956, and in 1959 bought the Jackson, Miss. dealership.

EXPERIENCE

Van Veckhoven has been in the auto business for 15 years, while Trowbridge has had 10 years experience.

Trowbridge graduated from Louisiana State University Law School in 1950, joined Van Veckhoven in the used car business in Shreveport in 1951.

Van Veckhoven served in the Marine Corps in the Pacific in World War Two, and Trowbridge was a World War Two Navy pilot.

Both are married. Van Veckhoven has six children, and Trowbridge has two children.

1961 Cadillac Features Many New Qualities

Cadillac for 1961 offers all new sculptured styling, outstanding comfort dimensions and advanced engineering improvement.

The number one car in the Cadillac line is the Fleetwood Sixty Special Sedan, according to Harold G. Warner, general manager of Cadillac and vice president of General Motors. The Sixty Special is given added distinction with its own individual silhouette and new standards of interior elegance.

In all of the 12 models styling features sculptured side metal, an outward flare in the lower sections of the doors and rear quarter panel and crisp and distinctive upper structures. The new upper windshield structure and thinner roof line add to the graceful, elegant silhouette.

New to Cadillac this year is a single exhaust system which has twice the life of the former dual system. The engine retains its compression ratio of 10.5 to 1 and 390 cubic inch displacement producing 325 horsepower.

THE 1961 LINCOLN Continental is a completely new, distinctive luxury car with smaller dimensions in length, height and width. The car is available in two models, the four-door sedan (above) and the only four-door soft top convertible produced in America. Local dealer is Steele Motors Inc., 1203 Louisville.

New Imperial Featured In Auto Show

The newly styled 1961 Imperial, featuring twin free-standing head lamps, will be a feature of the Automobile Show, reports C. E. Briggs, corporate vice president and general manager of the Chrysler and Imperial Division.

The 1961 models, he said, are fully as powerful and roomy as previous Imperials. The engine is rated at 350 horsepower, wheelbase is 129 inches, both unchanged from 1960.

The Imperial line includes a LeBaron four-door hardtop with limousine styled rear window and canopied effect in the roof which gives a town car appearance and feeling of privacy for rear seat passengers. The LeBaron, the top of the line, scored the biggest sales gains of all Imperials during the 1960 model year.

In the Imperial Crown series there are a four-door hardtop, a two-door hardtop and a convertible. A four-door hardtop and two-door hardtop are offered in the lower priced Custom series.

Imperial fabrics are more luxurious than ever. In addition, 10 new exterior colors are offered. Rich leather and wool broadcloth are available in Crown and LeBaron models. The LeBaron interiors are highlighted by deep quilting and pull-down buttons, further emphasizing the attractiveness and luxury of the automobile's interior. The new all-leather trim, standard equipment on the Imperial Crown convertible is also available as special equipment for hardtops.

Thirteen exterior colors are offered in 1961. The ten newer shades are generally brighter and higher in chrome, and include seven metallic enamels. Typical of the new hues are Autumn Russet, Coronaro Cream, and Malibu Tan.

Mechanical improvements include an alternator as standard equipment for improved battery charging at low engine speeds carburetor improvements and refinements in the electrical system, steering gear, brakes and suspension. There is a new electrically operated windshield washer which sends four high-pressure jets of washer fluid against the windshield.

AT THE AUTO SHOW

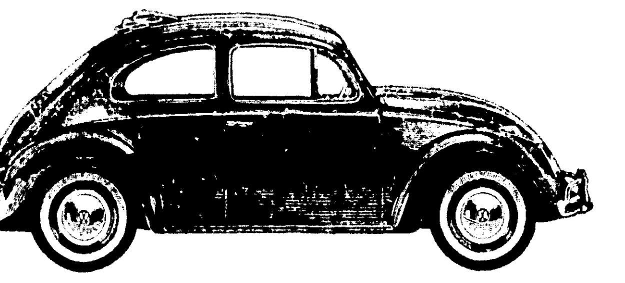
We will have every member of the fine Volkswagen Family on Display at The Auto Show. This will give you the opportunity to see them all together . . . Sedans, Convertibles, Station Wagons, Sports models, and Trucks. We'll be looking for you at the Auto Show.



VOLKSWAGEN SEDANS

When you buy Volkswagen you get more than just a new car or truck . . . you become the proud owner of a Masterpiece in engineering . . . design . . . and economy. The people who make Volkswagen have devoted years of testing and proving to make this ownership possible for you.

Volkswagen's precision comes as a revelation to people who are accustomed to other cars. The excellence of its workmanship is striking. You can see it in the way a VW is put together. Tightly. Every part down to the smallest component is tested for accuracy and fit, an impossible luxury in most mass-produced cars.

The Volkswagen's air cooled aluminum-magnesium engine is a model of efficiency and precision. It is a four-cylinder, four-cycle overhead valve power plant with two pairs of horizontally opposed cylinders. Its entire purpose is to give you low friction, long wear and remarkable endurance and economy. The engine is air cooled so normal radiator problems are done away with.

We could go on and on about the many outstanding VW features, but there's a better way for you to find out about Volkswagen . . . We will have on display at the Auto Show a Cut-a-Way model of the standard Volkswagen so that you can look right into the heart of the Volkswagen Masterpiece.

SCOTT TRUCK AND TRACTOR

Firm Maintains Area Branches

Scott Truck and Tractor Company, 720 DeSiard, has been in business since 1939.

At present, besides its location in Monroe, it has agencies in Rayville, Delhi, Bastrop, and Winnsboro. Tom Scott is president.

The organization has the International Harvester Company line of motor trucks and farm equipment. This includes station wagons, trucks, ranging from pickups through 80,000 pound capacity vehicles, of both gasoline and diesel types.

Its tractors are of the Farmall variety, that range from the smallest to the largest type of farm tractors.

In addition to these vehicles, Scott Truck and Tractor Company has a full assortment of farm implements.

COVERAGE

Pointing out the new coverage beyond the sale of new vehicle and implements, a spokesman said, "We maintain for our entire line, parts sales and service."

He added, "We will have trucks and station wagons at the auto show this week. There will be sales personnel there to talk to anyone interested in talking about details of the various vehicles."

Scout Is New, Small General Purpose Vehicle

The Scout is a completely new small general purpose vehicle. You'll find it ideal for getting you wherever you want to go — speedily, in comfort and with ease. Its style, adaptability and economy are sure to please you!

The unique contribution of the Scout to the small vehicle field for both business and pleasure transportation is best seen in the International Harvester design and engineering of these four major units:

Cab — Fully enclosed, fully equipped, with a full - width adjustable seat for driver and passenger. It is convertible to an open - air vehicle by removal of the cab top. Fold-forward windshield, side windows and doors are also all removable!

ALL STEEL

Body — All - steel, five - foot pickup with big capacity for payloads. Extra passengers can be accommodated on the square wheelhousings which extend the full body length on each side. A Travel-Top full body enclosure, with windows on both sides and in lift gate, is optional.

Chassis — Choice of conventional rear - axle drive for normal highway use, or all - wheel drive for maximum traction and flotation off highway, or where roads are hazardous and grades steep.

Engine — The Comanche, a new, snappy - performing, four-cylinder power plant developed by International to set a new standard of four - cylinder performance, reliability and economy.

Pontiac Shows Wide Selection In Body Styles

Pontiac's dynamic new line of 1961 automobiles will be on display at the auto show in a wide selection of body styles and color combinations.

Finished in a brilliant array of Magic - Mirror acrylic lacquer colors, the 1961 Pontiacs are offered in 15 different body styles, comprising the Bonneville, Star Chief, Ventura and Catalina series.

The new Pontiacs are lower, shorter and narrower, yet actual passenger compartment space has been increased. Pontiac's famous wide track design, prevailing in each series, is proportionately increased. Also important among the car's completely new engineering features is a new perimeter frame, new front and rear suspension systems and a lighter, more efficient V-8 engine.

Accentuating the wide, low front end appearance is an expansive hood, channeled on either side of its centerline, which tapers forward with narrow fenders to meet a dominant twin girlle of three dimensional design. Each grille houses dual headlamps and an impressive two bar type wrap around bumper adds further prominence to the front end design.

Long sweeping sculptured lines highlight the side view. A tasteful chrome moulding, gracefully spans the entire length of the car. A unique bumper design, attractively integrated with the body, distinguishes a sharply profiled rear end. Sweeping abruptly upward to cap the rear fenders, the bumper frames a low, rearward slanting trunk lid and a narrow panel containing tail lamps and Pontiac or series name.

Wheelbases measure 119 inches with Catalina and Ventura models and the Bonneville Safari; 123 inches with Star Chiefs and the other Bonnevilles. Overall lengths begin at 209.7 inches with all Safari models and extend to 217 inches with sedans and coupes in the Star Chief and Bonneville series. Heights range from 54.9 inches with convertibles up to 56.9 inches with station wagons. All new Pontiacs have an overall width of 78.2 inches.

Nobody puts more into a low-price compact than Valiant!

And price is just the start of Valiant's value story! As standard equipment, Valiant offers a combination of extra-value features you just can't find on any other compact at Valiant's low 1961 asking price.

Valiant protects your investment like a bank vault. Like how? Like a Valiant delivered 26.13 miles per gallon in the 1961 Mobilgas Economy Run. So you can bet Valiant puts a lot of miles between gas pumps! Like a battery-saving alternator that delivers current—even at idle—to prolong battery life. Heck, we ran a Valiant—without a battery—from Detroit to Chicago!

Valiant's built like a bank vault, too. Unibody construction teamed with Torsion-Aire suspension delivers solid riding comfort combined with rare road control that a lot of European sports cars would trade their wire wheels to match.

Friend, for looks and liveliness, long life and low price, you go buy Valiant. Because nobody—but nobody—gets more out of a low-price compact than Valiant owners. Ask 'em! Then see the man who sells 'em—this week!

See the new COMET S-22...and take your seat in the newest, niftiest interior under the smartest roof in the compact field.

Foam-contoured bucket seats up front (adjust them separately), map locker in between. Full-width, foam-padded back seats. Silky, morocco-grain vinyl coverings on seats and door panels. Deep loop-yarn carpeting. Tasteful ornamentation. 17 stunning color schemes. It's elegant yet it's practical. It's the newest...it's for you...the Comet S-22. See it! And price is just the start of Valiant's value story! As standard equipment, Valiant offers a combination of extra-value features you just can't find on any other compact at Valiant's low 1961 asking price.

Valiant protects your investment like a bank vault. Like how? Like a Valiant delivered 26.13 miles per gallon in the 1961 Mobilgas Economy Run. So you can bet Valiant puts a lot of miles between gas pumps! Like a battery-saving alternator that delivers current—even at idle—to prolong battery life. Heck, we ran a Valiant—without a battery—from Detroit to Chicago!

Valiant's built like a bank vault, too. Unibody construction teamed with Torsion-Aire suspension delivers solid riding comfort combined with rare road control that a lot of European sports cars would trade their wire wheels to match.

Friend, for looks and liveliness, long life and low price, you go buy Valiant. Because nobody—but nobody—gets more out of a low-price compact than Valiant owners. Ask 'em! Then see the man who sells 'em—this week!

line of Volkswagens here. Auto Show visitors will have an opportunity to look over these models.

Included in this lineup are Volkswagen passenger, and the Karmann Ghia coupe and convertible sports cars, which are the fancier styles.

PIONEERED

Edwards said, "Volkswagen pioneered the full line of economy trucks and station wagons which are changing the face of the world's largest industries by pointing out the desire of the public to have low cost, practical transportation."

Edwards has been the authorized Volkswagen dealer for four years, but he has been in the automotive business in Monroe for 12 years. He was in the sale field before taking on a dealership.

SERVICE

He maintains a service department and in regard to this said "Greatly aiding in the steady increase in the sale of Volkswagen is the company's insistence that service is just as important as sales. We have a full line of Volkswagen parts and accessories and employ seven factory trained mechanics."

The firm's trade area covers some nine parishes in northeast Louisiana. Edwards said that the 1961 model of the Volkswagen has 27 mechanical improvements, but looks the same. He listed the most important change as the increase in horsepower from 36 to 40. He said the German made car is the leader in the import field.

Edwards is married and has three small children.

'61 Thunderbird Gives Luxury And Durability

The 1961 Thunderbird, third expression of the classic Thunderbird design, has introduced new standards of luxury convenience, durability and performance while maintaining the elegant styling that means Thunderbird to admirers of fine motor cars everywhere.

Along with new styling, the Thunderbird offers a new 390-cubic-inch engine, a revolutionary steering column and wheel that move out of the way for easier driver entry and exit, more interior room, greater durability through the use of rust- and corrosion-resistant materials in the underbody, and a wide range of standard equipment that is optional on most other cars.

The 1961 Thunderbird will carry a written dealer warranty extended to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Two Thunderbird models — a hardtop and a convertible — are offered for 1961. The fully automatic convertible soft top retracts into the trunk compartment to provide a sleek, uncluttered silhouette.

New as it is, the Thunderbird retains many of the famous characteristics of its predecessor — the distinctive roofline, the crisp fender lines, the unique console and rich interiors. Restyled for a modern, sophisticated appearance, the new Thunderbird grille and front bumper design has a swift, integrated look, and the round taillights lend a dramatic new appearance to the rear end.

HAL FARMAR

Both brothers are well experienced in the automotive field, starting first in the used car business. In their present setup they handle both new and used cars.

J. E. started in the automobile business around 1935, and Hal entered the field in 1941.

They belong to the Monroe New Car Dealers Association, the Louisiana Dealers Association and the National Automobile Dealers Association. Both are members of the Moose Lodge, and have membership in the First Presbyterian Church of Monroe.

Their organization has a service department and specializes in repairing as well as installing air conditioning in all types of cars.

They are married. Hal has two daughters, and J. E. has two daughters and one grandson.

Rambler For '61 Features New Engineering Wor

Major engineering innovations highlight the 1961 line of Rambler Six and V-8 models of American Motors. The new models of the automobile that touched off the compact car revolution are designated the "Classic" series, according to Roy Abernethy, vice president of automotive distribution and marketing.

The Rambler Classic Six features a new six-cylinder engine with a die-cast aluminum block, the first aluminum engine block produced in America for passenger car use by the die-cast method. The new engine weights 80 pounds less than the comparable cast iron engine on the 1960 Rambler and provides new ease of handling and steering, Abernethy said.

"The new aluminum - block engine represents a major breakthrough in lightweight automotive design," he said. "Production was preceded by more than six years of American Motors' design experience with die-cast aluminum engines and the development of specialized production facilities costing more than five million dollars."

The aluminum block engine is the result of a cooperative research and development program between American Motors and the Doehler - Jarvis Division of the National Lead Company, which will perform the die-casting operation in its Toledo, Ohio, plant.

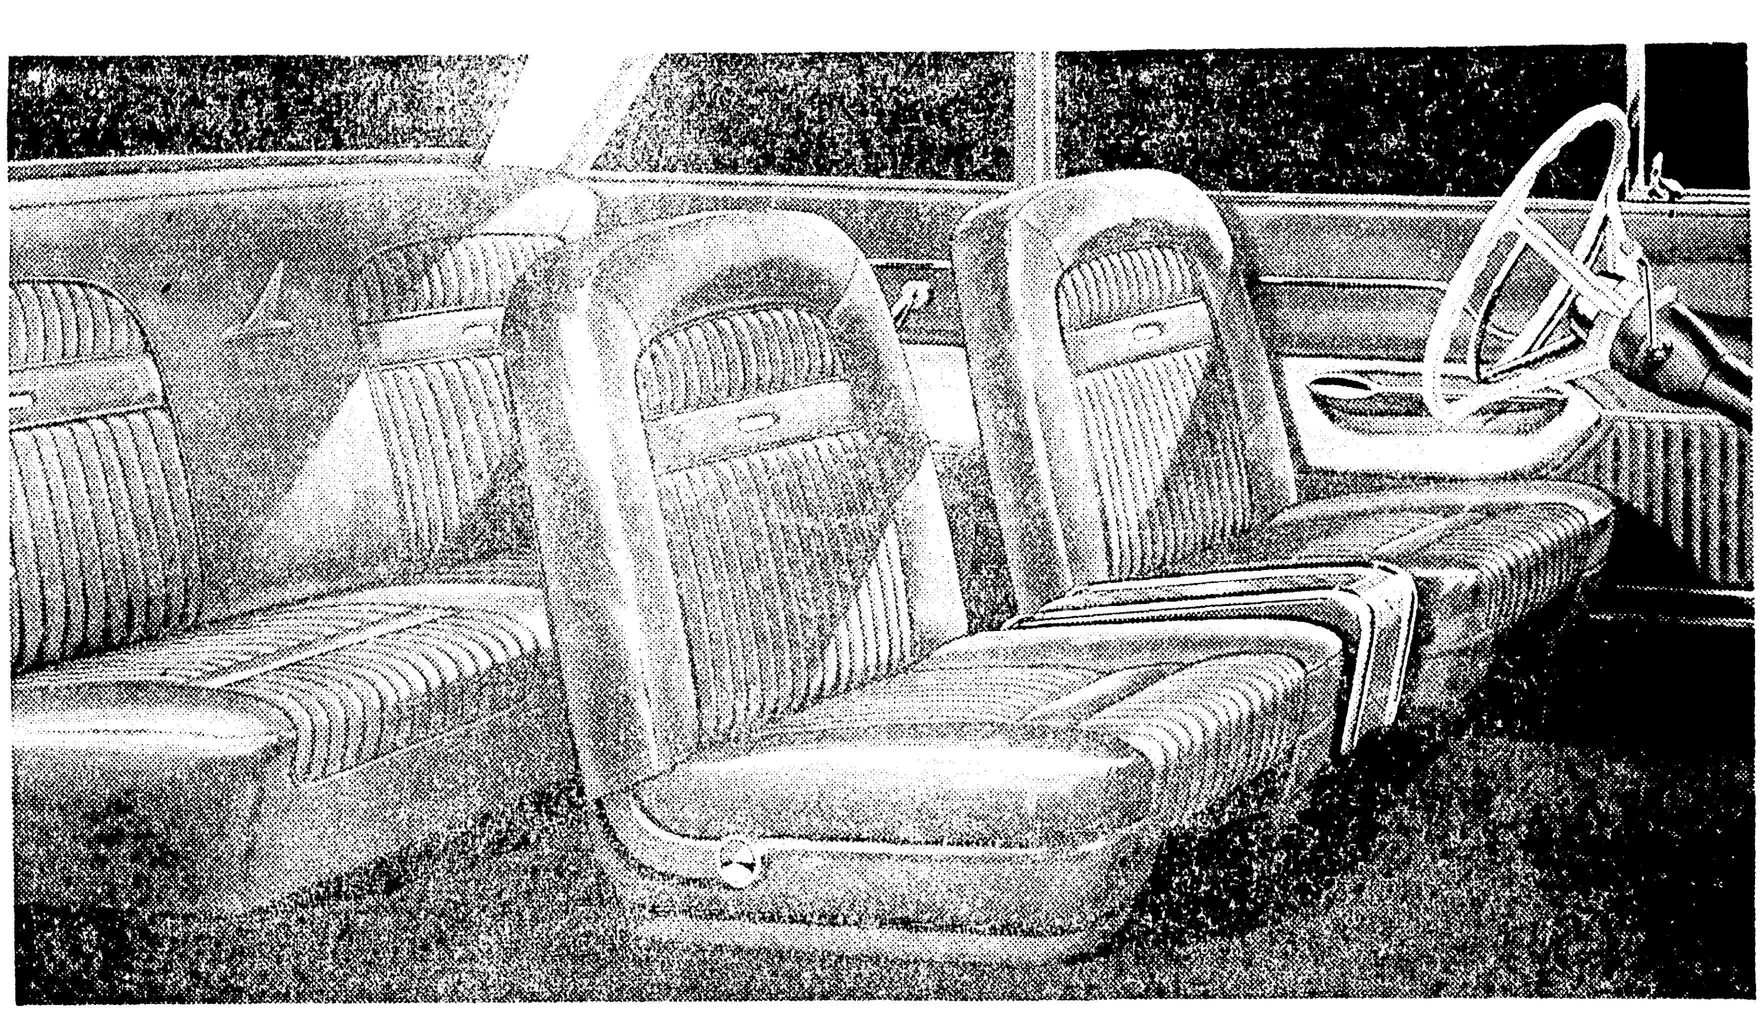
COMPACT COUSIN OF THE THUNDERBIRD



There'll be many wonderful new things for you to see in Brown-Rivers-Scogin's exhibit at the Auto Show. One of 'em is the Falcon Futura, new luxury version of America's favorite compact. An exciting new personal car. Try the comfort of custom-contoured twin front seats—take in the gleaming trim, the glowing colors the deep wall-to-wall carpeting. And notice the custom console for personal effects—between the front seats. Ohly the men who designed Thunderbird could have created this masterpiece!

Economy where it counts! For all its elegance and luxury, Futura never forgets its Falcon breeding. Its engine is the famous Falcon Six, that proved its economy when a Falcon with standard transmission obtained a phenomenal 32.68 miles per gallon in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run . . . the best gas mileage ever obtained by a 6- or 8-cylinder car in the 25-year history of the Run! For those who are more performance-minded, Futura also offers a zesty, new 170 Special engine.

Priced where you want it! The new Falcon Futura gives you all these luxurious features . . yet it's priced *way below other luxury compacts—even below some standard compacts! Who could ask for anything more?

BLOW TO PRESTIGE

Latins Blame U.S. For Cuba Invasion

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —A young woman hurrying home from her office this week was stopped short by a crowd of demonstrators in downtown Rio de Janeiro.

"What's going on?" she asked.

"Demonstration against the invasion of Cuba," said a bystander.

"Oh, good," she said. "I don't like Fidel Castro but they ought to leave him alone."

The mob was shouting "Kennedy, Yankee bandit!" and "To the wall with North Americans!"

Later on Rio's main street, a young man sat in a sidewalk cafe drinking beer.

"How can we trust Kennedy now?" he said. "He seemed sincere to us at first. He offered us help. But can we believe he really wants to help us? He said the United States would not send military forces to Cuba. But look now."

The picture of a Cuban David against a North American Goliath was coming through for many Latin-American minds. The U.S. message—that it was not involved in Cuba but supported Cubans fighting a Castro dictatorship — was not coming through for many.

Kennedy's multimillion-dollar aid program was becoming suspect in the bargain.

"You can't tell me," said a Brazilian student, "that the United States did not morally and financially support this invasion. Many of us do not favor Fidelism but we feel time would have taken care of it. Castro's revolution was part of the Latin-American revolution; everything would have worked itself out in time."

Here in Brazil—Latin America's largest nation—that seems to be the predominant viewpont: Fidelism would have just faded away. The dangers felt by North Americans 90 miles away from it are not felt here.

The talk here is that the U.S. program for Latin America may be dealt a serious blow. Among some diplomatic observers there is a thought that a fast blow, felling the Castro regime, might have met with heavy Latin-American criticism but it would have been an accomplished fact. The criticism would soon have died down with a return of democratic government to Cuba.

"There's an old saying," said one observer, "that if the situation is bad enough to draw your gun, then shoot it."

Canada Protest On U.S. Cuban Stand Proposed

OTTAWA (AP)—Foreign Minister Howard Green reacted acidly Friday to a suggestion in Parliament that Canada protest to the United States against that country's "proposed intervention in Cuba."

H. W. Herridge of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation party, who made the suggestion, asserted that President Kennedy in his speech Thursday clearly announced a decision to use American power if necessary to assure the success of counterrevolutionary forces in Cuba.

"I don't know if he (Herridge) wants us to declare war on the United States or not," replied Green to the laughter of Conservative backbenchers. "Issues of this kind are dealt with in a more diplomatic fashion than that proposed by the honorable member."

Herridge pursued the question: As a friendly nation should Canada not take up the Cuban issue with the United States? And should it not also place its views before the United Nations?

Green merely replied that Herridge's statements were "not stamped very heavily with friendliness toward the United States."

Air Support Lack Costly To Invaders

By BEM PRICE

GUANTANMO BAY, Cuba (AP) — A bitter underground source charged Friday anti-Castro elements botched their invasion by not providing proper air support and by failing to seize local radio stations and rally the masses.

The invaders made no effort to capture local radio stations, he said, and this, coupled with mass arrests, left the people who might have risen against the Castro regime leaderless and bewildered. Rebels who managed to hole up in Oriente Province are complaining their air support was too little and too old, he added.

"They were trying to furnish air cover with B26s," the source said, "which did not have a chance against the T33 jets."

The Castro regime is known to have a number of these American-made trainers, which however slow they may be compared to modern jets, are far superior to World War II B26s.

Anti-Castro elements feel the United States has bungled, the informant said, by not giving direct support to the counterrevolutionaries. But Cuban intellectuals still at large were reported heartened by President Kennedy's speech Thursday declaring Cuba will not be abandoned to the Communists.

The government radio in Santiago asserted the United States was afraid to aid the invaders because of the Soviet Union's military might.

"The United States does not dare intervene," a government announcer said, "because of the vastly superior forces of the U.S.S.R., which have equipment much more modern than that possessed by the Yankees."

The broadcaster then labeled President Kennedy an "imbecile" and "moron."

Castro militiamen in Oriente Province, in easternmost Cuba, were reported by underground sources to be carrying out mass arrests, stuffing prisons at Boniato, Santiago, Bayatre and San Antonio.

CUBAN INVASION

Setback Blamed On Soviet Arms

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cuban Revolutionary Council, conceding a grave reverse at the hands of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's forces, blamed the setback to its landing forces on Soviet tanks and MIG planes.

However, council leader Jose Miro Cardona refused to call it a defeat. With his own son reported to be a captive of Castro forces, Miro Cardona ended in tears a news conference Friday in which he declared:

"It is a setback. The majority of those who landed are actually fighting. It was one more of many landings that have taken place and will continue to take place. The struggle, therefore, goes on and will go on with renewed vigor until the end."

Miro Cardona was vague about what kind of help he wants from other nations of the Western Hemisphere. At one point, he said the United States should not intervene, that "this is the fight of the Cubans and by the Cubans."

At another point, however, he spoke of doing away "with the formalties of nonintervention" and declared that Cuba must be freed of Castro "with the coordinated force of all the nations of this continent."

Miro Cardona reappeared tro rebels, claiming 23 prisoners had been shot to death in the last 48 hours. Among those captured, he added, was his son and the sons of two other council leaders. He did not indicate any knowledge of their fate, however.

Miro Cardona and other top revolutionary council leaders disappeared after last weekend's Cuban landings. They were believed to have gone to the Miami area, although Miro Cardona at one point indicated he was out of the country.

Asked whether he had been in Cuba, he replied: "I was in a very near place."

Miro Cardona reappeared Wednesday afternoon in Washington where he talked with President Kennedy. He said he asked the White House to intercede with the International Red Cross and Latin-American countries to prevail on Castro against bloody reprisals on prisoners.

Miro Cardona, a thick-set man with bushy eyebrows, thinning gray har and dark-rimmed spectacles, met some 250 newspapermen, photographers and cameramen in the heavily guarded main ballroom of the Belmont-Plaza Hotel. With him were half a dozen other council leaders.

He opened the news conference by reading in English in a firm, steady voice a prepared statement by the council. He then answered reporters questions in Spanish through an interpreter.

Finally, Miro Cardona repeated the prepared statement in Spanish for Spanish-speaking press representatives. Toward the end of this second reading, Miro Cardona's voice quivered with emotion. As he ended his supporters embraced him and tears coursed down his cheeks.

Buick Line Finest Ever For 1961 Is

The Special, Buick's entry in the economy field, features a 155 horsepower, aluminum V-8 engine and a new lightweight transmission. It is 188 inches long and weighs only 2,700 pounds, 1,600 pounds lighter than conventional-size Buicks.

The Special's horsepower - to - weight ratio provides lively performance characteristics comparable to the larger models.

The Special is available in two body styles, a four - door sedan and a four - door station wagon with a standard and deluxe version of each.

The entire Buick line is styled with clean, sweeping lines, a conspicuous absence of chrome, and from the Special through the Electra 225 more headroom and greater passenger comfort are achieved through extensive engineering and styling changes.

Riding comfort has been improved by lowering the transmission tunnel and the additional headroom has been provided by the use of a completely new frame design.

The Buick Special engine weights only 318 pounds and is the lightest liquid - cooled power plant per cubic inch of displacement on the market. It produces 220 foot - pounds of torque, has an 8. 8-to-1 compression ratio and uses regular gasoline. Aluminum components include the cylinder block and heads. Alloy iron cylinder sleeves are cast integrally within the block.

Four V-8 engines available in the regular line employ a wide variety of aluminum alloy parts, too, with a resultant weight reduction and efficency increase for all '61 Buick models.

Lawyers Oppose Trial Transfer

COLUMBUS, Miss. (UPI)—Attorneys for ex-college student Jon Mattox said today they would resist any attempt to have his second murder trial transferred to West Point.

Dist. Atty. Harvey Buck of West Point said Thursday if defense attorneys sought a chance of venue in the trial, scheduled to begin here Monday, he would attempt to have it switched to West Point.

Rites In State Due For Pair Shot To Death

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The bodies of an Oklahoma City woman and her 3-year-old daughter, found shot to death in their home, have been returned to Louisiana for funeral and burial services.

Coroner Anna Belle Wright ruled the deaths of Mrs. Carole Bell, 26, and her daughter Janet, 3, as murder and suicide. Their bodies were found by Mrs. Bell's husband, Larry Neill Bell, when he returned home from work Tuesday evening. Another child, Jean, 5 months, was found unharmed in her bed.

PLYMOUTH FOR 1961 has a complete new look of beauty and a new ride of stability. Long an economy leader in the low-priced field, Plymouth in 1961 has made major engineering and styling gains in the areas of economical operation, trouble-free driving, luxury-car appearance and solid riding characteristics. Plymouth dealers in Monroe are Olcott Motors Inc., 211 North 2nd St., and Hatten Motors Inc., 509 North 2nd St.

BLOW TO PRESTIGE

Latins Blame U.S. For Cuba Invasion

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—A young woman hurrying home from her office this week was stopped short by a crowd of demonstrators in downtown Rio de Janeiro.

"What's going on?" she asked.

"Demonstration against the invasion of Cuba," said a bystander.

"Oh, good," she said. "I don't like Fidel Castro but they ought to leave him alone."

The mob was shouting "Kennedy, Yankee bandit!" and "To the wall with North Americans!"

Later on Rio's main street, a young man sat in a sidewalk cafe drinking beer.

"How can we trust Kennedy now?" he said. "He seemed sincere to us at first. He offered us help. But can we believe he really wants to help us? He said the United States would not send military forces to Cuba. But look now."

The picture of a Cuban David against a North American Goliath was coming through for many Latin-American minds. The U.S. message—that it was not involved in Cuba but supported Cubans fighting a Castro dictatorship —was not coming through for many.

Kennedy's multimillion-dollar aid program was becoming suspect in the bargain.

"You can't tell me," said a Brazilian student, "that the United States did not morally and financially support this invasion. Many of us do not favor Fidelism but we feel time would have taken care of it. Castro's revolution was part of the Latin-American revolution; everything would have worked itself out in time."

Here in Brazil—Latin America's largest nation—that seems to be the predominant viewpont: Fidelism would have just faded away. The dangers felt by North Americans 90 miles away from it are not felt here.

The talk here is that the U.S. program for Latin America may be dealt a serious blow. Among some diplomatic observers there is a thought that a fast blow, felling the Castro regime, might have met with heavy Latin-American criticism but it would have been an accomplished fact. The criticism would soon have died down with a return of democratic government to Cuba.

"There's an old saying," said one observer, "that if the situation is bad enough to draw your gun, then shoot it."

Canada Protest On U.S. Cuban Stand Proposed

OTTAWA (AP)—Foreign Minister Howard Green reacted acidly Friday to a suggestion in Parliament that Canada protest to the United States against that country's "proposed intervention in Cuba."

H. W. Herridge of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation party, who made the suggestion, asserted that President Kennedy in his speech Thursday clearly announced a decision to use American power if necessary to assure the success of counterrevolutionary forces in Cuba.

"I don't know if he (Herridge) wants us to declare war on the United States or not," replied Green to the laughter of Conservative backbenchers. "Issues of this kind are dealt with in a more diplomatic fashion than that proposed by the honorable member."

Herridge pursued the question: As a friendly nation should Canada not take up the Cuban issue with the United States? And should it not also place its views before the United Nations?

Green merely replied that Herridge's statements were "not stamped very heavily with friendliness toward the United States."

Air Support Lack Costly To Invaders

By BEM PRICE

GUANTANMO BAY, Cuba (AP) — A bitter underground source charged Friday anti-Castro elements botched their invasion by not providing proper air support and by failing to seize local radio stations and rally the masses.

The invaders made no effort to capture local radio stations, he said, and this, coupled with mass arrests, left the people who might have risen against the Castro regime leaderless and bewildered. Rebels who managed to hole up in Oriente Province are complaining their air support was too little and too old, he added.

"They were trying to furnish air cover with B26s," the source said, "which did not have a chance against the T33 jets."

The Castro regime is known to have a number of these American-made trainers, which however slow they may be compared to modern jets, are far superior to World War II B26s.

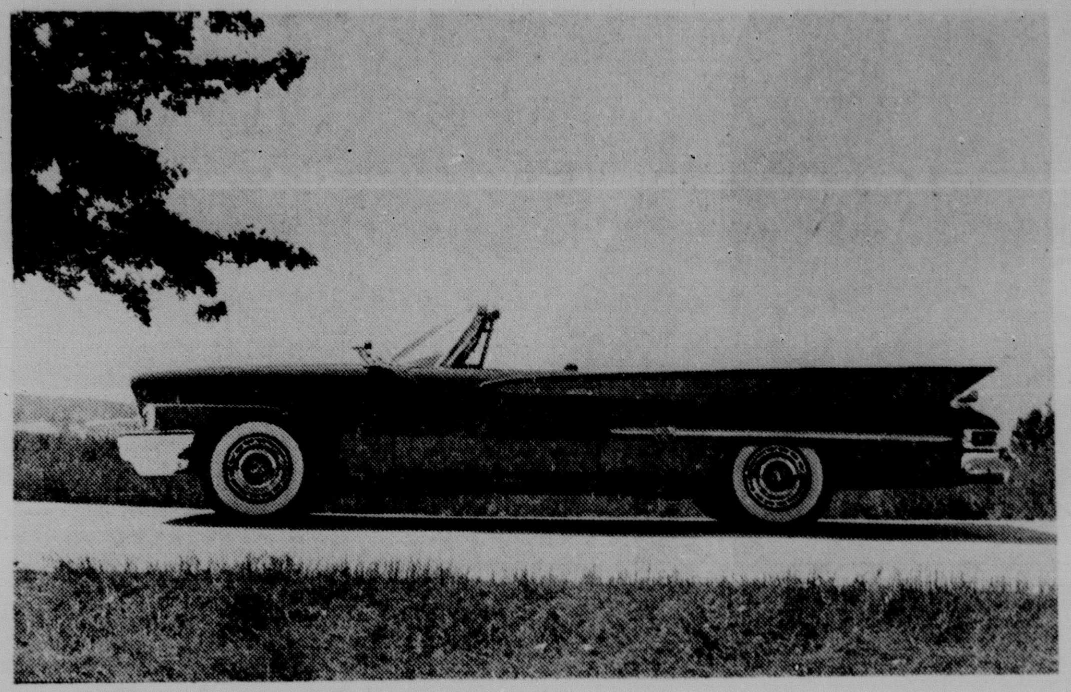
Anti-Castro elements feel the United States has bungled, the informant said, by not giving direct support to the counterrevolutionaries. But Cuban intellectuals still at large were reported heartened by President Kennedy's speech Thursday declaring Cuba will not be abandoned to the Communists.

The government radio in Santiago asserted the United States was afraid to aid the invaders because of the Soviet Union's military might.

"The United States does not dare intervene," a government announcer said, "because of the vastly superior forces of the U.S.S.R., which have equipment much more modern than that possessed by the Yankees."

The broadcaster then labeled President Kennedy an "imbecile" and "moron."

Castro militiamen in Oriente Province, in easternmost Cuba, were reported by underground sources to be carrying out mass arrests, stuffing prisons at Boniato, Santiago, Bayatre and San Antonio.



THE CHRYSLER 300G, America's most powerful car with 375-horsepower, is the seventh in a series of prize winning American performance champions. Local dealer is Olcott Motors Inc., 211 North 2nd St.

CUBAN INVASION

Setback Blamed On Soviet Arms

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cuban Revolutionary Council, conceding a grave reverse at the hands of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's forces, blamed the setback to its landing forces on Soviet tanks and MIG planes.

However, council leader Jose Miro Cardona refused to call it a defeat. With his own son reported to be a captive of Castro forces, Miro Cardona ended in tears a news conference Friday in which he declared:

"It is a setback. The majority of those who landed are actually fighting. It was one more of many landings that have taken place and will continue to take place. The struggle, therefore, goes on and will go on with renewed vigor until the end."

Miro Cardona was vague about what kind of help he wants from other nations of the Western Hemisphere. At one point, he said the United States should not intervene, that "this is the fight of the Cubans and by the Cubans."

At another point, however, he spoke of doing away "with the formalties of nonintervention" and declared that Cuba must be freed of Castro "with the coordinated force of all the nations of this continent."

Miro Cardona reappeared tro rebels, claiming 23 prisoners had been shot to death in the last 48 hours. Among those captured, he added, was his son and the sons of two other council leaders. He did not indicate any knowledge of their fate, however.

Miro Cardona and other top revolutionary council leaders disappeared after last weekend's Cuban landings. They were believed to have gone to the Miami area, although Miro Cardona at one point indicated he was out of the country.

Asked whether he had been in Cuba, he replied: "I was in a very near place."

Miro Cardona reappeared Wednesday afternoon in Washington where he talked with President Kennedy. He said he asked the White House to intercede with the International Red Cross and Latin-American countries to prevail on Castro against bloody reprisals on prisoners.

Miro Cardona, a thick-set man with bushy eyebrows, thinning gray har and dark-rimmed spectactacles, met some 250 newspapermen, photographers and cameramen in the heavily guarded main ballroom of the Belmont-Plaza Hotel. With him were half a dozen other council leaders.

He opened the news conference by reading in English in a firm, steady voice a prepared statement by the council. He then answered reporters questions in Spanish through an interpreter.

Finally, Miro Cardona repeated the prepared statement in Spanish for Spanish-speaking press representatives. Toward the end of this second reading, Miro Cardona's voice quivered with emotion. As he ended his supporters embraced him and tears coursed down his cheeks.

Rites In State Due For Pair Shot To Death

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The bodies of an Oklahoma City woman and her 3-year-old daughter, found shot to death in their home, have been returned to Louisiana for funeral and burial services.

Coroner Anna Belle Wright ruled the deaths of Mrs. Carole Bell, 26, and her daughter Janet, 3, as murder and suicide. Their bodies were found by Mrs. Bell's husband, Larry Neill Bell, when he returned home from work Tuesday evening. Another child, Jean, 5 months, was found unharmed in her bed.

Buick Line Finest Ever For 1961 Is

A complete range of models, from the thrifty Special to the luxurious Electra 225, is offered in the 1961 Buick line of cars.

The Special, Buick's entry in the economy field, features a 155 horsepower, aluminum V-8 engine and a new lightweight transmission. It is 188 inches long and weighs only 2,700 pounds, 1,600 pounds lighter than conventional-size Buicks.

The Special's horsepower - to - weight ratio provides lively performance characteristics comparable to the larger models.

The Special is available in two body styles, a four - door sedan and a four - door station wagon with a standard and deluxe version of each.

The entire Buick line is styled with clean, sweeping lines, a conspicuous absence of chrome, and from the Special through the Electra 225 more headroom and greater passenger comfort are achieved through extensive engineering and styling changes.

Riding comfort has been improved by lowering the transmission tunnel and the additional headroom has been provided by the use of a completely new frame design.

The Buick Special engine weights only 318 pounds and is the lightest liquid - cooled power plant per cubic inch of displacement on the market. It produces 220 foot - pounds of torque, has an 8. 8-to-1 compression ratio and uses regular gasoline. Aluminum components include the cylinder block and heads. Alloy iron cylinder sleeves are cast integrally within the block.

Four V-8 engines available in the regular line employ a wide variety of aluminum alloy parts, too, with a resultant weight reduction and efficency increase for all '61 Buick models.

Lawyers Oppose Trial Transfer

COLUMBUS, Miss. (UPI)—Attorneys for ex-college student Jon Mattox said today they would resist any attempt to have his second murder trial transferred to West Point.

Dist. Atty. Harvey Buck of West Point said Thursday if defense attorneys sought a chance of venue in the trial, scheduled to begin here Monday, he would attempt to have it switched to West Point.

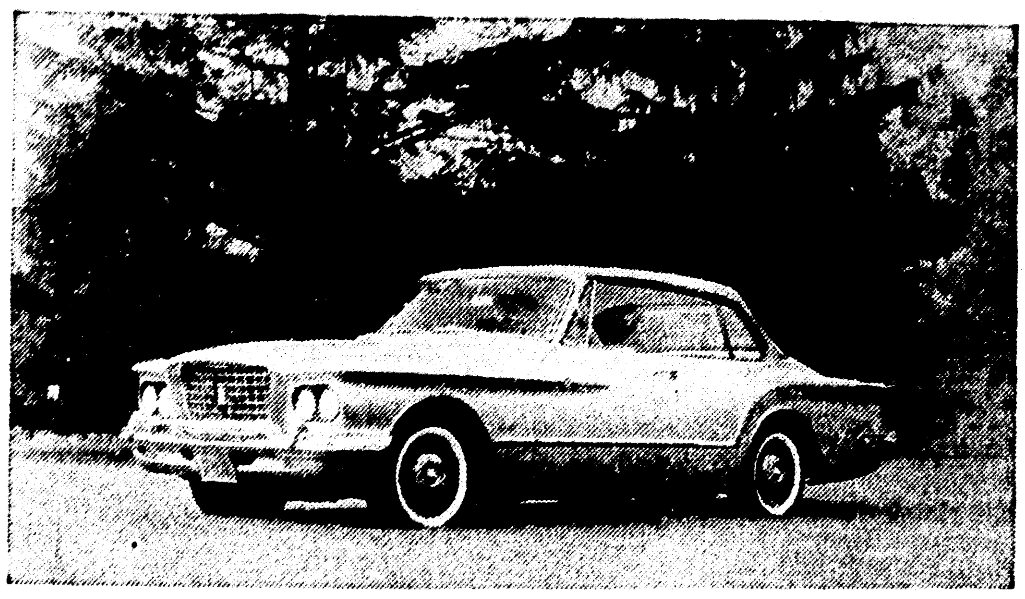
THE NUMBER ONE CAR in the Cadillac line for 1961 is this Fleetwood Sixty Special Sedan. The more informal and striking appearance of this model results from the distinctive structure that is not shared by any other model. Van-Trow-Olds-Cadillac, 1204 Louisville Ave., is dealer for this line.



ECONOMY LEADER of the Plymouth line-up in 1961 is this new Valiant V-100 two door sedan. Local dealer is Hatten Motors, 509 North 2nd.

Veteran Dealer To Show Autos

Among those who will be showing their latest model automobiles at the car show at Eastgate Shopping Center this week, will be a veteran dealer, Clyde Hatten.

The president of Hatten Motors Inc., 509 North 2nd St., has been in the automobile business in Monroe since 1935.

In his lineup of new cars he has Plymouth, Valiant, Jeep, and Mercedes Benz, an imported German made auto, which is a new addition to his stock.

He has been handling Plymouths since 1936, and moved to his present location in 1947.

SERVICE DEPARTMENT

Hatten maintains a service department and body shop.

Besides new cars, a number of inspected used autos are available at his place.

The dealer is a member of the Monroe New Car Dealers Association.

Courteous, efficient salesmen make up his sales organization staff, and in his shop he has well trained mechanics to handle any type of repair or servicing assignment.

A reminder was offered to those attending the Auto Show to look over the cars with quality in mind. This emphasis on quality will act as a great stimulant to the auto industry this year, providing the motoring public with more for its money.

Each year, technological improvements are made which add to the value and quality of the cars.

In connection with this it was pointed out that the industry has learned how to design quality into an automobile and how to arrange its assembly facilities so that quality in the assembly process will be more easily obtained.

Many Familiar With Features Of Volkswagen

The first thing that distinguishes the Volkswagen from any other car on the road is its shape. Everyone recognizes it. If you drove a VW around the world, you would find your car well known wherever you went. Owning a VW makes you a member of an international driving fraternity over 4 million strong — all enthusiasts.

The unique VW design was created with a stubborn singleness of purpose: the production of an honest, functional car. Therefore, there is a reason for the shape of every VW part, indeed, for the shape of the car itself. For example, all 3 models of the Volkswagen (De Luxe Sedan, Convertible and Sedan with sun roof) are designed to reduce wind resistance and cut fuel consumption. Even the underside of the car is a smooth sheet of steel.

FEATURES

The extent of Volkswagen craftsmanship is reflected in the special features of the 3VW models. The top of the VW Convertible, for example, is like no other. Pull it up and it overlaps the windshield frame to form a weather-proof, air tight seal.

The Convertible top is unusual in other ways: it has a safety glass rear window that will not scuff or fog. It is lined and padded so that no struts or crossbars show.

The lining acts as a heat and sound insulator, too. The patter of rain is almost inaudible; you have to look out the window to see what the weather is doing.

The VW Sedan with sun-roof is identical with Volkswagen's De Luxe Sedan, except for its slide-back top which adjusts easily, even while you are driving. It allows you to control your own weather in a steel-topped car: you get just the amount of sun and breeze you want — or none.

TOUR IS POSTPONED

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle has postponed until possibly sometime in June the grass-roots tour of eastern France he had scheduled for May 3-6, a government spokesman announced. The decision to delay the tour may possibly be linked with Algerian peace talks.

Mercedes-Benz Has Engineering, Style Advances

It's an investment in driving pleasure because of its advanced engineering.

There are swing axles, turbo finned brake drums, overhead camshaft engines (some models have fuel injection) and many other outstanding features.

The manufacturers says that it's an investment in pride.

The luxurious car bears the emblem of the three-pointed silver star.

This family of cars is to the West German Republic, where it is manufactured, what the Rolls Royce is to England, or indeed, what Gina Lollabrigida is to Italy.

RESOURCE

You can own a Mercedes-Benz four-door One-Eighty sedan for a low price. This includes heater, defroster, turn signals and back-up lights. You get the most advanced passenger car engine in the world — four-wheel independent suspension with swing axle for the most comfortable ride and safest cornering ever, and massive Mercedes-Benz turbo-cooled brakes.

2 New Models Are Added To Valiant Series

Valiant for 1961, the Plymouth compact car, has reduced prices on all models available last year, and added two new models to the series in the low-price, compact car class.

Factory retail price of the Valiant V-100 four-door sedan is reduced $36, and the V-100 two-door sedan, a body style new to the line this year, is priced $56 less than the four-door sedan.

In addition to the new two-door sedan, another new model is the two-door hardtop, giving Valiant complete representation in the sedan-hardtop-station wagon group, which comprises 95 per cent of all cars bought from American manufacturers.

Harry E. Chesebrough, general manager of the Plymouth division and vice president of Chrysler Corporation, said: "Our 1961 prices reflect our efforts to bring to market improved and newly styled automobiles without price increases. This low price compact looks and drives like twice the price."

In many ways, the 1961 Valiant has been improved for operating economy, durability, performance, and smoothness of ride. In external appearance, it continues to accent the beauty of line and proportion which won wide acclaim when the car first appeared last year.

The 1961 Valiant is a much smoother, quieter operating car. All models are powered by a six-cylinder, overhead valve engine with a displacement of 170 cubic inches. Inclined 30 degrees from the vertical to permit use of a unique manifold for maximum fuel economy, the Valiant engine has a horsepower rating of 101. The engine is quieter and smoother and the possibility of detonation from carbon deposits in the combustion chambers is reduced.

Cars equipped with factory undercoating have a new silencing pad of high quality fiber glass to prevent engine noise from reaching the passenger compartment. Also, road noise is reduced by a heavier, ¾ inch jute pad on the rear floor pan beneath the floor

Havana Quiet, Diplomat Says

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "It appears that peace and quiet are being restored in Cuba," a Canadian Embassy counsellor in Havana said in a long-distance telephone call early Friday.

"As far as I know, there is no fighting around Havana," he added in an interview with Dallas radio station WFAA. "Things seem to be getting back to normal."

The Canadian official said he had seen no Americans in the past 24 hours and did not know whether those in Havana were free or in government custody.

"Canadians are allowed to move freely but are advised to stay off the streets at night," he reported.

J. H. SCOGIN JR.

BROWN-RIVERS-SCOGIN

Years Of Service Cited By Agency

More than 20 years of distinguished automotive and community service to the Twin Cities, that's the story of the local Ford dealership, which opened in Monroe in 1940 and in West Monroe in 1949.

When it was first established here, the firm bore the name of McCain - Richards, with W. McCain Sr., and J. W. Richards Sr., as owners. A large number of the more than 100 persons employed by the firm today were with the original organization.

In the succeeding years, Vagie H. Rivers and J. H. "Slim" Scogin Jr. joined the firm as partners with McCain and Richards. On March 4, 1957, the entire financial interests were acquired by Rivers, Scogin, and Charles E. Brown.

CHANGED

On Sept. 1, 1957 the name of the dealership was changed to Brown-Rivers-Scogin. When Mr. Rivers died in 1958, the responsibility of the Rivers' family business interests was assumed by his eldest son, James H. Rivers.

The Ford dealership has built an enviable record in the automotive industry. Scores of plaques denoting special awards for outstanding operation line the walls of the showrooms.

For many years they have sponsored the American Legion baseball team. They've furnished transportation for many activities of the local schools and provided driver training cars for high school training programs.

Scogin, president of the firm, is currently serving as president of the Monroe City School Board. Brown has just finished a term as president of the United Givers Fund of Ouachita Parish. Rivers is currently serving as vice president of the Monroe Jaycees and is reginal chairman of the state organization's "Operation Americanism" project.

Mississippi Convict Dies For Murder

PARCHMAN, Miss. (AP) — William Stokes, 24, was executed early Friday in the gas chamber at the Mississippi state penitentiary for the 1960 murder of a woman storekeeper.

Prison officials dropped gas pellets into the death chamber at 12:01 a.m.

The execution was without incident, prison officials said.

Stokes, a Negro, was sentenced to death in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Eula Clark, who was alone in her neighborhood grocery at Laurel when attacked March 3, 1960.

She was clubbed and stabbed 17 times with a knife. The weapon was believed to have been a butcher knife taken from the grocery's meat market.

Gov. Ross Barnett refused this week to commute the sentence to life imprisonment and called the murder revolting and brutal.

"No intelligent and honest jury could have reasonably reached any other verdict than that of guilty," Barnett said. "the crime charged was so revolting as to not only justify but to unquestionably require the jury to find the defendant guilty as charged and thereby inflict the death penalty."

Barnett called it an unpleasant task to refuse to commute the sentence "but my duty in this case is clear. I must refuse and pray God's mercy on the prisoner's soul."

Police learned that Stokes, his clothing bloody, was seen running near the store and the clothing was found at his home.

About two weeks later he was arrested in Florida, where he was using another name, and was held by the FBI for Mississippi authorities.

He waived extradition and was returned to Mississippi, where the Jones County grand jury indicted him. He stood mute at his arraignment and Circuit Judge Lunsford Casey entered the plea of innocent for him.

His trial began April 13 last year and lasted two days. After his conviction, the execution date was set for last June 10, but an appeal to the state Supreme Court brought a delay in execution. The conviction was upheld by the high court and the new death date fixed.

Automobile Facts And Figures

Passenger car factory sales in the U. S. for 1960 were the second highest in history, topped only in the record year of 1955. Sales of 6,674,796 cars, with the addition of 1,194,475 trucks and buses, brought total motor vehicle factory sales for the year to 7,869,271 with a total wholesale value of $14,461,150,000.

Records also were set for ownership of motor vehicles and the number of miles driven. U. S. motor vehicle registration figures for 1960 totalled 73.9 million, including 61.6 million passenger cars and 12.3 million trucks and buses. Motor travel during the year climbed to 720 billion miles.

The latest census of manufacturers reveals that U. S. automotive retail sales account for 22.5 per cent of all retail sales. Combined sales of automotive retail, wholesale and service businesses amount to 18 per cent of dollar volume of all U. S. retail, wholesale and service firms.

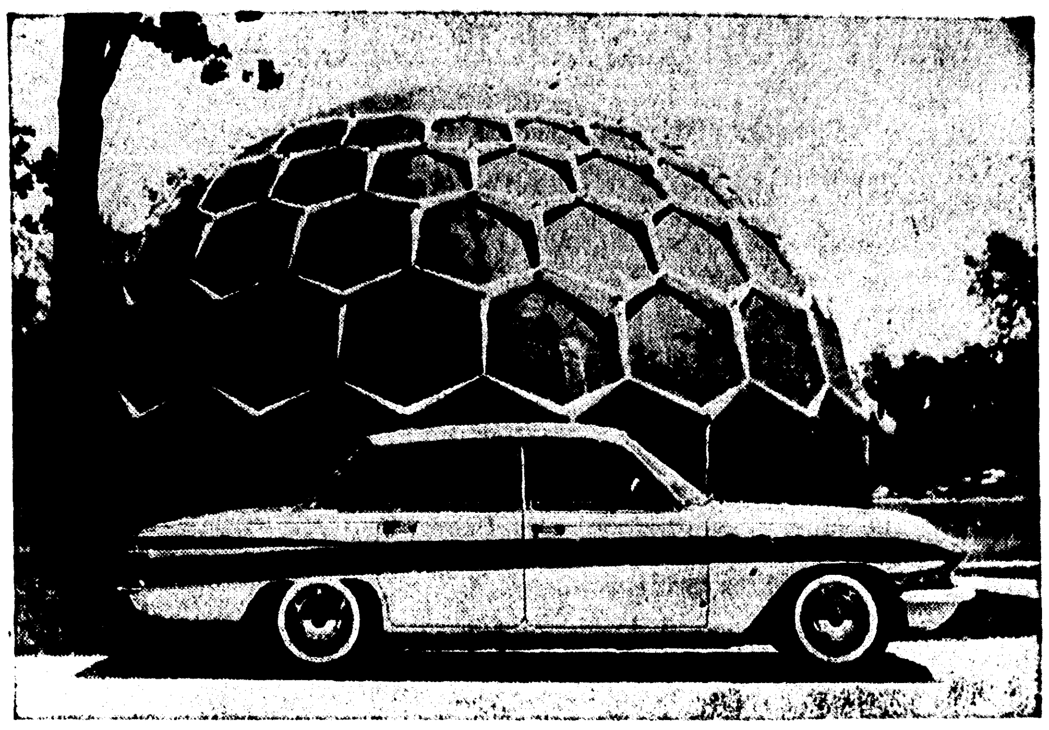
Manufacturers outside the motor vehicle industry itself also produce great quantities of automotive products, such as electrical equipment and rubber parts. A census report shows that in a single year this country produces a billion dollars worth of passenger car tires. A year's output of automotive storage batteries is worth some $250 million, and automotive metal stampings valued at $552 million are turned out annually from plants classified in other than the motor vehicle industry.

Factory sales of station wagons in 1960 topped a million for the first time in history. The year's 1,104,197 station wagons represents a seven - fold increase since 1950.

Special motor vehicle tax collections reached a new high of $10.6 billion in 1960, including federal excise taxes of $4.5 billion. Taxes take 25 cents of every dollar included in the delivered price of a new car.

The 520,602 automotive retail, wholesale and service businesses in the U. S. employ 2.4 million workers and generate sales totalling about $93.6 billion annually.

The traffic death rate continued a steady decline in 1960, reaching a new low of 5.3 deaths per 100 million miles of travel. This is one third of the 1935 rate, despite a 170 per cent increase in the number of vehicles in use and a 215 per cent increase in the amount of highway travel.



BIG CAR COMFORT and styling are combined with the economy of the small car in Buick's new lightweight Special four-door sedan, powered by the first American aluminum V-8 engine in the automobile industry. These cars are sold by Riley Buick Inc., 212 North 3rd.

Two Auto Lines In Firm's Stock

Jack Inabnet, owner of Northeast Motors Inc., 319 North 3rd St., has been in the automobile business in Monroe for the past 10 years.

He was in the used car business before taking on a new car dealership.

He is franchised dealer for both Renault and Rambler, and in addition to new cars, he also has an assortment of used cars for sale.

Northeast Motors has a complete service and body department, fully equipped for work on any type of automobile.

ON COUNCIL

Inabnet is a member of the Dealers Council for Louisiana for Renault Inc. His organization has a wide trade area, covering the northeast district.

He is married and has three children.

Starting originally with Renault, he recently added Rambler to his stock of new cars.

In connection with this he said, "We are going to try to represent Rambler in Northeast Louisiana in a way in which Rambler owners will be proud. We have a productive organization and the efficiency with which it operates will make it possible to offer sales on Rambler on a volume basis."

JACK INABNET

Making a further observation, he said, "Everyone knows our reputation with Renault and Renault owners, and we intend to maintain our sales record with Renault and with the famous Renault Dauphine."

Automobiles from the stock of Northeast Motors will be on display this week at the Auto Show at the Eastgate Shopping Center. Any questions which visitors to the show may have about the autos will be answered by comteens sales representatives of the organization

Comet Styling Continues To Please Public

The 1961 Comet continues the styling that has given it such wide public acceptance since the car was introduced only six months ago.

The sheet metal configuration on the 1961 Comet is basically the same as the 1960 model. Dual headlights remain standard, but there is a new grille for 1961. It is a one-piece aluminum stamping, consisting of five horizontal rows of propeller - shaped bars. The dual headlights have been moved forward for improved lighting. There also are several ornamentation changes.

The new engine has a displacement of 170 cubic inches and develops 101 horsepower at 4400 rpm. Its maximum torque, 156-foot - pounds, is developed at 2400 rm.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK (AP)

Stocks — Mixed; selective improvement.

Bonds — Mixed; narrow changes.

Cotton — Mostly higher; quiet trading.

CHICAGO:

Wheat — Mixed; meager trade.

Corn — Mixed; light trade.

Oats — Mixed; light trade.

Soybeans — Higher; late rally.

Cattle — Not enough slaughter steers on sale for market test.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Demand was only moderately active Friday for the butcher hog supply of 5,000 head and prices were steady to 25 cents lower.

The extreme top of $18, paid for a few closely sorted 210 lb mixed No. 1 and 2 grades, was up 15 cents from Thursday's high but other mixed 1-2 and 1-3 grades scaling 190-230 lbs went at $17.25-17.75.

Mixed 2-3 and 3 grades up to 230 lbs went at $17-17.35 and heavier weights at $16.25 and up. Sows sold up to $16.25.

The slaughter steer supply was meager and included only a few good and choice 1,086 pounders which sold at $23.50. Some veal calves moved at $30. No sales of heifers or bulls were reported.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Activity in grain futures trade Friday was limited mainly to evening-up commitments and prices scarcely stirred except in soybeans which finished moderately ahead.

All the grains finished within minor fractions of previous closes and except for a few minutes after opening never were outside that range. Both corn and oats showed some firmness in the initial dealings but the demand which was credited to commission houses was thin and prices eased when it dried up.

Old crop soybeans stayed ahead of the previous closes throughout the day and at one time were cent higher to a cent lower.

At the close, soybeans were ¾-2¼ cents a bushel higher, May $3.18½-19¼; wheat ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, May $1.91½; corn ½ higher to ¼ lower, May $1.11½-⅝; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, May 62¼-⅜; rye ½ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.14¼.

Stocks Break About Even For Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished Friday's pre-weekend session in a near standoff as volume dropped almost half a million shares to the lowest level in about a week.

Several wide swings among the electronics and special situations provided interest where the majority of stocks moved little in either direction.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 1.02 at 685.26, that level [illegible] to provide resistance to [illegible] while the rails rose 0.12 to 140.88 and utilities added 0.27 to 112.16. The much broader Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks posted a [illegible] cent loss.

The number of issues traded expanded to 1,260, advances outnumbering declines 550 to 515. New [illegible] came to 87 against 8 new lows.

Volume dropped to 4,340,000 shares from 4,810,000 on Thursday and was the lowest since March [illegible]. Tickers as usual ran late at the opening and at the close but never by more than a couple of minutes.

Leading motors and steel stocks were down by fractions, the latter despite a report that production would show another rise next week. Copper stocks were generally higher reflecting a ½ cent a pound boost in the scrap price.

Twentieth Century-Fox lost 2¼ following word that directors only took routine action at Thursday's special meeting. Litton, strong recently on the news it would produce and market teaching machines with Prentice - Hall, rose another 5 points. Sterling drug, which has a new process for converting sewage into steam, soared a point on the news the government would spend more money for sewage treatment plants.

Brunswick led the market in activity with 128,500 shares, down 1[illegible] in continued reaction to a brokerage house recommendation to switch out of the stock. Following were Sperry Rand off 1[illegible], Hupp Corp up 1, San Diego Imperial off [illegible] and Studebaker off [illegible].

Seven losers showed up among the 15 most actives, 6 were higher and General Motors and Ampex did not change.

Stocks on the American Exchange were mixed, volume holding almost unchanged at 3,190,000 shares. Cubic rose 1[illegible], Mead Johnson [illegible] and General Plywood [illegible] points.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 5 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher Friday.

Switching operations from near-by May to later months were largely responsible, anticipating first notice day for the May delivery next Month.

Nearby May was under early pressure of liquidation, reflecting the substantial level of certificated cotton stock, coupled with the slow activity in the spot cotton market.

Court Told Nazis Obeyed By Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann told an Israeli security agent he would kill his own father "without hesitation" if ordered to do so, according to tape recorded testimony replayed at his trial Friday.

Israel Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner introduced the statement in an apparent effort to portray the mentality of the man he charges with masterminding Nazi Germany's "final solution to the Jewish problem."

Eichmann's voice, echoing in the court where he is on trial for crimes against the Jewish people, declared solemnly: "If somebody told me 'Your father is a traitor' and I was ordered to kill him, I would have done so without hesitation."

In other transcripts from recorded statements made during eight months of interrogation by Israeli security agents, Eichmann continually described his role in Nazi anti-Jewish acts as "subordinate" — but he admitted full knowledge of the way Jews were marked for death.

Eichmann denied repeatedly he had anything to do with millions of murders committed in Nazi wartime extermination camps. But he acknowledged his efficient transport trains delivered victims to the camp gates.

Hausner, in the tapes played, attempted to show Eichmann's function in the Nazi murder machine went far beyond the clerical, order-taking role he has taken upon himself.

By linking Eichmann repeatedly with high-level Nazi meetings dealing with extermination of Jews, the prosecutor sought to draw a picture of man who not only took orders, but had an important part in drawing them up.

In an exchange between Eichmann and Israeli Police Capt. Avner Less, Less referred to the meeting of top Nazi security officers at Wannsee, near Berlin, in January 1942. It was at that conference that Reinhard Heydrich, who was Eichmann's superior, spelled out details of the "final solution to the Jewish problem."

Hausner will introduce about 20 minutes more of tape before bringing in additional witnesses Monday, a court authority said. But in two days the full character of Eichmann's defense and his own reaction to Israel's charges against him have been sharply portrayed in the recorded interrogations.

The onetime Gestapo official is certain to keep coming back to the statement he was heard to make today:

"I was only a subordinate in the SS (Storm Troopers), loyal, obedient and happy to be of service to my Fatherland. I fulfilled my duty with a clear conscience and a believing heart."

MRS. GERALDINE DIEMER, 38, displays her triplet boys, Richard (top), Roger, (bottom) and Robert, born in a Windsor, Ont., hospital. The boys bring Mrs. Diemer's family to 15 children. By coincidence, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bernadine St. Pierre who also lives near Windsor, had triplets 2½ years ago bringing her brood also to 15. Mrs. Diemer is a farm wife. (AP Wirephoto)

Monroe Man Sentenced To Term In Jail

A 23-year-old northside Monroe man was sentenced to six months in jail and given three suspended sentences on theft charges in Fourth District Court Friday.

Judge Jesse Heard sentenced William R. Shipp, 705 Bres Ave., to six months in the Ouachita Parish jail from the date of his arrest on a charge of theft of boots and cash valued at $55.

2 American Newsmen In Cuba Siezed

NEW YORK (AP) — Inquiries by telephone from New York to the Havana bureau of the Associated Press Friday night brought a reply that two American AP correspondents had been arrested during the evening.

The two are Harold K. Milks, chief of AP Caribbean services, and Robert Berrellez.

The Havana informant, identified as a Cuban member of the AP staff, said the two had been out gathering news and pictures for transmission when communications would be reopened generally.

When they turned up at the bureau in hopes of getting their pictures and stories out by wire and radio, they were arrested, he said. Both had been reported previously — without official confirmation — as having been arrested and freed by the Castro regime.

This was the second consecutive night of built up hope that U.S. correspondents would be heard from directly.

On both nights there were hints that the general communications blackout on U.S. correspondents would be lifted. Expectations quickened Friday night in the belief that the blackout would be lifted when Cuban TV made its invasion propaganda broadcast.

But that broadcast passed and there was no immediate lifting of the communications embargo. Phone calls to Havana have been made easily but have generally not produced much information.

26 Arrested In N.O. Raids

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police swept down on 30 suspected lottery operation locations in a coordinated strike in New Orleans and arrested 26 persons.

Police booked seven on gambling charges and 10 others on vagrancy charges.

Police superintendent Joseph I. Giarrusso, who set up the machinery for the raid, said every police officer is under orders to act against lottery, handbook operators and prostitution.

"This check today will not be the last," he said.

Army's Pershing Missile Passes Important Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) The Army's Pershing missile passed its longest, most significant flight test Friday and exceeded the range of the Redstone rocket it is slated to replace.

The swift, 34-foot Pershing, powered for the first time by higher performance motors and fuel, raced 250 miles down the Atlantic tracking range — surpassing by about 25 miles the maximum reach of the Redstone, this nation's first ballistic missile now deployed with North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Western Europe.

The success, announced by the Army, was the 13th in 15 Pershing test firings. Longest distance covered by the rocket was 160 miles.

The missile is being developed as a mobile field weapon with a selective range of 50 to 700 miles. The Army plans to start stationing it in Europe next year, gradually replacing the more cumbersome liquid-fuel Redstone.

The missile, which is made by the Martin Co. of Orlando, was fired Friday from a tracked vehicle like that which would carry it in combat.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

By United Press International

TO INCREASE SHARES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lionel Corp. stockholders voted at the annual meeting Thursday to increase authorized common shares from 1.6 to 2.4 million and Gen. J. B. Medaris, president, revealed that "several acquisitions" were under active consideration.

The Lionel president also told the meeting that he expected 1961 sales and operating profits to "increase nicely" over 1960.

OIL STOCKS INCREASE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Crude oil stocks totaled 244,704,000 barrels from the week ended April 15, an increase of 3,569,000 barrels over the preceding week, the Bureau of Mines reported. Foreign stocks totaled 14,707,000 barrels, an increase of 250,000 barrels for the week.

RAISE COPPER PRICE

NEW YORK (UPI)—The smelter buying price for scrap copper has been raised ½ cent a pound, it was announced Thursday. The advance brings No. 2 copper wire scrap to 25 cents a pound, equivalent to 30½ cents a pound for refined copper available for delivery three months from now. Smelters and producers are selling refined copper at 29 cents a pound.

TO BUY COMPANY

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Bayuk Cigars, Inc., announced plans to acquire Mason Au & Magenheimer Confectionery Manufacturing Co. of Mineola, N.Y. Details of the purchase.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK AP —

Stocks — Mixed; selective improvement.

Bonds — Mixed; narrow changes.

Cotton — Mostly higher; quiet trading.

CHICAGO:

Wheat — Mixed; meager trade.

Corn — Mixed; light trade.

Oats — Mixed; light trade.

Soybeans — Higher; late rally.

Cattle — Not enough slaughter steers on sale for market test.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Demand was only moderately active Friday for the butcher hog supply of 5,000 head and prices were steady to 5 cents lower.

The extreme top of $18, paid for a few closely sorted 210 lb mixed No. 1 and 2 grades, was up 15 cents from Thursday's high but other mixed 1-2 and 1-3 grades scaling 190-230 lbs went at $17.25-17.75.

Mixed 2-3 and 3 grades up to 230 lbs went at $17-17.35 and heavier weights at $16.25 and up. Sows sold up to $16.25.

The slaughter steer supply was meager and included only a few good and choice 1,086 pounders which sold at $23.50. Some veal calves moved at $30. No sales of heifers or bulls were reported.

The sheep supply was too small for a market test.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Activity in grain futures trade Friday was limited mainly to evening-up commitments and prices scarcely stirred except in soybeans which finished moderately ahead.

All the grains finished within minor fractions of previous closes and except for a few minutes after opening never were outside that range. Both corn and oats showed some firmness in the initial dealings but the demand which was credited to commission houses was thin and prices eased when it dried up.

Old crop soybeans stayed ahead of the previous closes throughout the day and at one time were cent higher to a cent lower.

At the close, soybeans were ¾-2¼ cents a bushel higher, May $3.18½-19¼; wheat ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, May $1.91½; corn ½ higher to ¼ lower, May $1.11½-⅜; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, May 62¼-⅜; rye ½ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.14¼.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 75 cents a bale higher to $1.30 lower Friday.

Switching operations from nearby May to later months were fairly extensive, anticipating first notice day for the May delivery next Monday.

Nearby May was under early pressure of liquidation, reflecting the substantial level of certificated cotton stocks, coupled with the slow activity in the spot cotton markets.

Stocks Break About Even For Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished Friday's pre-weekend session in a near standoff as volume dropped almost half a million shares to the lowest level in about 3 weeks.

Several wide swings among the electronics and special situations provided interest where the majority of stocks moved little in either direction.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 1.02 at 685.26, that level continuing to provide resistance to decline, while the rails rose 0.12 to 140.88 and utilities added 0.27 to 112.26. The much broader Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks posted a 5 cent loss.

The number of issues traded expanded to 1,299, advances outnumbering declines 550 to 515. New highs came to 87 against 8 new lows.

Volume dropped to 4,340,000 shares from 4,810,000 on Thursday and was the lowest since March 27. Tickers as usual ran late at the opening and at the close but never by more than a couple of minutes.

Leading motors and steel stocks were down by fractions, the latter despite a report that production would show another rise next week. Copper stocks were generally higher reflecting a ¼ cent a pound boost in the scrap price.

Twentieth Century-Fox lost 2⅞ following word that directors only took routine action at Thursday's special meeting. Litton, strong recently on the news it would produce and market teaching machines with Prentice - Hall, rose another 5 points. Sterling drug, which has a new process for converting sewage into steam, soared 8 points on the news the government would spend more money for sewage treatment plants.

Brunswick led the market in activity with 128,700 shares, down 1⅝ in continued reaction to a brokerage house recommendation to switch out of the stock. Following were Sperry Rand off 1⅝, Hupp Corp. up 1, San Diego Imperial off ¼ and Studebaker off ¼.

Seven losers showed up among the 15 most actives, 6 were higher and General Motors and Ampex did not change.

Stocks on the American Exchange were mixed, volume holding almost unchanged at 3,190,000 shares. Cubic rose 1⅛, Mead Johnson 5½ and General Plywood ⅛ point.

Court Told Nazis Obeyed By Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann told an Israeli security agent he would kill his own father "without hesitation" if ordered to do so, according to tape recorded testimony replayed at his trial Friday.

Israel Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner introduced the statement in an apparent effort to portray the mentality of the man he charges with masterminding Nazi Germany's "final solution to the Jewish problem."

Eichmann's voice, echoing in the court where he is on trial for crimes against the Jewish people, declared solemnly: "If somebody told me 'Your father is a traitor' and I was ordered to kill him, I would have done so without hesitation."

In other transcripts from recorded statements made during eight months of interrogation by Israeli security agents, Eichmann continually described his role in Nazi anti-Jewish acts as "subordinate" — but he admitted full knowledge of the way Jews were marked for death.

Eichmann denied repeatedly he had anything to do with millions of murders committed in Nazi wartime extermination camps. But he acknowledged his efficient transport trains delivered victims to the camp gates.

Hausner, in the tapes played, attempted to show Eichmann's function in the Nazi murder machine went far beyond the clerical, order-taking role he has taken upon himself.

By linking Eichmann repeatedly with high-level Nazi meetings dealing with extermination of Jews, the prosecutor sought to draw a picture of man who not only took orders, but had an important part in drawing them up.

In an exchange between Eichmann and Israeli Police Capt. Avner Less, Less referred to the meeting of top Nazi security officers at Wannsee, near Berlin, in January 1942. It was at that conference that Reinhard Heydrich, who was Eichmann's superior, spelled out details of the "final solution to the Jewish problem."

Hausner willl introduce about 20 minutes more of tape before bringing in additional witnesses Monday, a court authority said. But in two days the full character of Eichmann's defense and his own reaction to Israel's charges against him have been sharply portrayed in the recorded interrogations.

The onetime Gestapo official is certain to keep coming back to the statement he was heard to make today:

"I was only a subordinate in the SS (Storm Troopers), loyal, obedient and happy to be of service to my Fatherland. I fulfilled my duty with a clear conscience and a believing heart."

MRS. GERALDINE DIEMER, 38, displays her triplet boys, Richard (top), Roger, (bottom) and Robert, born in a Windsor, Ont., hospital. The boys bring Mrs. Diemer's family to 15 children. By coincidence, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bernadine St. Pierre who also lives near Windsor, had triplets 2½ years ago bringing her brood also to 15. Mrs. Diemer is a farm wife. (AP Wirephoto)

Monroe Man Sentenced To Term In Jail

A 23-year-old northside Monroe man was sentenced to six months in jail and given three suspended sentences on theft charges in Fourth District Court Friday.

Judge Jesse Heard sentenced William R. Shipp, 705 Bres Ave., to six months in the Ouachita Parish jail from the date of his arrest on a charge of theft of boots and cash valued at $35.

Shipp received two-year concurrent suspended prison terms and was placed on probation on charges of theft of $50, $25 and $25.

Percy Lee Tribble, 23, Negro, 1602 Olive St., failed to appear on a charge of simple obstruction of the highway and a warrant was issued.

2 American Newsmen In Cuba Siezed

NEW YORK (AP) — Inquiries by telephone from New York to the Havana bureau of the Associated Press Friday night brought a reply that two American AP correspondents had been arrested during the evening.

The two are Harold K. Milks, chief of AP Caribbean services, and Robert Berrellez.

The Havana informant, identified as a Cuban member of the AP staff, said the two had been out gathering news and pictures for transmission when communications would be reopened generally.

When they turned up at the bureau in hopes of getting their pictures and stories out by wire and radio, they were arrested, he said. Both had been reported previously — without official confirmation — as having been arrested and freed by the Castro regime.

This was the second consecutive night of built up hope that U.S. correspondents would be heard from directly.

On both nights there were hints that the general communications blackout on U.S. correspondents would be lifted. Expectations quickened Friday night in the belief that the blackout would be lifted when Cuban TV made its invasion propaganda broadcast.

But that broadcast passed and there was no immediate lifting of the communications embargo. Phone calls to Havana have been made easily but have generally not produced much information.

26 Arrested In N.O. Raids

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police swept down on 30 suspected lottery operation locations in a coordinated strike in New Orleans and arrested 26 persons.

Police booked seven on gambling charges and 10 others on vagrancy charges.

Police superintendent Joseph I. Giarrusso, who set up the machinery for the raid, said every police officer is under orders to act against lottery, handbook operators and prostitution.

"This check today will not be the last," he said.

Army's Pershing Missile Passes Important Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) The Army's Pershing missile passed its longest, most significant flight test Friday and exceeded the range of the Redstone rocket it is slated to replace.

The swift, 34-foot Pershing, powered for the first time by higher performance motors and fuel, raced 250 miles down the Atlantic tracking range — surpassing by about 25 miles the maximum reach of the Redstone, this nation's first ballistic missile now deployed with North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Western Europe.

The success, announced by the Army, was the 13th in 15 Pershing test firings. Longest distance covered by the rocket was 160 miles.

The missile is being developed as a mobile field weapon with a selective range of 50 to 700 miles. The Army plans to start stationing it in Europe next year, gradually replacing the more cumbersome liquid-fuel Redstone.

The missile, which is made by the Martin Co. of Orlando, was fired Friday from a tracked vehicle like that which would carry it in combat.

LIBRARY WEEK

Local Men Cite Reading Benefit

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth in a series of letters, written by well-known local businessmen, in conjunction with National Library Week now being observed. The last letter will appear in tomorrow's Morning World.)

By ALBIN LASSITER
District Attorney

When one begins to ponder the question as to which of many books has influenced his life, not only does he encounter memories of many pleasant hours, but he comes up short in determining which should be put second.

Everyone places the Bible first as the most influential book in the world as well as in one's life.

It should be the rule and guide to both our faith and our practices in daily living, especially in our relationships to our fellow men.

There are, of course, many commentaries, essays and other writings based on this Book which necessarily help us to form our own opinions as to the meanings of the Scripture.

Then we must finally reach the point of decision as to the next influential book. It is difficult to discard the works of William Shakespeare.

There have been many persons who spent their lives reading, acting and understanding the great writings. There are many lessons of practical living and philosophy immortalized by the Bard of Avon.

POE'S BOOKS

Edgar Allen Poe's writings have also been interesting. Perhaps this is because of his great struggle to be recognized, a feat which was not accomplished until many years after his death.

His struggles and inner conflicts are very apparent in his writings, and allow one to have a better understanding of persons with similar conditions in their lives. We have many today with these same afflictions, without the compensating abilities of Poe.

Biographies, too, have been most revealing. Many have been written on Abraham Lincoln. If one studies the life of a man such as this, he finds that the glamour can be removed and that his true greatness comes from the inner man, and not from the results and actions usually attributed by historians and politicians.

PROFESSIONAL BOOKS

Nothing has been said about many professional books which naturally tend to influence one's life. Each profession has many such works that should be deeply and sincerely studied so that the reader might become more proficient and dedicated to his vocation.

Each person who comes into contact with a professional man expects him to be the best in his field. Reading, plus study, plus experience, are the important elements of success in any profession.

Then there are many excellent books that one reads to broaden his knowledge of the mysteries of nature, of man and of outer space.

Reading just for pleasure is the most relaxing and refreshing habit a person can establish. Mental health would never be the problem it is today if more would learn to read just for the sheer joy of reading.

Not one book but many have influenced my actions in life. It is to be hoped that our young people will cultivate the reading habit in early life. This experience can be enjoyed in the most ordinary and even in the most unusual places.

British Say Spies Rushing To Russians

LONDON (AP) — A monthly diplomatic journal claimed Friday that would-be spies are rushing to gatecrash the tight world of international espionage and offering worthless secrets to Communist embassies.

The result, according to the Diplomatist, has been embarrassment for diplomats and trade experts of Iron Curtain countries in Britain. In an editorial on "spy fever and the corps diplomatique" the journal gave this picture:

"It is not often that one hears of Iron Curtain diplomats refusing to listen to secret information. Yet, right during the height of the spy fever last month, members of several Iron Curtain diplomatic missions in London let it be known that they were beginning to get a bit tired of the avalanche of approaches they were receiving from persons previously unknown who offered them a great variety of secret information."

The Diplomatist asserted recent spy trials have led a lot of people to realize their work or knowledge could interest foreign powers and there might be money in peddling information. These would-be informants find no great difficulty in persuading themselves the material they have to offer would not harm their own country.

"If they can make some easy cash they see no reason for not trying to contact some foreign mission and strike a bargain with them," the journal went on.

"These would-be informants argue in most cases that it the Communist diplomats usually is to suspect the informers as cranks or planted counteragents," the magazine said. But occasionally when information offered seems valuable the Communist diplomats find themselves in a quandary. If they agree to buy material they would be exposing themselves to breaching the hazy rules of diplomacy. If they refuse the material they would be neglecting the duty of all diplomats.

U.S. Will Pay GI Insurance Extra Dividend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy announced Friday the government would pay a special insurance dividend to veterans this summer to help spur the economy.

The Veterans Administration said that some five million former servicemen would get checks averaging $46 when a total of $230 million is paid out in July and August.

Veterans Administrator John S. Gleason Jr., said the dividend checks would be special refunds on premiums paid on government life insurance policies by 4.8 million World War II veterans and 200,000 veterans of World War I.

Gleason stressed that the payments would be in addition to regular insurance dividends paid policy holders each year.

Veterans need not make individual applications for the special refunds, Gleason said.

In a previous anti-recession action, the Veterans Administration paid out by the end of March $258.5 million of regular dividends which normally would have been disbursed through December.

Convicted Turks Face Automatic Death Penalty

YASSIADA, Turkey (UPI)—Officials said Friday the conviction of former Prime Minister Adnan Menderes and ex-President Celal Bayar Thursday on charges of violating the constitution carry an automatic death penalty.

Sentences will not actually be pronounced until the trials on other charges are concluded, officials said, although the death penalty on charges of violating the constitution is automatic.

The trial was expected to continue at least through June.

The Almanac

Today is Saturday, April 22, the 112th day of the year with 253 more in 1961.

The moon is in its first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1707, English novelist Henry Fielding, who wrote "Tom Jones," was born.

In 1889, 20,000 homesteaders crowded into the Oklahoma territory to begin the Oklahoma land rush.

In 1915, the German army used poison gas for the first time in World War I.

In 1944, Allied soldiers invaded New Guinea in World War II.

In 1959, Christian Herter was sworn in as secretary of state.

Thought for today: Henry Fielding said: "Nothing more aggravates ill success than the near approach to good."

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

President Kennedy's notice that the United States will act unilaterally if necessary to repulse communism in the Western Hemisphere is his second reaction against handcuffs imposed by America's allies.

First came the break from the years-long pattern of trying to carry water on both shoulders on the issues drawn between the European Allies and the remaining colonial areas. That was the decision to side with the smaller countries in demanding, through the United Nations, a change in Portuguese colonial policies.

It was received with cheers by everybody except the colonial powers.

The Cuban policy, on the other hand, is being received with a rising crescendo of criticism, both official and unofficial, all over the world.

The chief criticism in the United States itself is that, in its first manifestation, it failed. Aside from that, there seems to be approval in principle.

In non - Communist countries abroad there seems to be a feeling that the United States should wear her kid gloves and top hat no matter how many rotten eggs are being thown; that she should even if the angels provide no assistance against attack.

This is enhanced by memory of American reaction against Britain and France in the Suez case.

Kennedy seems to be working from a premise that there is too much argument about how many angels can dance on the point of a win-a-war policy.

He envisions situations in which American power may have to be used for more than deterrent and containment.

He made a mistake, on the basis of misleading intelligence about the possibility of a popular rising against Castro, and admits he is studying some lessons.

One of them may involve the effects of halfway measures once a cause has been decided upon. Another involves handcuffs, both political and moral.

The handcuffs worn by the United States with regard to Cuba, ever since Castro turned from the establishment of freedom to the establishment of Castro, had more than one loop.

Many Latin Americans are pro-Communist.

These elements put strong pressures on political leaders, a great many of whom know better, not to act in consort with the United States.

It's a chain of pressures. One link is "manana" thinking—that tomorrow all problems will blow away.

Labor Secretary Opposes Higher U.S. Tariffs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg said Friday the United States "cannot retreat into protectionism" to offset unemployment caused by foreign imports.

He said the benefits of free trade policies far outweigh the injuries they cause, so far as American workers are concerned.

In 1960, he said, the value of U.S. exports was nearly $5 billion greater than the total of imports.

"We must realize this because we cannot retreat into protectionism," Goldberg said. "This would displace more American workers than we pick up."

The cabinet officer, interviewed on an AFL-CIO radio program (Washington Report to the People) broadcast by 460 stations, said modernization of the nation's factories wwould help U.S. goods remain competitive.

"Our industrial plant is obsolete or rapidly becoming so," he said. He said it would cost $95 billion to replace all worn-out or outmoded equipment.

In rejecting proposals for higher tariffs, Goldberg said:

"We cannot expect people in countries of the world to take our goods if we do not take some of their goods. Therefore, we have to work out a comprehensive trade policy that would take into consideration both of these elements."

LIBRARY WEEK

Local Men Cite Reading Benefit

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth in a series of letters, written by well-known local businessmen, in conjunction with National Library Week now being observed. The last letter will appear in tomorrow's Morning World.)

By ALBIN LASSITER
District Attorney

When one begins to ponder the question as to which of many books has influenced his life, not only does he encounter memories of many pleasant hours, but he comes up short in determining which should be put second.

Everyone places the Bible first as the most influential book in the world as well as in one's life.

It should be the rule and guide to both our faith and our practices in daily living, especially in our relationships to our fellow men.

There are, of course, many commentaries, essays and other writings based on this Book which necessarily help us to form our own opinons as to the meanings of the Scriptures.

Then we must finally reach the point of decision as to the next influential book. It is difficult to discard the works of William Shakespeare.

There have been many persons who spent their lives reading, acting and understanding these writings. There are many lessons of practical living and philosophy immortalized by the Bard of Avon.

POE'S BOOKS

Edgar Allen Poe's writings have also been interesting. Perhaps this is because of his great struggle to be recognized, a feat which was not accomplished until many years after his death.

His struggles and inner conflicts are very apparent in his writings, and allow one to have a better understanding of persons with similr conditions in their lives. We have many today with these same afflictions, without the compensating abilities of Poe.

Biographies, too, have been most revealing. Many have been written on Abraham Lincoln. If one studies the life of a man such as this, he finds that the glamour can be removed and that his true greatness comes from the inner man, and not from the results and actions usually attributed by historians and politicians.

PROFESSIONAL BOOKS

Nothing has been said about many professional books which naturally tend to influence one's life. Each profession has many such works that should be deeply and sincerely studied so that the reader might become more proficient and dedicated to his vocation.

Each person who comes into contact with a professional man expects him to be the best in his field. Reading, plus study, plus experience, are the important elements of success in any profession.

Then there are many excellent books that one reads to broaden his knowledge of the mysteries of nature, of man and of outer space.

Reading just for pleasure is the most relaxing and refreshing habit a person can establish. Mental health would never be the problem it is today if more would learn to read just for the sheer joy of reading.

Not one book but many have influenced my actions in life. It is to be hoped that our young people will cultivate the reading habit in early life. This experience can be enjoyed in the most ordinary and even in the most unusual places.

British Say Spies Rushing To Russians

LONDON (AP) — A monthly diplomatic journal claimed Friday that would-be spies are rushing to gatecrash the tight world of international espionage and offering worthless secrets to Communist embassies.

The result, according to the Diplomatist, has been embarrassment for diplomats and trade experts of Iron Curtain countries in Britain. In an editorial on "spy fever and the corps diplomatique" the journal gave this picture:

"It is not often that one hears of Iron Curtain diplomats refusing to listen to secret information. Yet, right during the height of the spy fever last month, members of several Iron Curtain diplomatic missions in London let it be known that they were beginning to get a bit tired of the avalanche of approaches they were receiving from persons previously unknown who offered them a great variety of secret information."

The Diplomatist asserted recent spy trials have led a lot of people to realize their work or knowledge could interest foreign powers and there might be money in peddling information. These would-be informants find no great difficulty in persuading themselves the material they have to offer would not harm their own country.

"If they can make some easy cash they see no reason for not trying to contact some foreign mission and strike a bargain with them," the journal went on. "These would-be informants argue in most cases that if the Communist diplomats usually is to suspect the informers as cranks or planted counteragents, the magazine said. But occasionally when information offered seems valuable the Communist diplomats find themselves in a quandary. If they agree to buy material they would be exposing themselves to breaching the hazy rules of diplomacy. If they refuse the material they would be neglecting the duty of all diplomats.

The Almanac

Today is Saturday, April 22, the 112th day of the year with 253 more in 1961.

The moon is in its first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1707, English novelist Henry Fielding, who wrote "Tom Jones," was born.

In 1889, 20,000 homesteaders crowded into the Oklahoma territory to begin the Oklahoma land rush.

In 1915, the German army used poison gas for the first time in World War I.

In 1944, Allied soldiers invaded New Guinea in World War II.

In 1959, Christian Herter was sworn in as secretary of state.

Thought for today: Henry Fielding said: "Nothing more aggravates ill success than the near approach to good."

U.S. Will Pay GI Insurance Extra Dividend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy announced Friday the government would pay a special insurance dividend to veterans this summer to help spur the economy.

The Veterans Administration said that some five million former servicemen would get checks averaging $46 when a total of $230 million is paid out in July and August.

Veterans Administrator John S. Gleason Jr., said the dividend checks would be special refunds on premiums paid on government life insurance policies by 4.8 million World War II veterans and 200,000 veterans of World War I.

Gleason stressed that the payments would be in addition to regular insurance dividends paid policy holders each year.

Veterans need not make individual applications for the special refunds, Gleason said.

In a previous anti-recession action, the Veterans Administration paid out by the end of March $258.5 million of regular dividends which normally would have been disbursed through December.

Convicted Turks Face Automatic Death Penalty

YASSIADA, Turkey (UPI)—Officials said Friday the conviction of former Prime Minister Adnan Menderes and ex-President Celal Bayar Thursday on charges of violating the constitution carry an automatic death penalty.

Sentences will not actually be pronounced until the trials on other charges are concluded, officials said, although the death penalty on charges of violating the constitution is automatic.

The trial was expected to continue at least through June.

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

President Kennedy's notice that the United States will act unilaterally if necessary to repulse communism in the Western Hemisphere is his second reaction against handcuffs imposed by America's allies.

First came the break from the years-long pattern of trying to carry water on both shoulders on the issues drawn between the European Allies and the remaining colonial areas. That was the decision to side with the smaller countries in demanding, through the United Nations, a change in Portuguese colonial policies.

It was received with cheers by everybody except the colonial powers.

The Cuban policy, on the other hand, is being received with a rising crescendo of criticism, both official and unoffical, all over the world.

The chief criticism in the United States itself is that, in its first manifestaton, it failed. Aside from that, there seems to be approval in principle.

In non - Communist countries abroad there seems to be a feeling that the United States should wear her kid gloves and top hat no matter how many rotten eggs are being thown; that she should even if the angels provide no asistance against attack.

This is enhanced by memory of American reaction against Britain and France in the Suez case.

Kennedy seems to be working from a premise that there is too much argument about how many angels can dance on the point of a win-a-war policy.

He envisions situations in which American power may have to be used for more than deterrent and containment.

He made a mistake, on the basis of misleading intelligence about the possibility of a popular rising against Castro, and admits he is studying some lessons.

One of them may involve the effects of halfway measures once a cause has been decided upon. Another involves handcuffs, both political and moral.

The handcuffs worn by the United States with regard to Cuba, ever since Castro turned from the establishment of freedom to the establishment of Castro, had more than one loop.

Many Latin Americans are pro-Communist.

These elements put strong pressures on political leaders, a great many of whom know better, not to act in consort with the United States.

Labor Secretary Opposes Higher U.S. Tariffs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg said Friday the United States "cannot retreat into protectionism" to offset unemployment caused by foreign imports.

He said the benefits of free trade policies far outweigh the injuries they cause, so far as American workers are concerned.

In 1960, he said, the value of U.S. exports was nearly $5 billion greater than the total of imports.

"We must realize this because we cannot retreat into protectionism," Goldberg said. "This would displace more American workers than we pick up."

The cabinet officer, interviewed on an AFL-CIO radio program (Washington Report to the People) broadcast by 460 stations, said modernization of the nation's factories wwould help U.S. goods remain competitive.

"Our industrial plant is obsolete or rapidly becoming so," he said. He said it would cost $95 billion to replace all worn-out or outmoded equipment.

In rejecting proposals for higher tariffs, Goldberg said:

"We cannot expect people in countries of the world to take our goods if we do not take some of their goods. Therefore, we have to work out a comprehensive trade policy that would take into consideration both of these elements."
